Red Chinese Brand Khrush Opportunist

HONG KONG (AP)—Chinese Communist officials have told Westerners in Hong Kong that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is an opportunist, a weakling and a traitor to the Communist cause.

Those are surprisingly frank charges for Chinese Communist officials to make. They indicate Soviet-Chinese relations have taken a sharp turn for the worse.

There appears little doubt they will get even more rancorous when the charges get back to the Kremlin. The Chinese Communist officials gave every indication they full expected their remarks to be reported.

The Chinese Communists concerned, top officials of leading

Chinese Communist papers in Hong Kong, sought out European newsmen here during the past week to air their views. No American newsmen have been approached so far.

Criticism of Khrushchev and his allegedly "soft" policies toward the West has been growing in Red China over the past few months. High party officials have denounced Khrushchev and his policies at secret off-the-record briefings for select groups, according to reliable informants from mainland China.

But this is the first time the Chinese Communists have approached Western newsmen with their complaints.

The burden of the complaints is that Khrushchev has cut off aid to Red China because he is afraid Red China will eventually overtake the Soviet Union.

"Khrushchev is as jealous of China's growing strength as only a bourgeois woman could be," a European newsmen here quoted one Chinese Communist official as saying.

Fears Russian People

The official was also quoted as saying Khrushchev pulled back from his Cuban adventure not for fear of possible American reaction but for fear of what the Russian people would do.

"If there is war the Soviet government will be destroyed by the Russian people and not American nuclear bombs," the official added.

The Chinese Communists said the Soviet people had been betrayed by Khrushchev's "policy of abundance"—a reference to Khrushchev's "pie in the sky" promises to the people in which, they said, have not and cannot be fulfilled in the near future.

They said Khrushchev's attacks against Albania, whom Red China befriends, are proof he is a "traitor to proletarian solidarity."

On the other hand, they said, his friendship toward Yugoslavia, an ideological enemy of Red China, proves Khrushchev is an opportunist.

Want Guantanamo Base Included In Negotiations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet and U.S. representatives held another long meeting on the Cuban crisis Tuesday when U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson described as constructive a U.S. spokesman said there was a feeling "some slight progress was made."

The conference, lasting 3 hours and 40 minutes, took place after the Soviet Union and Cuba had presented new proposals to Acting Secretary-General U. Thant, reportedly injecting the Guantanamo naval base into the negotiations.

The U.S. spokesman would not confirm or deny that the new Soviet-Cuban formula was taken up in the meeting with U.S. officials. Stevenson offered the comment that the talks "served to identify and clarify the positions of both countries on the unresolved issues."

Includes Planes

These presumably included not only U.S. demands that the Soviet Union withdraw its IL-28 bombers from Cuba and permit on-site inspection of dismantled Soviet missile sites, but also the reported new proposals for U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo and the end of the U.S. arms quarantine.

Asked whether the American negotiators had pressed new U.S. demands, agreed on in Washington, for removal of the Soviet bombers, the spokesman said it could be assumed that the U.S. position was stated.

He also stated it could be taken for granted that the U.S. quarantine of Cuba would continue in the face of reports that the Red Cross International Committee had bowed out of the picture as a possible inspection agency.

Conference Today

Stevenson will see Thant Wednesday morning to report on the U.S.-Soviet talks and to get a fill-in from the secretary-general on other developments.

The formula stemmed apparently from the talks Soviet first Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has been holding with Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana.

The proposals were offered as word came from Geneva that the International Committee of the Red Cross had abandoned plans to arrange inspection of Cuba-bound shipping.

One immediate result seen here was continuance of the U.S. naval blockade of Cuba for an undetermined period.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga held the new proposals before Acting Secretary-General U. Thant in a private meeting of an hour and 15 minutes.

Later Kuznetsov called on U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at the U.S. mission to the United Nations. Kuznetsov requested the meeting in order to present the proposals to Stevenson, special adviser John J. McCloy, and U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost.

The three U.S. representatives conferred Monday in Washington with President Kennedy. The United States was reported holding firm to its demands that the Soviet Union pull its jet bombers out of Cuba and abide by promises to permit verification of the dismantling of Soviet missile bases.

Reliable sources said there was nothing especially new in the Soviet-Cuban formula and it seemed certain the United States would reject it.

Points Listed

The informants described the proposals as based on the five demands made earlier by Castro. These included withdrawal of the United States from Guantanamo, and end to the U.S. arms blockade, and adoption of measures by the United States to prevent hostile activity against Cuba by exile groups.

Mikoyan, who has been in Havana for nearly two weeks, was quoted as expressing support for the demands in a speech in the Cuban capital Monday night.

Authoritative sources said in Geneva that the International Committee of the Red Cross had decided not to take part in the inspection of Cuba-bound ships because two of its basic conditions were not met: Red Cross intervention was no longer vitally necessary for maintenance of world peace; Castro failed to give unconditional approval to the plan.

'Ike' Questioned Hiss TV Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday he spoke to the American Broadcasting Co. Sunday in advance of Alger Hiss television appearance and expressed amazement over it.

The taped ABC show on which Hiss appeared was entitled, "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

In Buffalo, N.Y., Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said he, too, was aroused in advance of the program and called an Eisenhower aide. The Buffalo Evening News quoted Miller as saying the unnamed aide had told him "Eisenhower tried to intervene through Jim Hagerty, and Hagerty wouldn't do anything about it."

No Intervention

After Eisenhower had denied any intervention, Miller in turn denied any such implication. He told The Associated Press: "When I called the general's aide, I found out that the general had received calls and that he was disturbed and that he had called Mr. Hagerty, registering his disturbance."

"Mr. Hagerty gave him his explanation of the show, and Mr. Hagerty said he was staying with the show. I do not know what the general's reaction was. My information was that the general was concerned."

Meanwhile, in New York, Eisenhower had been asked if he had intervened with Hagerty to head off the Hiss show. He replied: "No, I didn't request that of him. I called him on Sunday morning after I had received so many calls to find out what it was all about. I expressed amazement, but never in my life have I asked anybody not to report a story after they got it fully."

Hagerty, referring to The Buffalo Evening News version of Miller's remarks, said in a statement of his own: "Mr. Miller is reporting second hand and inaccurately a personal conversation between Gen. Eisenhower and myself."

No Attempt Made

"Gen. Eisenhower telephoned me at my home Sunday morning, said he had received conflicting rumors from friends about the Hiss program. These rumors were that Hiss was going to be interviewed for a half hour on a program dealing with Dick Nixon's political career. He expressed astonishment, if this were so."

Name Pilot For Next Space Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. Tuesday was named pilot for the next U.S. manned space flight, a one-day mission scheduled next April.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced selection of the Air Force major for the flight which will take him 18 times around the world.

Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first American to ride a rocket into space, was named Cooper's backup pilot. Shepard made a 15-minute suborbital space trip May 5, 1961.

Cooper, a native of Shawnee, Okla., was the standby pilot on the recent six-orbit flight of spaceman Walter M. Schirra Jr. Schirra's flight is the longest American manned-space mission to date.

Cooper is the only eligible member of the seven-man Mercury astronaut team who has not made a space flight.

Five of the astronauts have been rocketed into space. Donald K. Slayton was grounded earlier this year because of a heart flutter.

Cooper, 35-year-old Air Force major, said he was "very delighted" that he had been chosen. I've been working toward this goal for a long time."

The space agency recently named a team of nine new astronauts to participate, with the Mercury pilots, in the follow-on Gemini and Apollo programs.

Second Biggest In Peacetime: Budget Heads For $7.8 Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration said Tuesday the federal budget is headed for a $7.8-billion deficit—the second largest in peacetime.

The figure is somewhat higher than officials had indicated earlier. And it was a far cry from the January forecast of a $300-million surplus.

A Budget Bureau announcement placed most of the responsibility for the sea of red ink on Congress, a sluggish economy, and the administration's own changes in tax policy.

Emphasized was an official view that the big deficit would not damage the economy.

"With the existing level of unemployment and unused plant capacity," the Budget Bureau said, "the deficit is neither inflationary nor dangerous to our balance of payments position."

Cuba had little impact on the revised estimates for the 1963 fiscal year that began July 1. The bureau said that if the situation did not worsen, the Cuban crisis would cost about $100 million. It termed this "the roughest kind of allowance."

Revenues for fiscal 1963 were put at $89.9 billion—$7.1 billion lower than the level foreseen when President Kennedy first sent the budget to Congress last January. The bureau said the sharp drop was due to "the slower-than-expected rate of economic recovery and changes in tax laws and regulations."

Record peacetime spending of $93.7 billion was predicted. This is $1.2 billion higher than the January forecast—an increase attributed to congressional changes in administration bills to boost postal rates and overhaul the farm program. Higher interest charges on a bigger-than-expected national debt also played a part, adding $400 million to the spending forecast.

Surprisingly, the revised figures showed no change in military outlays, still figured at $48.3 billion. The announcement said increases in Pentagon programs, including the costs of the Cuban blockade and related activities, were offset by shelving of the administration's Civil Defense legislation.

One Optimistic Note

On at least one count, the document struck a relatively optimistic note.

The bureau said the Gross National Product—the value of total output—is estimated now in the range of $54 billion for 1962. To achieve this, the total would have to rise by $8 billion, on an annual basis, in these last three months of the year. That would be the largest quarterly gain since the fall of 1961. A smaller increase presumably would mean a larger deficit.

Even at $54 billion, the Gross National Product would fall far short of the administration's January prediction of $57 billion. The 1962 forecast for personal income also was lowered, from $48 billion to $44 billion.

Still another measure of the economy's failure to meet administration goals was seen in the revised estimate of corporate profits for the year—$50.7 billion instead of $56.5 billion.

Will Seek Changes

The deficit now foreseen would compare with last year's deficit of $6.3 billion. It would be second only to the $12.4 billion peacetime deficit of fiscal 1959.

Tuesday's announcement revealed that the administration will ask Congress to offset most of the cuts made this year in Kennedy's requests for appropriations. Whereas the President sought appropriations of $90.4 billion, Congress voted $87.1 billion. The report said the administration will seek supplemental appropriations of $2.8 billion early next year.

The Budget Bureau estimated that the 1962 tax law, granting business and investment credit on outlays for modernization, would result in a revenue loss of about a billion dollars in fiscal 1963. It said the revenue cost of tax depreciation rules, announced by the Treasury in July, would be an additional billion.

The economy's relatively slow advance was blamed for a slash of $5.3 billion in the January estimate of $26.6 billion in corporate tax payments. The same reason was given for a downward revision of $1.8 billion in forecast receipts from individual income taxes, now put at $47.5 billion.

According to the announcement, Post Office Department spending will exceed January estimates by $541 million, chiefly because higher postal rates will go into effect Jan. 7 instead of last July 1, as Kennedy had asked.

Scranton Delays Selecting Aides

HOBE SOUND, Fla. (AP)—Gov.-elect William W. Scranton said Tuesday there will be no more cabinet appointments from his vacation home.

He plans to return to Pennsylvania next week, probably Tuesday.

Scranton also said:

He has been flooded with applications for jobs. He estimated he had received 350 applications for the 17 to 21 Cabinet positions open. At least 11 applicants want to become state police commissioner, the governor-elect added.

He had offered a job in his administration to Rep. James E. Van Zandt, unsuccessful Republican candidate for U.S. Senator.

There will be a big parade for his inaugural Jan. 15 but not the pomp and ceremony of the past. He plans to take the oath of office in a business suit.

Lt. Gen. Milton G. Baker, superintendent of the Valley Forge Military Academy, will be chairman of the committee planning the inaugural.

He has no personal choice in the naming of a president pro tem of the state Senate.

He may go on a two-week tour of active duty Nov. 26. He is a major in the Air Force Reserve.

Van Zandt, a retired rear admiral who lost last week to incumbent Democrat Sen. Joseph S. Clark, conferred for an hour with Scranton. The congressional veteran told newsmen he would let the governor-elect know within the next few days whether he would be interested in a state position.

Van Zandt added that he has a definite interest in finding jobs for Frank C. Hilton of Meadville and Louis G. Feldman of Hazleton, both of whom were active in Van Zandt's campaign.

Thus far, Scranton has made only one cabinet appointment—that of Walter E. Alessandrini of Philadelphia, his campaign manager, as attorney general.

The governor-elect said the problem is that "a whole new administration is coming in. Outside of a few key positions I must discuss with others in the Senate who will make suggestions."

Scranton said he had talked by telephone with members of the House and that he would meet with them as soon as he returns.

He had no comment about leadership in the Senate until he confers with people in the party and in the Senate, Scranton added.

State Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, R-Lebanon, said in Pennsylvania he was opposed to M. Harvey Taylor, 86, of Harrisburg as president pro tem. Scranton would not comment on this but said he expected to talk with Taylor and would meet with Ehrgood if the senator asked for such a meeting.

Asked whether Taylor's age might be a factor, Scranton said, "I think the thing to get is effective leadership; I don't think age matters."

Seek To Block Taylor's Power

HARRISBURG (AP)—A movement to block Sen. M. Harvey Taylor's return to power in the legislature came out in the open Tuesday.

Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, 39-year-old Lebanon Republican, said he would not vote for the 86-year-old Republican leader from Harrisburg for the powerful office of Senate president pro tem.

It is the office from which Taylor ruled the Senate for 16 years before the Democrats won organizational control of the chamber two years ago.

"The Republican majority in the Senate," Ehrgood told a news conference, "cannot afford to frustrate the voters of Pennsylvania by regressive leadership, by the return to power politics in the Senate, which is what Bill Scranton fought so hard against in this state."

Disaster Crews On Guam Begin Cleanup After Storm

AGANA, Guam (AP)—Guam began Tuesday the long, tragic job of clearing the debris left by Typhoon Karen, which killed six and injured hundreds, and damaged virtually every structure on this American defense stronghold.

Acting Gov. Manuel Guerrero described the four-hour blow as the worst disaster in the island's history. Damage far exceeded the destruction caused by assault bombardment and fighting in World War II, when the capital city of Agana was shot to pieces.

Thousands of people are homeless and are being quartered, 48 hours after the disaster, in churches, schools and other surviving buildings.

Practically Wiped Out

Seventeen postwar years of building up the island's economy and installations went down the drain in a matter of hours, beaten into wreckage by winds that reached a force estimated between 170 and 195 miles an hour.

In pre-World War II days, except for the city of Agana and Navy installations at Apra harbor the island's other towns were simple native villages. Since then the United States has spent millions on buildings all over the island.

The six persons killed were island residents. There were no deaths among American military personnel. The only serious injury among Air Force or Navy people was a broken arm suffered by a woman trying to shield a child from flying glass.

Agana again was reduced to rubble, with its relatively new frame buildings splintered and strewn widely.

Waves up to 10 feet high followed the typhoon. They drove boats ashore and washed debris far inland. All power and water facilities were knocked out. Emergency crews have been working around the clock trying to restore some electric service and water pumping stations.

Guerrero estimated it would take four months to complete repairs.

The massive typhoon hit Guam Sunday night with such violence that no official measure of the wind's intensity was made possible.

India To Expand Forces By Training

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India announced plans Tuesday for expansion of its armed forces in the undeclared war against Red China, with military training for every able-bodied man.

Home guard units will be set up in all districts bordering Tibet, the base of the Communist Chinese Himalayan offensive, and defenses will be organized on a nationwide basis, Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told Parliament.

Shastri said Prime Minister Nehru's government decided to coordinate the project.

Communist China, he said, "has flooded the entire border of India with soldiers." The Red Chinese, like the Indians, have reinforced their lines in the lull that followed a late October push which won the Red Chinese 2,000 square miles of territory. Peiping at that time was estimated to have up to 30,000 troops in action.

The home minister said the enemy was dangerous and warned India's people against any "compliance or relaxation."

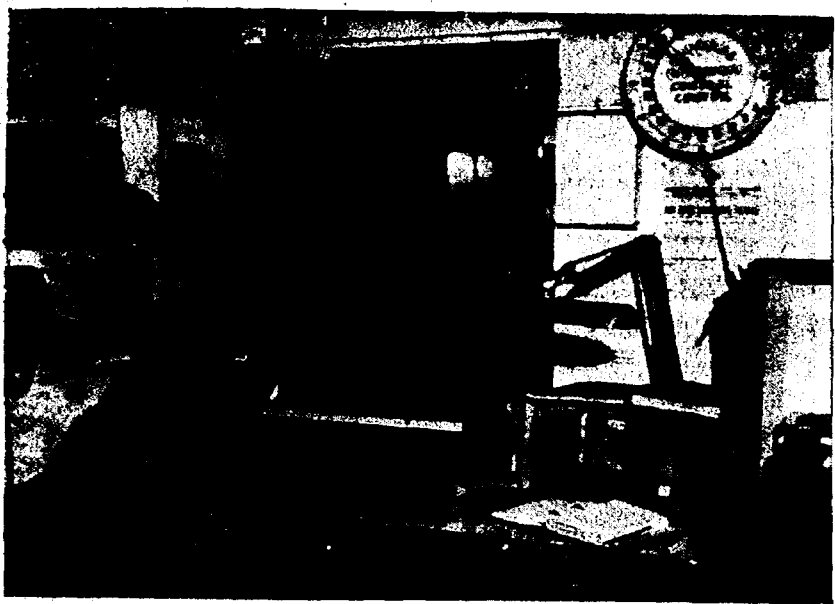

With snow limiting military activity on parts of the mountain front, a government spokesman reported Indian patrols were uneventful.

The nation prepared to celebrate Nehru's 73rd birthday Wednesday. Donations of gold poured in to give him his weight in that precious metal for the war effort.

GIRL AND PUP HAVE 'SWELL' TIME—Eight-year-old Sheila Menkins of Phoenixville, Pa., got the mumps which isn't unusual for a youngster. But then her pet Manchester pup contracted mumps also. AT THE CONTROL CENTER—Karl Dickl, a student at East Stroudsburg State College, prepares to transmit a message to police of a robbery after being notified by the ADT equipment recently installed and connected to Oiljak Co., Stroudsburg. (Staff Photo by Shafer)

Machine Brings Oiljak, Control Center Together

By JIM SHAFER
Daily Record Reporter

"THIS is Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Control Center. There is a 10-55 at Oiljak plant, W. Main St., Stroud Township."

This is the conversation you would hear if you were in the control center and the American District Telegraph equipment was to be tripped for one of several reasons at the Oiljak.

The 10-55 is control center operator talk for reporting a fire to police and firemen. The rest of the message is self explanatory. But this is not the end of the story. It is the middle.

In the beginning the machine is installed in a central location where someone is stationed 21 hours a day and seven days a week. This equipment is the alarm.

It is a cabinet with electrical relays, switches, red lights, green lights, and a piece of tape on which the machine punches a coded message. The machine will handle up to 30 separate factories or plants.

Six Or More Incidents

The ADT is made to register six or more things. The one in the control center is set up for six. They are fire, burglary, robbery, security, quick change of temperature inside the building, and low or high boiler pressure.

At Oiljak all windows and doors are wired and when the employees leave for the day the machine is set to register when any of these are opened. This is by key, by accident, or by someone breaking into the plant. If a door is unlocked by someone returning to the plant the machine will register. However, the person returning can reset the machine, once inside the building, before the control-center operator has time to notify authorities.

The individual opening the door resets the machine and another series of holes on the tape will appear which shows the control personnel that the person in the plant is authorized to be there.

This is one example. Another would be in the event of fire. The sudden change in temperature would trip the machine and the signal would show a fire.

The control operator would call the fire company, then the police, and then the manager of the plant.

The same operation would be set off, with the exception of calling the fire company, if a window was broken, the temperature in the building would go below a certain setting, or if pressure in the boiler became too high or too low.

To see the machine in operation is phenomenal. Here you sit two miles from the scene and someone enters the building to commit a robbery.

Bushkill Awaits New Fire Truck

BUSHKILL — The regular monthly meeting of the Bushkill Volunteer Fire Company was held recently at the firehouse with 18 members in attendance.

Richard DePue presided over the business meeting.

Frank Messerle, reporting for the trustees, said that the new fire truck is expected to arrive shortly.

Assist. Fire Chief Louis Messerle reported the company had been called to one alarm in the past month — explosive truck accident.

Fire Chief Walter Bensley and the engineers will work on the fire siren to see if the alarm system can be improved.

Accepted as a new member was Stephen Sesmanovitch.

Railroad Plans Improvements

NEW YORK (AP)—The Norfolk & Western Railway said it is spending $39.5 million this year for improvements to stock and other railroad facilities. This compares with $37.5 million used for the same purpose last year, Stuart T. Saunders, president, said.

In a separate announcement the New York Central Railroad said it is adding $3.25 million of new cars to its auto-transport fleet. The line has ordered 150 rail cars from Pullman Inc. and ACF Industries.

Why?

An inquisitive hand goes up, perhaps a little hesitantly at first, and a youngster asks the teacher "Why?". This simple word is full of meaning. It means "I want to know. I want to learn."

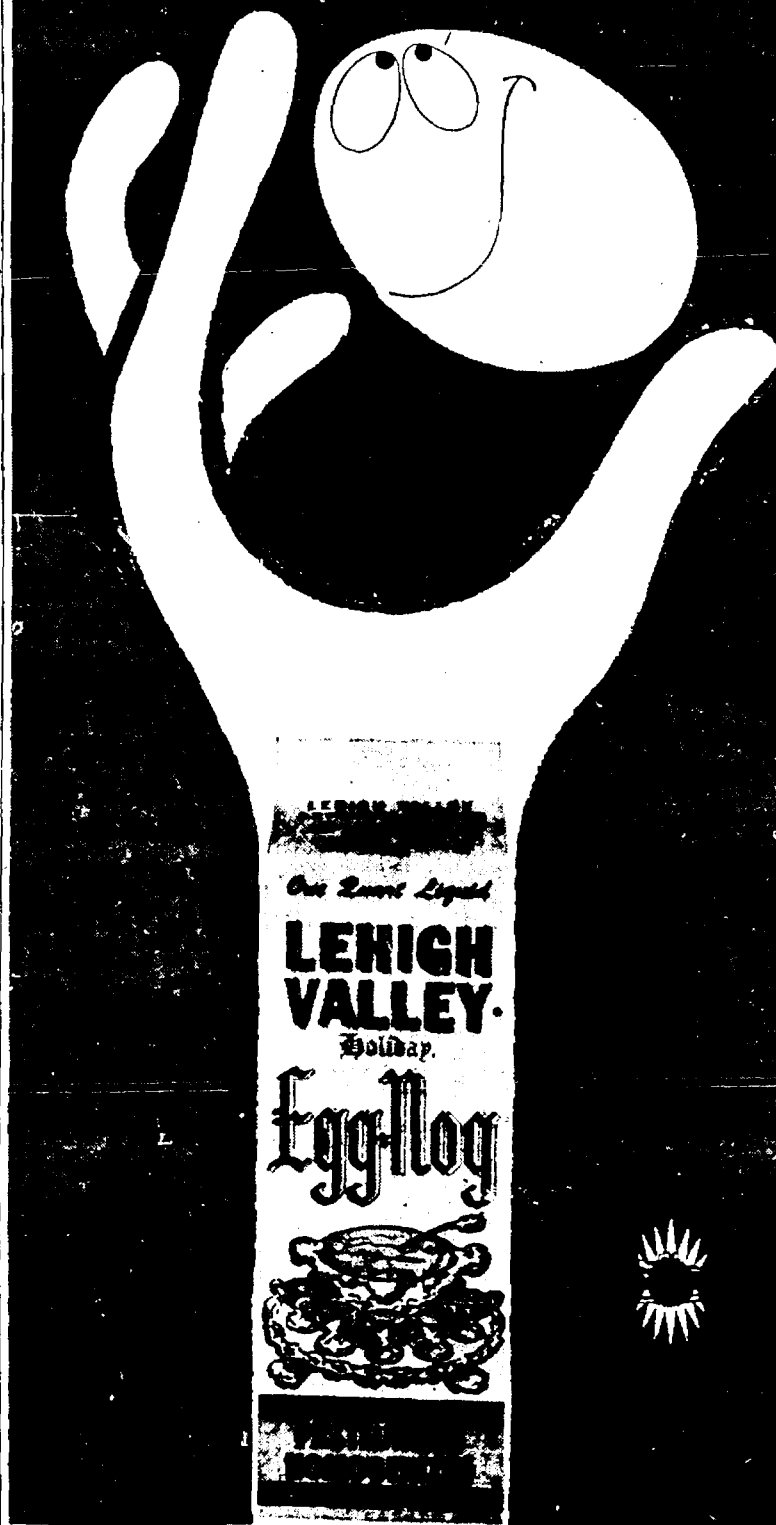

To the dedicated teacher it is also charged with meaning. It means "I have done my job. I have created curiosity." For curiosity is the key to knowledge.

Stimulated by the teacher's skillful classroom presentation, the student's academic career is a long succession of "whys?" ... "hows?" ... "whens?". In the teacher's answers lie the course of development that leads to wondrous breakthroughs in space, medicine and other fields of endeavor that benefit us all.

Recognizing the debt we owe to the dedicated men and women who lead our youngsters up the long road of knowledge, PP&L is proud to take this opportunity during National Education Week to salute the teaching profession and our educational institutions.

Workers Blamed For Ballot Rejects

THE Monroe County Board of Elections yesterday blamed unformed party workers for the rejection of about 15 applications for absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 general election.

The board issued a formal statement "for the purpose of clarifying unfounded rumors being circulated in the county in relation to absentee ballots and the requests for ballots."

The statement said: "A check of requests for applications for absentee ballots that were rejected numbered 14, all of which were received later than the date fixed by law to be in the hands of the board — that date being Oct. 30, 1962."

"Fifteen formal applications for ballot were received in the board's office after Oct. 30, and under the law of Pennsylvania, the applications were refused, the law specifically stating that such applications were void."

Commenting on the party workers, the statement said:

"A number of political workers were actively engaged in canvassing the county for the purpose of securing absentee ballots and, unfortunately, most of these engaged in such activities were unfamiliar with the law and made little or no effort to ascertain what was required in order to secure an absentee ballot."

"Where such workers came to the courthouse, an employee of the board endeavored to instruct such worker as to actually what to do in order to comply with the law, other workers laboring under the impression that they were well informed made no effort to correct their errors and above all failed to advise the voters that the request for applications should be in the board's office prior to Oct. 30."

Effort Should Be Made

"Workers for both political parties should have firmly fixed in their minds that all applications for ballots should be in the board's office at least one week prior to the election date."

The board announced that at 10 a.m. Thursday it will open the voting machine in Polk Township at Kresgeville and at 11:30 a.m. the same day, the voting machine in Western Coolbaugh Township at Tohyanna for the purpose of having election officials correct erroneous returns.

The board said Parke W. Unangst, Republican county chairman; David Price, Democratic county chairman; Van D. Yetter, Jr., and Gerald A. Snyder, candidates for the State House of Representatives, and District Atty. James R. Marsh, have all been notified and may be present when the machines are opened.

The board said it will start the canvass of absentee and military ballots at 10 a.m., Friday in the courthouse and added:

"The law provides that each political party may designate a representative at this count and candidates involved may do likewise. The policy of the board, however, has always been to permit those who were interested to be present; at all times a member of the press has been present."

New Franc Coming Of Age

PARIS (AP) — France's new franc is coming of age. It was introduced two years ago to replace 100 of the old francs to give more prestige to the money by reducing the number of zeros on bills and coins. Now, the government says, the "new" will soon be dropped. Value remains at about 20 U.S. cents.

2,000 March In Roseto Vets Parade

ROSETO — About 2,000 marchers, including 14 musical organizations, 14 American Legion posts, three Legion auxiliaries and several independent groups, participated in the annual Veterans Day parade sponsored by the Northampton County American Legion Monday night.

The Harry H. W. Johnson Post band of Bethlehem, three-time Pennsylvania State Legion band champions, won first place for the best appearing Legion band. The Brown and Lynch band, Easton, placed second.

The Yellow Jackets of the Emlyn H. Evans Post, Bangor, placed first as the best appearing Legion drum and bugle corps. The Blue Eagles of Wind Gap was second, and Northampton Post 353 was third.

Wilson Borough High School band was judged the best appearing among high school bands. Nazareth High School placed second and Southern Lehigh, third.

The Palmer Township Chessmen was judged the best junior drum and bugle corps.

The Lester Pfeffer Post, Wilson Borough, won first prize for the best appearing Sons of the Legion.

Army Reserves Search For Plane

DUBOIS, Pa. (AP) — Army Reserve units were dispatched to a state park area in Clearfield County Tuesday to search for a plane missing for three days with four men aboard.

The units were sent from Dubois after pilot Roberto Sabatino of Clearfield reported seeing what he thought were charred ruins of a plane in a burned out section of Elliott State Park between Clearfield and Penfield.

Miss Sabatino took part in the air search for the plane missing since Saturday night. The second day of the air search was called off as darkness set in.

The planes and volunteer ground teams had been concentrating in the rugged mountains of eastern Elk County and western Cameron County. The search was intensified there after residents reported hearing a low-flying plane Saturday night and seeing silvery objects in ravines.

The four men who went to Ithaca, N.Y., in the plane last weekend are pilot William Lane, William Milliren, Eugene Hicks and Matthew Smith, all from the Dubois area. They went to Ithaca to see the Penn-Cornell freshman football game.

The plane last was seen when it took off from Ithaca bound for the Dubois-Jefferson County Airport.

$234,463.08 Payment To Stroud Union

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG — A $234,463.08 school subsidy payment has been forwarded to Stroud Union School District, the State Treasurer's Office said yesterday.

The Stroud Union state aid payment is part of $339,289.90 due to third-class school districts in Monroe County. The other district is East Stroudsburg Borough which has been forwarded $104,826.82.

The payments represent the first semi-annual state reimbursement for the past school year now due Pennsylvania's third-class school districts. Basically the state aid is for local teacher pay subsidies.

Reimbursements to fourth class school districts in the county were made last month.

Area School Board Airs Bus Problems

BANGOR — A review of the problems being faced by bus operators of the Bangor Borough School buses was held recently at the regular meeting of the Bangor Board of Education. William Baskwill, president, had charge of the meeting. The session discussed all matters on transportation.

The board also agreed to supply secretary Merle W. Mabius with additional clerical help to meet the demands now being placed on his office due to the expansion of the duties.

The board granted request of one local taxpayer for exoneration from further payment of taxes. Mrs. Charlotte Hough, treasurer, reported a balance of $67,553.64 in the funds of the district. Bills amounting to $36,173.98 were approved for payment.

Attending the meeting were Charles E. Williams, Clair Peiffer, Mrs. Hough, R. Kenneth Ace, W. John Heard, Baskwill and Mabius.

Westinghouse Gets Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced Tuesday it has been awarded a contract for the first two ships to be built in the United States with automated engine room control.

Westinghouse said the contract was awarded by Gibbs Shipyard, Inc., of Jacksonville, Fla. Gibbs president Edwin Fletcher said his firm will build two oceanographic survey ships for use by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. Construction of the first ship will be started immediately.

The contract with Westinghouse covers an electrical equipment package for the propulsion and power systems and automated engine room control systems for the ships.

Christmas Seal Drive Started

MONROE County's fall landscape may have lost its color but six area lawns will be brightened considerably by the presence in each of a brilliant red, double-barred cross standing six feet tall. These crosses are the trademark of the National Tuberculosis Association and their placement on the lawns of the County's four major schools marks the opening of the Monroe County 1962 Christmas Seal Campaign.

The students of the Vocational Departments in the Pocono Mountain Jointure, the Pleasant Valley Schools, East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools and Stroud Union have turned their skills to making the crosses and their Art Departments have created posters to compliment each cross.

Locations of the crosses are at East Stroudsburg High School and at the triangle on the green between Brown and Washington Sts. by the bridge; at Stroudsburg High School and at Pleasant Valley School. Also in Mt. Pocono at the intersection of Routes 611 and 194 and in Mountainhome where Route 191 meets Route 390.

The "life-sized" double-barred crosses appear in response to a request from the local Board's Seal Sale Committee to the school principals and are being used instead of billboard advertising. They have been constructed in accordance with NTA specifications and all lumber was donated.

The cross, a lasting symbol of the National Tuberculosis Assn., appears on every Christmas Seal. These seals are used throughout the nation during the entire holiday season to decorate Christmas mail, gifts and parcels.

This week, Christmas Seals will be delivered by mail to every home in Monroe County. Seal sales represent the organization's only drive and sole means of support.

Snyder To Gain Or Hold Own In Tomorrow's Count

TOMORROW is the day Monroe County citizens will learn whether Gerald A. Snyder, County Republican candidate for General Assembly, will gain 80 votes on his opponent and unofficial winner of the post, Van D. Yetter, a Democrat. In a week ago's General Election, Yetter defeated Snyder by 246 votes — unofficially that is.

Monroe County's Election Board will open the Coolbaugh Twp. voting machine tomorrow morning and find out if the figures listed by the Elections Board or the statistics of the Coolbaugh polling booth officials are correct.

Last Friday when the Election Board — John Lesoine, Stanley Ruder and Willard Quick — went over figures a discrepancy was found. The tally sheet handed in by Coolbaugh indicated Yetter received 193 votes instead of the 199 listed in the unofficial tally sheet at the Election Board's office.

However, it has been pointed out that the Coolbaugh figure could be just an honest mistake as all other Democratic candidates in Coolbaugh registered in the 1960 and 200-vote category.

But if the voting machine proves otherwise, Snyder will gain 80 votes and cut into the 246-vote edge held by Yetter when the unofficial count-up was made a week ago Tuesday.

A slash of 80 votes into Yetter's margin would give the incumbent assemblyman only a 166-vote pad. And with 315 citizens and military ballots still to be counted on Friday — including 151 GOP absenteees, Snyder could jet to a last minute victory.

Veteran political observers, however, see Yetter holding his bulge after all the votes are counted. But GOP hopefuls declare, "there's always a chance Snyder will sneak in. Until all the absenteees are counted we have that hope."

Small markers are given the same care and attention as the largest monument.

Symbol Of Faith

The American capitalistic economy, has been having some troubles. Just about everyone and his dog, as the old saying goes, has been discussing them and proposing solutions.

A danger in this is that an atmosphere of pessimism totally unsupported by the facts or the prospects will result. It's very easy to make things seem infinitely worse than they are.

If anyone thinks that this country's vast industrial complex is on the skids—or that the Russian dream of an America collapsing from within will become a reality—then more than 17 million of our citizens are as wrong as wrong can be.

These are the citizens, most of them in the middle and moderate income brackets, who own stocks in American corporations—and who, by that fact of ownership, have demonstrated their faith in the American future in the most concrete possible way. And this does not include scores of millions who are indirect stockowners through life insurance policies and deposits in savings organizations.

There is more to the strength of our industrial system than the balance and sales sheets, important as these are. A very big element is faith—the faith of great numbers of people that it is a good system, that it is the system we mean to keep and that, periodic ups and downs aside, it is going to grow and become better.

Our widespread stock ownership — our "people's capitalism"—is a symbol of that faith.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Election Spending

This congressional election has once again made clear the need for reform in campaign fiscal practices. The campaign spending acknowledged by most candidates in compliance with federal law bears about the same relationship to what is actually spent as the olives might bear to a full course banquet.

The reason for this is that federal law requires a candidate for Congress to report only on what he personally receives and spends. The so-called "volunteer" committees, which often handle virtually all of a candidate's campaign finances, are not required to report under the present statute.

The results are curious — and often ludicrous. More than once we have had candidates whose pre-election reports to the office of the House of Representatives file clerk showed they received no contributions and spent, say $200 apiece. This information is relayed to the public. Whereupon the cynics marvel that this modest sum could provide all that radio and television time, all those newspaper ads, all of those billboards and other campaign costs.

Even when the final post-election report on campaign finances is made it generally discloses only the tip of the iceberg. The bulk of it—the considerable, and sometimes astonishingly large sums spent in the candidates behalf—remains hidden to the public.

Some states have far more exacting disclosure laws than others. But our focus, at the moment, is on the federal law. It is badly in need of amendment so that reports will give at least a general idea of how much was spent to get this candidate or that into office.

Pollsters Are Annoyed

I have a letter signed by Richard W. Oudersluys, President of Market Opinion Research Company of Detroit, Michigan, in which he says:

"Your article 'One Man's Reply to Phone Survey,' published this week-end, was one of the most insulting attacks on a highly respected profession I have ever read. You have probably alienated thousands of men and women who are engaged in this work, many more who use it and the still more thousands of marketing students and their professors.

"One of the workers in our office suggested we hang your picture in our lobby, so that when any one of us passes it we can stick a pin in it or throw a handy dart at it."

I did not know that he was a "highly respected profession." I know, of course, that medicine, law, the clergy, teaching, and other skills, requiring long years of study and training, are professions. I should imagine that his enterprise of interrupting persons at lunch is a semi-skilled industry involving only a rudimentary knowledge of the vernacular. "Madam, does your washer get clogged up?"

I am sorry that I have alienated thousands of men and women engaged in this work. If I worried about whom I alienated, I should have nothing else to do, because the truth always alienates somebody. Also, Oudersluys attempts to frighten me that there are thousands of marketing students and their professors. I suppose that every time I talk in this country, I should worry about what the marketing students and their professors think about me.

But to be serious about this thing, if one can be, on a very busy day, a young lady was called on the telephone by one of these pollsters and asked whether she had recently got any new electrical equipment. She replied, "Yes," whereupon a long list of such equipment was read to her, including electric irons, television, hi-fi, and all sorts of things. "Yes," she replied, "I recently got all of these except the washing machine."

"What did your television cost you, for instance?" (Meanwhile the stew began to burn.)

"Oh!" said the young thing, "about $801.30."

This knocked the pollster over. "You didn't buy it in a discount house?"

"No!" she replied, and named the most expensive store for such doo-dads in New York.

The pollster could hardly believe her ears. "What does your husband earn a month?" the pollster asked. "$83.50 a month — he's a soldier."

The pollster must imagine that the young voice was either a liar or a multimillionaire. The truth is that she is a young bride and got a lot of wedding presents, some of which, as such things go at this early stage in life, are not usable. She was also asked how many hours of leisure she had — to which she replied, "None." And then the busy-body inquired as to her husband's education. No questions were asked about her sex life, or whether she hated her father and mother and therefore lived alone, or why girls left home.

The young one's indignation ran high because the stew was burned. When she told me the story, I asked her whether she thought answering a pollster was worth a well-thought-out stew with tarragon and red wine yet. Why did she not tell the gossiping mind her own business?

These pollsters have become a pest. They disturb one at lunch and dinner. They interfere when one is reading a book or even having a pleasant talk with his wife, or even an unpleasant one. They clutter the mail with questionnaires.

Apparently Oudersluys's point is that one must answer these questions to keep these marketers at work. That may be a good reason. However, they can join the Navy and see the world; New York City is short of policemen and they can have the qualifications, if they get a job there — be pensioned-off after 20 years of service and encouraged to be idle forever after. The world is full of jobs for men of capacity and initiative.

But if one prefers to be a pollster by telephone, well and good. But do not expect courtesy or even an honest answer. There must be a more decent way to get this information.

Try and Stop Me

An underpaid English professor recently applied for a job of a highly technical nature at General Dynamics. "But you have none of the requirements," demurred the employment manager. "Whatever made you think you could hold down a position like this?" "Because," said the professor with great dignity, "this is probably the only chance you'll ever have of hiring a worker who has read 'Beowulf' twice in the original Anglo-Saxon."

A bragging session at recess in a Clinton, Iowa, school produced this lively exchange: "You've learned about the Pacific Ocean? Well, my pa built the hole for it." "So what? You know about the Dead Sea? Well, it was my father who killed it!"

The Pennsylvania Story

Labor Leaders Rebuffed

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Top labor leaders in Pennsylvania unquestionably have been handed one of the most vibrant rebuffs of record.

The literal face-slapping — it can be called little other than this — of these would-be union moguls came fairly and squarely like a ton of bricks at the polls last week when (of all things, to the brotherhood of labor leaders) Republican William W. Scranton was elected Governor of Pennsylvania.

This Republican victory became a bruising slap not so much simply because a Republican had won the top office — but (a) because of the tremendous near half-million margin with which he did win, and (b) the facts that these top state labor moguls had put all their eggs in one basket (the Democratic ticket) without even bothering to play it down the middle (with possibly a little leaning in the direction of Democrats).

Rather they flopped overboard — arrogantly, it can be said — in the direction of donkey riders. In evaluating the overall picture, it is quite evident from the tremendous vote alone that rank and file union folks were betting their leaders here on the statewide level in no uncertain terms — almost violently going against their demands.

How fast did this go? Here's just one illustration, which certainly drives home the point succinctly, of how top labor leadership was acting prior to the election:

On November 2 — just four days before the election — a formal mimeographed statement was issued by the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO, signed by Harry Brown, president, and Michael Johnson, executive vice-president, bitterly castigating the Scranton candidacy, but winding up with this sentence:

"The millions of voters in Pennsylvania can at last recognize, if further proof were necessary, that their best interests lie in the election of Richardson Dilworth as Governor, Joseph S. Clark to the United States Senate and the entire Democratic ticket on Tuesday, November 6th."

After the castigation, where do Pennsylvania's "top labor leaders" stand now insofar as the incoming Republican Scranton Administration is concerned? The answer, literally: almost any rank and file member (to whom Scranton was appealing anyway during the campaign) in all probability will stand a better chance of entry to the gubernatorial den than the "leaders" themselves!

For union "leaders" who've been accustomed to comfortably slide in and out of the gubernatorial suits at will during the past two Democratic administrations, a red-faced era is just beginning.

Stroud Township citizens were to meet in Clearview School to discuss the proposed entry to Stroud Union School District.

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

The question going around the Pocono is "Will East Stroudsburg State College be picked to play in the Cement Bowl in Allentown in December?"

The query circling our cranium is "Should ESSC accept an invitation to the first grid classic in the Lehigh Valley's so-called Queen City?"

Without reservation we would say no.

From this corner the Warriors of Jack Gregory will reach the climax to a glorious season Saturday when the undefeated College Hill eleven takes on Slippery Rock for the championship of the Pennsylvania State Colleges Football Conference.

Any contest for Gregory and his men after that will be anticlimactic and bring little recognition to a squad which has done more than was asked of them this past season.

The Warriors had two set goals when they set out on their eight-game campaign this fall. One was to unseat West Chester and gain the eastern crown of the grid loop. The second was to win the state title.

While the first goal is well-known history, the second will be answered on Saturday at Slippery Rock.

If ESSC played independent ball and ended the year unmarried, then we would reconsider and say the Warriors should go ahead and accept a bid to a bowl affair. But after hurdling one major obstacle in circuit competition and jettisoning the contest for all of the league's marbles we hardly think any duel involving ESSC in December would serve any purpose.

Of course, the dissenters can claim prestige or the possible gain of money. What extra recognition could East Stroudsburg pick up? Across the state and in many other parts of the nation where small college statistics prevail, ESSC is rated as high as it possibly could be.

Money-wise the venture to the Cement Bowl could turn into nothing but a trip to Allentown. December is a rough time to hold a football game in the north. The Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia found this out. If it doesn't rain, snow or sleet, the temperatures will keep the fans away.

Holding a grid contest north of the Mason-Dixon line is just too big of a gamble. More times than not the promoters get stung. With no guarantee for the participants in the Cement Bowl, the extra buck spent preparing for the tilt could exceed the 37 1/2 percent gain of the game.

If the Warriors beat Slippery Rock Saturday — and we are betting a shilling they will — it will mark the greatest year in football history for the College Hill representatives.

Who could ask for anything more.

The Allen-Scott Report

'Ted' Wants Membership On Foreign Relations

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, Nov. 14 — Being a young man in a - a - furious hurry is apparently a compulsive habit with Ted Kennedy.

Having wrested a seat in the Senate at the age of 30 — with the incidental aid of his name, close relationship to the President of the United States, and his family's great wealth — Ted is now proposing to blitz the Senate as he did the Massachusetts electorate.

The fledgling Senator, who has yet to be formally inducted into office, already is busily scrambling for one of the glamorous prizes of the upper chamber — a place on the august Foreign Relations Committee.

This committee is one of the most influential and socially prominent in Congress.

It has far-reaching jurisdiction over international affairs and appointments to the State Department and diplomatic service. And membership on the Foreign Relations Committee ensures a constant stream of invitations from the Capitol's numerous embassies to their glittering and lavish receptions, banquets and other shindigs.

Assignment to this glamorous committee is much sought after. With two exceptions, all present members have been in the Senate at least 10 or more years. It is virtually unprecedented for a newly-elected senator to be named to the committee.

But apparently this is not daunting young Kennedy; nor the fact that a number of Democratic senators with seniority are after the one available vacancy. Backstage plan of Senate Democratic leaders is to add another Democrat to the Foreign Relations Committee, giving them 12 Democrats to 6 Republicans. Present ratio is 11 Democrats to 6 Republicans. Two G.O.P. committeemen were defeated — Senators Alexander Wiley, Wis., and Homer Capehart, Ind. There were no Democratic losses.

Among Democratic senators who have long had their eye on this choice committee are Estes Kefauver, Tenn., Edmund Muskie, Me., Claiborne Pell, R.I., and William Proxmire, Wis.

So young Ted Kennedy has his work cut out for him blitzing a seat on this potent committee.

What He's Up Against — One line in his report is that the administration is throwing it a weight behind him. If that is the case, the administration could be inviting a stinging rebuff. Traditionally, the Senate has jealously resented outside meddling in its affairs.

Also, it was an open secret that Ted's brash and heavily-financed candidacy won no cheers among Democratic senators. They frankly disapproved of it.

During Ted's razzle-dazzle campaign, he proclaimed that if elected he intended to get himself named to the "Foreign Relations Committee." There is no "Fishing" committee. The Commerce Committee has jurisdiction over that industry.

Young Kennedy's prospects of being assigned to that committee are far better than Foreign Relations.

Significantly indicative of that were telegrams Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Senator J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, sent to Governor Gaylord Nelson during his successful campaign against veteran Senator Alexander Wiley, R-Wis. In these messages, Mansfield and Fulbright declared they would go to bat for Nelson to put him on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Immediate political purpose of these telegrams was to offset Wiley's electioneering claim that he was senior Republican member on this key committee. At the same time, the wires also publicly committed Mansfield and Fulbright to back Nelson for a place on the Committee.

How that sits with Proxmire is conjectural. Privately, no love is lost between him and Nelson. Proxmire did little to help Nelson. Also, Nelson is more liberally liberal than Proxmire, and is rated more knowledgeable about foreign affairs, particularly Latin American. He has published studies on that, which were the basis for the Mansfield-Fulbright telegrams.

Another newcomer aspiring to the Foreign Relations Committee is Maryland's Senator-elect Daniel Baring, who has served two terms in the House. This gives him a decided edge over both Nelson and young Kennedy.

But Capitol insiders are not counting the latter out — despite the odds against him. He has strikingly demonstrated he has a way of getting what he wants!

Dear Abby

She's Penalized

Dear Abby: A very popular boy at school (he is a basketball star) asked me out. And where did he take me? Parking! Then he bought me a malt at some dark, out-of-the-way drive-in where no one could see us. He did this four times. When a school dance came along he asked somebody else. When he sees me in the halls at school he acts like he doesn't even know me. I was hoping if I parked with him a few times he would get me to some school dances, but it isn't working out that way. How can I get him to date me where we can be seen?

that under no circumstances is anyone permitted to "involve" another by name in the Catholic confession. This old joke points it out:

An old shrew went to confession and spent the whole time complaining to the priest about her husband. She was flabbergasted and outraged when the priest gave HER a whopper of a penance and she was told to say several rosaries. The reply to her protest was, "Since YOU confessed your husband's sins, YOU get his penance."

ANOTHER CATHOLIC

DEAR ABBY: A member of my husband's family died recently. At the funeral parlor I saw my husband's brother and his wife. Neither the brother nor his wife gave me a hello. When I complained to my husband about it, he said the funeral parlor was not the place for socializing and that people rarely ever say hello to people they meet there. I've been to funeral parlors before, Abby, and nobody ever passed me up with that kind of excuse. Am I wrong or is my husband?

DEAR ABBY: Can I sue my husband for divorce for something that happened four years ago? I just found out for sure that my husband ran around with another girl in 1958. When I told him about it he said that unless you catch a person within a year of the crime, your warranty runs out. Is it true?

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you were big enough to make it clear

DEAR PASSED UP: Don't criticize anyone for unsocial behavior at a funeral parlor. They could be understandably preoccupied.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR AZELIA: You did not marry a washing machine — you married a man. Warranties do not apply to people. But think it over: How has he been behaving since?

DEAR AZELIA: I am glad you were big enough to make it clear

About Town

Playing It Safe

In the night, on the way home from calling on a sick parishioner, the minister saw a man staggering along at the roadside.

Now the preacher not only knew the fellow, but he also knew what made him stagger. As his neighbor's keeper, he stopped, loaded the inebriate into the car and carried him to his home.

At the front gate, the preacher said: "John, do you think you can get into the house all right?"

"Oh, I can get into the house all right," John replied, "but would you mind going in with me? I'd kinda like to be the old lady to see who I've been out with."

POLITICALS

The 1964 presidential campaign is still two years off, but Republican politicians already are viewing Senator Thomas Kuchel, Calif., as a likely running mate on a Rockefeller ticket. They are saying that Kuchel, who resoundingly won re-election while virtually all other G.O.P. candidates were defeated, is a "natural" for a Rockefeller slate, linking the two biggest states in the country, New York and California. . . . Despite the defeat of his hand-picked candidate for the Senate, Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley definitely will seek a third term next spring. While Daley's senatorial choice was blocked, the entire Cook County Democratic ticket, with one exception, was swept into office last Tuesday. Most probable Republican opponent of Daley will be Benjamin Adamowski, former state's attorney and long-time Daley rival. . . . Nevada's anti-administration Democratic Representative Walter Baring was re-elected, but to no cheers of the White House. In fact, privately, some administration insiders were rooting for Carlton Adair, Republican opponent of Baring, who favored more Kennedy measures than Baring. Adair campaigned for medical care for the aged and other Kennedy policies, about which Baring either was silent or against.

Wind Gap Man Placed On Probation

EASTON — Gerald V. Nesfeder, 154 Water St., Wind Gap, was placed on three years probation yesterday by President Judge William G. Barthold on charges of involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving which stemmed from an Aug. 24 traffic accident in which Nesfeder's four-year-old son, Thomas, was killed.

Nesfeder pleaded guilty Monday. The case was one of many which came before the Northampton County Court in the November criminal session which started yesterday.

The court deferred imposition of sentence and ordered Nesfeder to pay the costs. The three-year probation period was conditioned partly on Nesfeder's giving up completely the use of intoxicants.

Mrs. Nesfeder appeared in court today with her husband and agreed also to abstain from use of alcohol.

Nesfeder was driving a dump truck in Wind Gap when the accident happened. His wife and three other children were in the truck with him. Thomas was riding in the rear.

Nesfeder said in court he started drinking at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and consumed about 20 glasses of beer. The accident happened shortly after 7 p.m.

About $1,000 damage was done to the truck and a house which the truck hit.

Judge Barthold asked Nesfeder if he would submit voluntarily to a court order placing him on probation. The taking of one drink would be considered a violation of the probation, Barthold said, and he would be returned to the court for sentencing.

Dr. E. R. Brumbach, Pen Argyl, testifying for Nesfeder, said the man was needed for the support of his two other children and his wife.

Creek House Gutted

THE WALL and partition of a house owned by East Stroudsburg State College near Marshalls Creek was damaged by fire about 1:10 a.m. yesterday.

An unidentified student caretaker discovered the blaze and tried to extinguish it before driving three miles to telephone the Marshalls Creek Volunteer Fire Co. Firemen were at the scene for about an hour.

The blaze was blamed on an overheated stove pipe.

Gouldsboro Firemen To Screen Truck

GOULDSBORO Fire Chief Stanley Wreski has called a special meeting of Gouldsboro Fire Co. for tonight at 8 in the fire house to consider authorizing action on the part of the apparatus committee in connection with proposed purchase of a used fire truck.

Chief Wreski said the committee has obtained an option on purchase of a used post-World War II Seagraves pumper from a Maryland community after studying the company's needs and its potential to buy a new or used unit.

The used Seagraves pumper, with a 750-gallon per minute rating and good booster tank capacity, is reported in very fine condition. If purchased, it would replace the present No. 2 truck which is in need of extensive and expensive repairs.

Court Declines Radar Appeal

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Superior Court ruled Tuesday it has no jurisdiction to act on an appeal of a speeding conviction under the state radar act. The case was handed up to the State Supreme Court.

The court declined to hear an appeal of William L. Bartley of Irwin R. D. 4 who was convicted of speeding his tractor-trailer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in Allegheny County on Sept. 17, 1961. The truck was clocked by radar.

Counsel for Bartley, A. A. Bluestone, said police failed to give credible evidence that it was Bartley's truck that registered the excessive speed on radar.

Bluestone also said the rig was clocked for just an instant and not for at least one-quarter of a mile as required by law.

Commonwealth attorneys and Bluestone said they felt Superior Court had jurisdiction to hear the appeal, but the court ruled that the Supreme Court had assumed jurisdiction in summary conviction cases such as Bartley's.

Plenty Of Mail For Scranton

HOBE SOUND, Fla. (AP) — Gov.-elect William W. Scranton, who is on a work-and-play holiday here, was informed by aides Tuesday that 7,000 pieces of mail have arrived at his Scranton office since Tuesday's election. Scranton, now a congressman, takes office Jan. 15.

Also introduced by Toastmaster Phil Walsh was James Murphy, District Deputy, James O'Grady, Grand Knight, Father Butler Council, Stroudsburg and Joe Lewis, Grand Knight, Pocono Mountains Council.

William Flaherty was chairman, assisted by Steve Marcus.

Pike-Wayne Tavern Unit Meets Sunday

PIKE-WAYNE Tavern Association will meet Sunday at 4 p.m. at Nickles Hotel, Matamoras with Joseph Oppelt, Newfoundland hotel operator, presiding.

Resort, hotel and tavern licenses in the two-county area have been invited. Officers will be nominated. Elections will be next month.

A report will be submitted by the recent 10th anniversary banquet and program, which was attended by 400 members and guests.

A membership drive will be organized and the 1963 legislative program will be mapped.

Following the business session, the group will attend a luncheon with Edmund Nickles as host.

Turnpike Crash Kills Driver

AMBLER, Pa. (AP) — Two compact cars smashed head-on at the Fort Washington Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike yesterday, killing the driver of one and seriously injuring the driver of the other.

State Trooper Charles Chubbuck of the Plymouth Meeting barracks said the injured man was Robert B. Smith, 52, Trevose. He was admitted to Montgomery Hospital, Norristown.

Chubbuck said the dead man was a member of the Air Force, but his base at Willow Grove Naval Air Station had requested his identity not be released pending notification of next of kin.

Clearer Weather Is Seen For Area Next Few Days

CLEARING and colder conditions prevailed last night as a high pressure system moved into the region.

Today will be generally fair and somewhat warmer.

Snow flurries yesterday morning produced slippery spots along many area highways, and motorists proceeded with caution.

In most sectors the snow was melting as it fell, but much of the Stroudsburg thruway and bridge surfaces on other roads were reported remaining slippery.

Following last night's low of from 24 to 30 degrees, the mercury is expected to reach the high 40s today.

Meteorologist Richard E. Simmermacher reported only a trace of precipitation was noted at the weather bureau yesterday.

Yesterday's high of 42 degrees combined with a low of 29 early this morning for an average of 35.5. Normal for the date is 41.

Precipitation for November thus far has totaled 1.76 inches — slightly above normal.

Teenage Study Is Astonishing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A study of youthful drinking habits suggests that "teen-agers do less damage when drinking than when sober," a survey report said yesterday.

But the report promptly added:

"No one, however, would prescribe such a remedy to our youths' problems. This matter needs to be examined further."

The survey was commissioned by a legislative committee that is studying whether New York State should raise from 18 to 21 the legal age at which youths may purchase alcoholic beverages.

Son, John J. Marchi, R-State

Island, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Alcoholic Beverage Control, released the report.

Marchi did not indicate what the committee's ultimate recommendation would be. The committee will report by Dec. 15.

The tenor of the survey report was that the 18-year minimum had very little effect on drinking habits of teen-agers.

BIGGEST REACH

99 Million Consumers Read a Daily Newspaper Each Weekday

These readers make up the largest audience available to any advertiser in any medium. A recent study* of this national newspaper audience shows that it includes 80 per cent of all men and women over 21...and 72 per cent of all teen-agers, age 15 and over.

This huge and consistent readership can be depended upon by advertisers because the daily newspaper is a habit with most people...an established part of their everyday lives. For the national advertiser, this amounts to almost the total market for any product. For the local advertiser, this massive readership symbolizes the local reach of his own local newspaper—into almost 9 out of 10 homes every day. No matter what the product or service an advertiser wants to sell, more people can read about it in the pages of the daily newspaper.

Smith Brings Back Two Ribbons From Horse Show

NEWFOUNDLAND — Mike Smith and "Patches" brought back two white ribbons from the State 4-H Horse Show in Harrisburg, the only winner among nine representatives of Wayne County in the meet.

Mike placed fourth in bareback equitation and trail class in the State Show, competing with 320 other 4-Hers for the 21 trophies. He and Susan Smith, Michael Campbell and Dale Stevens represented the Newfoundland B.O.O.T.S. and Saddle Horse and Pony Club, all having won in the District meet earlier this fall.

This was Mike's and Patches' second appearance in the State Show. Two years ago, they were entered, but Patches, unused to appearing in an indoor arena, refused to cooperate, and Mike came home without any ribbons. This year, competing against the finest in horsemanship and the tops in young riders in the State, he fared much better.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen Stevens, Maria and Donna Stevens, and Harry and Martha Campbell accompanied the local entrants to Harrisburg.

Nfld Area Chest Drive Under Way

NEWFOUNDLAND — The annual Community Chest drive for funds for the Salvation Army, Crippled Children (Easter Seals), Junior Red Cross, March of Dimes, and Christmas Seals, is under way at Southern Wayne Joint School under the sponsorship of the Student Council.

An appeal to parents to contribute to the drive was issued this week by Donna Bartleson, president of the council. She noted that in the year 1954-55, the group collected $300, whereas last year's total was $133. She urged a "concerted effort to support the drive by donating generously."

Bloodmobile To Visit In Mountains

NEWFOUNDLAND — The Red Cross Bloodmobile, which comes to Newfoundland every other year, will arrive here at the Moravian Church on November 20, and will be in operation from 3 to 7 p.m.

"Give thanks by giving blood," urges Willis Gilpin, president of the Rotary Club, which is spearheading the bloodmobile visit to this area.

Newfoundland and Lake Ariel alternate as stations for the bloodmobile. Last year, at Lake Ariel, much less blood was given than used during the year by Newfoundland area residents.

Reorders 20 Lashes Sentence

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Judge Stewart Lynch Tuesday reinstated a sentence of 20 lashes at the whipping post for Franklin W. Cannon Jr., 20, of Dover, after finding him guilty of violating probation.

Cannon originally drew the 20-lash sentence, as well as three years in jail, after his grand larceny conviction last December. At that time, however, Judge Lynch suspended the sentence and placed him on five-year probation.

Cannon was arrested last April 13 by state police on a petty larceny charge.

There has not been a public whipping in Delaware since 1952. The law—on the books since Colonial days—remained in effect, however.

Lynch, before imposing sentence Tuesday, said he visited Cannon four times after the original sentence.

"This boy just doesn't seem to respond," said the judge. "I don't know if he is laughing up his sleeve at us."

Lattimore Named To Directorship

LEEDS, England (AP) — Prof. Owen B. Lattimore, a former U.S. State Department specialist on Far East Affairs, yesterday was named director of Chinese studies at Leeds University. Lattimore was the center of controversy in the early 1950s. He was indicted in 1952 on charges that he lied before a Senate committee in denying he had been a "sympathizer or promoter of communism," but the charges later were dropped.

Books Come To Life At South Wayne

Readings and a film were presented by Connie Keller, Susan Akers, Inger Madsen, Yvonne Rochford, Donna Gross, Terry Baughman, Bob Grimm, Gloria Bartleson, Shirley Smith, Mary Ann Rose, Michael Smith, Donna Bartleson, Bliss Arneberg and Joan Baneroff.

Adding to the interest in the program was the appearance of "Lu. ky," a collie owned by Donn Gross. "Lu. ky," who apparently couldn't read, missed his cue entirely when he was supposed to be on stage to illustrate a book, and then made up for it by speaking up during two other parts of the program.

Not Too Late To Force Some Bulbs

NOVEMBER is not too late to plan on bringing spring into the house in February.

Sounds impossible? Not at all, says Monroe County Agent John Withrow. Select a few bulbs and set them out now, and you'll be able to bring them into the house in midwinter and watch them unfold their colorful blooms in the living room.

But, Withrow warns, you must plant the bulbs now, or at least very soon, because they need a period of cold weather outdoors to make them set their roots and develop new shoots.

He suggests getting some hyacinth, daffodil and tulip bulbs. Put them in pots, and set the pots out in the garden for about 10 weeks. When the bulbs have an inch or two of new shoots, they are ready to come into the house and brighten dull winter days.

Loses Appeal To Halt Work On N-Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawrence W. Goldberg, a Philadelphia printer who said he feared the effects of atomic waste, lost his fight Tuesday to halt construction of a nuclear power reactor at Peach Bottom, Pa.

The U.S. Supreme Court refused to rule on any appeal from the dismissal of his petition by the U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia.

The nuclear power plant is already under construction at Peach Bottom, in York County, about 60 miles from Philadelphia. The Atomic Energy Commission granted a permit to the Philadelphia Electric Co.

Goldberg contended in his petition that the plant would threaten his life and health and the welfare of others living within 70 miles of the plant. He also alleged violation of antitrust laws.

His appeals contended that the AEC had not given him an adequate hearing "to present testimony on the issue of whether the reactor will be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public."

Air Force Seeking Enlistments

AIR FORCE manpower needs are continuing to climb, and, despite the unusually large number of enlistments obtained over the past few months, there is still no waiting and unlimited openings in the Electronics and Mechanical career fields reports M. Sgt. Joseph A. Lekaunas of the U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office, Scranton.

In fact, noted the sergeant, recent moves by the Air Force to streamline the enlistment process have actually resulted in a speed-up.

Sgt. Lekaunas anticipates that the simplifying of enlistment procedures will result in a pronounced increase in enlistments, and that a waiting list may yet result. But, at present, there is no prolonged waiting period for those who qualify. Also, they may still be tested and qualify prior to enlistment without obligation.

Sgt. Lekaunas can be contacted at the Stroudsburg Post Office every Tuesday morning and he will schedule aptitude testing appointments upon request. Tests are administered every Friday morning at 9:30 a.m. in Scranton, and on Tuesdays when requested in Stroudsburg Post Office.

It's a monster!

Oxon Hill, Maryland

Gentlemen,

I agree with your ads. Most wives look at the Volkswagen Station Wagon and say, "Absolutely not - it's too silly looking."

But I agreed to go to the local VW showroom and take a spin. "It's a monster" was my first reaction. "I'll never be able to drive it" was my second. But I did drive it - all 105 pounds of me - with no trouble at all! I can see out in all directions and I don't have a right tender to worry about.

We bought it and I must confess it's even less trouble than our dear, reliable VW Sedan.

CLASS PLAY

ON FRIDAY and Saturday evening, November 16 and 17, the residents of the West End are in for a treat when the Senior Class of the P.V.H.S. will present a comedy entitled "We Shook the Family Tree" in the High School auditorium.

Hildegard is doing her best to attract the attention of a Senior boy so she will have a date for the School Dance. Fortunately she wins the school debate with her impassioned plea against drinking but instead of attracting the attention of senior boys through her brilliance she merely convinces everyone that her dad must be a drunkard. Turning to her mother for help who also thinks that no date for her daughter to the School Dance would forecast spinsterhood for her daughter, but also for poor Hildegard the boy she called is the only one who wears knickers. Furthermore she can't cancel the date as the boy dated is the son of the father's boss at the Bank. So come and see the outcome of this predicament the entire family is in.

The cast — Mr. Dolson, Hildegard's dad, Bill Martucci; Mrs. Dolson, Hildegard's mother, Susan Blakeslee; Hildegard, Linda Nicholas; Sally, her younger sister, Gladys Mosteller; Bob, her older brother, Dwight Redline; Jimmy, her younger brother, John Mills; Ellie May, Bob's heart throb, Wanda Martin; Jill, her friend, Gail McGarvey; Paige, a neighbor's child, Brenda Harleman; Freddie, the boy with knickers, Herbert Gower; Mr. Stomper his father, James Hook; Mrs. Sherman, his mother, Marie Konkel.

Tobyhanna Fifth Graders Take Part In Election

FIFTH graders of Tobyhanna Township Elementary Center got a first-hand taste of election excitement this year as the class sponsored their classroom elections while studying the political network of our democracy. Ten youthful candidates were nominated and carried on an intense campaign of speeches, posters, and discussions for two weeks.

Three political parties — the Star-liners, Blue Birds, and Blue Devils — were formed and the political parties of the United States and their history studied. The campaign was climaxed with a last minute plea by the ten year old candidates and the parade to the polls. When all the lots were cast Mr. David Guthrie served as election judge and tabulated the results.

Renee Court, petite, freckle-faced brunette, was elected to preside over the class and carried to victory with her entire slate of Star-liners, Jack Dyson as vice-president and Donna Marshall as secretary. Richard Dalley and Jerry Davis, unsuccessful candidates for president, later won positions on the class council.

Election Day included not only the homeroom voting but also a trip to the Pocono Pines polls where the use of voting machines was observed. The class made use of a model machine at the polls to familiarize themselves with the modern mode of voting. Samuel Lee is principal of the Tobyhanna Township Center and George Tensa is the fifth-grade instructor. James Davenport, supervisor of elementary education at Pocono Mountain Joint Schools, accompanied the class on their tour of the polls.

Peace Corps Seeks Senior Citizens

THE Peace Corps has received requests for up to 1,500 Volunteers for assignments that can be filled by men and women who have recently retired, or are contemplating early retirement. Training will soon begin for projects in 40 countries throughout Asia, Africa and Latin America. Those selected should have skills or special ability in one or more of the following occupational groups.

1. Teachers — On elementary, secondary or college levels.
2. Health Workers — Doctors, dentists, nurses (registered and practical), laboratory technicians, sanitarians, plumbers, well drillers, etc.
3. Community Development Workers — Agriculturalists (all kinds), diesel and auto mechanics, electricians, building trades, 4-H club leaders, radio and TV mechanics, surveyors, road builders, irrigation specialists, etc.
4. Other Professional Workers — Engineers (all kinds), co-op and or building and loan organizers, foresters, judges, lawyers, social workers, town planners, entomologists, etc.

Those assignments offer a new lease on life, an opportunity to give service where it is badly needed. The work is demanding but nothing that a person in good health cannot handle. The Peace Corps pays for two to four months training and for travel, housing, food, clothing, medical care and incidentals. In addition to each retiree's usual pension, Volunteers will receive a termination allowance for each month of successful service. This amounts to approximately $1,800 upon completion of two years service. Married couples without dependent children are eligible if both can serve in the same project.

If you have a skill or special ability to offer, write for the folder, "Senior Citizens and the Peace Corps" and for a Peace Corps Volunteer Questionnaire to Peace Corps, Senior Manpower Recruitment, Washington 25 D. C. Please mention the trade, vocation or profession in which you are skilled.

Engineers Society To Tour Plant

THE American Society of Tool & Manufacturing Engineers, Keystone Chapter 101 of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre area have scheduled a plant tour at Bendix Corporation, Montrose Division, South Montrose, Pa., Tuesday night, Nov. 20.

Prior to the tour a dinner meeting will be held in the Prince Hotel, Tunkhannock, at 6:30 p.m. Edward Barrows, chapter chairman, will preside at a short business meeting.

The group will then meet at Bendix, South Montrose Plant at 7:45 p.m. where Douglas Hall, plant manager, will give a talk on the history of Bendix, Montrose Division.

The guests will be divided into groups and conducted on a tour of the manufacturing operations. Arrangements for the tour were made with R. O. Thrasher, Director of Industrial Relations, and Mr. Ralph Weidner of the Personnel Department. Mr. H. Hanley is Factory Manager.

Churches Down Chinese Invasion

GENEVA (AP) — The World Council of Churches yesterday condemned Chinese invasion of India and called for prompt negotiations or arbitration to settle the border dispute. The World Council, comprised of nearly all the world's Protestant and Orthodox Christian churches, also assured India's Christians of its "profound sympathy" and expressed hope "a just and peaceful settlement may be reached."

Ships Are Idle

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Merchant Marine Ministry says Greek-owned ships totaling more than 1.7 million tons have been idled because of competition from newer, faster freighters charging lower rates.

The Gorsedd is a Welsh society supposedly modeled after the ancient Druids. Actually the rites and robes were devised in the late 18th Century by Iolo Morganwg, a notorious forger of manuscripts. Applicants for the Gorsedd must pass tests in Welsh language, literature and music.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

It was a good day for singing the blues — but that isn't what Dr. Marshall and Edith Metzgar have been doing these days, not with two new grandchildren within a month of each other. And Ted's new daughter was born on Dr. Marshall's own birthday.

It was also a good day for a card party and from all reports the luncheon and card party at the Episcopal parish house was a honey — and the fashion show was almost superfluous with all the fine fashions revolving around the card tables.

Which reminds me of a true story about four women who pride themselves somewhat on their bridge with one of the decks containing only 48 cards. Impossible, everyone else agrees, smilingly pointing out that anyone should notice holding only 12 cards, or that two spades and two diamonds never were played, or that four hearts could be set by winning only three tricks. Well, they didn't notice, and at least three of the players are observant, well-organized individuals.

And speaking of stories, even the jokes are so complicated that you need higher mathematics to understand them. Take the latest one now sweeping intellectual circles about how to prove the Pythagorean proposition.

In a condensed and expurgated version, you have three squaws and their papooses. One squaw puts her papoose on a buffalo hide, the second puts her papoose on a deer hide but the third puts her twin papooses on a hippopotamus hide.

Which, obviously, proves that "The squaw on the hippopotamus equals the sum of the two squaws on the other two hides."

And don't think I didn't have to do some research to dig up the original of that theorem. At the same time I was doing cross-word puzzle research on Catherine II's favorite. All this work for recreation. Maybe I'd better take up Dick and Jane Riddles and Pounce.

Attendance Awards At Sunday School

Newfoundland — Perfect attendance pins were awarded to fourteen young people and children by J. Robert Burdick, superintendent of the Moravian Sunday School.

One of the recipients — Melissa Burdick — received a pin for attending Sunday School for eight years.

The others were Lynn Voeste, who received a one-year pin; Philip Lindemann, Wayne Stevens and Gary Voeste, two-year pins; Blair Woltjen, Patti Woltjen and Warren VanBuskirk, four-year pins; Shirley Stevens and Pamela Woltjen, five-year pins; Robert Hinton, Douglas Smith, Maria Stevens and Terry Voeste, six-year pins.

Miss Frailey Is Bride Of D.E. Kress

Miss Melva Marie Frailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frailey Sr. of Stroudsburg RD 3 was married on Nov. 10 at 2 o'clock in St. Mark's United Church of Christ, Appenzell, to Donald Eugene Kress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kress of Scotia.

Rev. Elmer G. Meissner performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Carol Ann Frailey of Stroudsburg RD 3. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a shoulder-length veil.

Gordon Anger of Scotia served as his brother-in-law's best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Harold and Robert Frailey. Miss Linda Paul was organist. The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of blue jersey. The bridegroom's mother wore plum crepe.

A reception for 250 guests was held at the Tannersville Fire Hall which was decorated with white wedding bells and streamers.

The bride attended Pocono High School and is employed at the Cherry Valley Nursing Home. Her husband, a graduate of Stroud Union High School, is employed by Blue Coach Lines. They will make their home in Saylorsburg.

How Good Is PE Program In Grades?

The views of educators, school board members and taxpayers on the place of physical education in the elementary school will be aired at the November meeting of Elementary Parent-Teachers Assn. of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools.

The meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 at the J. M. Hill School. Panelists are Robert Wright, Dr. Richard Luce and John Lambert. The questions they have been asked to discuss are:

1. Is the amount of time now spent on physical education of any value in the future development of the child?
2. Could this time be more profitably spent on the Three R's?
3. If a more effective program is needed what are the specific requirements of this program?
4. Can the school district afford the changes?
5. Should grade school physical education be used as a primer for competitive high school sports?

Anna Logan Calendars Are On Call

Any members of the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital who did not receive the birthday calendars at the meeting on Monday night may call any member of the committee: Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, Mrs. W. E. Andrew or Mrs. Walter McClelland.

In the absence of the committee, the calendars were distributed at the meeting by Mrs. Elwood Hintze and Mrs. Horace Butler.

Mrs. James Turnback of New Brunswick, N. J., was a guest at the meeting. Following the work session refreshments were served by Mrs. William Simon, Mrs. A. J. Harlacher, Mrs. Milo Kresge, Mrs. Howard Flagler Jr. and Mrs. Nelson Boers.

Centerpiece was a glass cornucopia filled with fruit, carrying out Thanksgiving theme.

Clearview PTA Oppose School Act

About 200 parents attended the open house sponsored by the Clearview Parent-Teachers Assn. on Monday night at the school.

At the business meeting a lively discussion developed on the school reorganization Act 561, and the PTA voted to send a letter to the president of the Monroe County Council of PTA stating their opposition to Act 561 until it had been further studied, clarified and strengthened.

The controversial measure will be discussed at the meeting of the Monroe County PTA Council to be held at the Tannersville school on Nov. 28 at 8 p.m. when the Clearview PTA will be represented.

It was also announced that a speaker from Harrisburg had been invited to speak on the subject at a meeting of the League of Women Voters.

The PTA opened with the PTA prayer led by Mrs. Mae Jean Saunders. Veterans Day was observed by a tribute to the men whose sacrifices preserved freedom.

Here Rubin introduced the principal Ralph Knauf who spoke briefly before the parents separated to meet in the individual classrooms with their children's teachers who presented an outline of the year's school program.

The Parents re-assembled in the cafeteria where refreshments were served. Mrs. Janet Pansy and Mrs. Joyce Stoddard are hostess chairmen.

Volunteers Staff Carts At Hospital

At a "get-acquainted" meeting of the General Hospital Aux. yesterday afternoon at the Rake Home, Middle Smithfield, as the guests of Mrs. Helen Hansen, members wore identification tags presented to them by Mrs. Carl Wagner.

Miss Ellen Huffman reported on the Hospitality Shop at the hospital and Mrs. R. Kelsey reported on the hospitality carts which are serviced by the Auxiliary members. Mrs. George Marsh was named vice chairman of that committee and the 26 volunteers who take the carts around to the patients' rooms were introduced.

Mrs. Thomas McCall reported on the sale of candy for the benefit of the hospital expansion fund. Mrs. Thomas Brettwieser gave a detailed report of the recent meeting of the Northeast Assn. of Hospital Aux. of Pennsylvania held at the Dallas Country Club.

Mrs. Nathan Myer appealed to members to support the blood program by giving blood at either of the next two visits of the Red Cross bloodmobile; on Nov. 14 from 9:45 to 3:45 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church or on Dec. 10 at a place to be announced.

Christmas plans of the auxiliary include the purchase of Christmas trees for the hospital and a Christmas program starring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irwin to be held Dec. 11, beginning promptly at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. E. H. Wyckoff, Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Mrs. John Dunkelberger, a member of the auxiliary.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. John Hanson, Mrs. George Marsh, Mrs. Carl Adelmann, Mrs. William Gorman, Mrs. Elmer Christine, Mrs. Carl Wagner, Mrs. Vernon Eilemberger, Mrs. Russell Imbt Sr., and Mrs. George Rung. Miss Charlotte Houston, of Hazleton, was a guest.

4-H Club Girls Model Fashions They Created

Nine of Monroe County's 4-H Club girls under the direction of Miss Margaret MacLaren presented a fashion show on Saturday afternoon at A. B. Wyckoff's, in Stroudsburg, modeling dresses and suits they had made from fabrics and fashions selected at Wyckoff's.

Sarah Jane Cyphers, of Stroudsburg, a member of the Bartonville Club, was awarded first prize; Carol Munch, Tannersville, second and Paula Reisenwitz, Tannersville, third prize. Walter Wyckoff, merchandise manager, presented gift certificates to the winners.

Sarah Jane had selected a new Fall shade of blue in a tricot and rayon fabric for a jewel-necked, box-pleated, short-sleeved dress.

Carol attained second place with a hard-finish, hand or machine washable sport cotton with woven stripes in autumn tones against a dark background. Her two-piece costume consisted of a knife-pleated skirt, a collarless jacket with three quarter sleeves and textured brass buttons.

In the jaunty third-price costume, Paula combined two patterns. Her red blazer had three pockets and heraldic emblem trim, her pleated skirt was of brown and red check flannel.

Other models and their entries were: Patty Brader, Tannersville, a Scottish kilt of flannel; Gail Gravatt, Tannersville, box pleated skirt and Chanel-type jacket of sport cotton; Joanne Dumbur, Bartonville, jumper dress of rayon and acetate in a tweedy mixture with a blouse; Donna Hartman, Bartonville, acetate and rayon sheath and tunic costume, fringe trimmed; Sharon Seder, Mountainhome, with a tailored sheath of blue and gray flannel coordinated with a pillow, muff and detachable fringed scarf of matching plaid.

Richard Kishpaugh had cooperated in arranging the show. Commentator was Madalyn Maloney who later entertained the girls and their leaders at a party in the tea room where the awards were presented.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

I have never thought of myself as being a "green eyed" person, but I admit that TODAY I am. No... I'm not jealous of anyone, or even envious. I'm just wearing jade mascara and avocado eye shadow, and when I permit my eyelids to droop as I stare into the sunlight, it's like peering out upon the world through vertical green shutters.

Somewhat the thought of green mascara never occurred to me until I received a note from a customer asking why we didn't carry it at Wyckoff's. "You have blue," she wrote, "but I prefer green. Doesn't any store in your town carry it?"

Having been trained to consider our customers "always right," I checked another store and located it before inquiring in our own Cosmetic department. "Green mascara?" Esther Ainspach asked unbelievably. "Why, of course we have it! We have it from three different companies: Helena Rubinstein, Revlon, and Charles of the Ritz, at 1.50 and 2.00."

Perhaps we were temporarily out of it when our customer came seeking. Or perhaps there was a relief girl in the department who was not completely familiar with the stock. Whichever the case, we do have it both in quantity and of the very best quality. Until now, my preference has been for blue... but it's really fun to be green-eyed—providing, of course, the green is just a color that can be greased away as one desires.

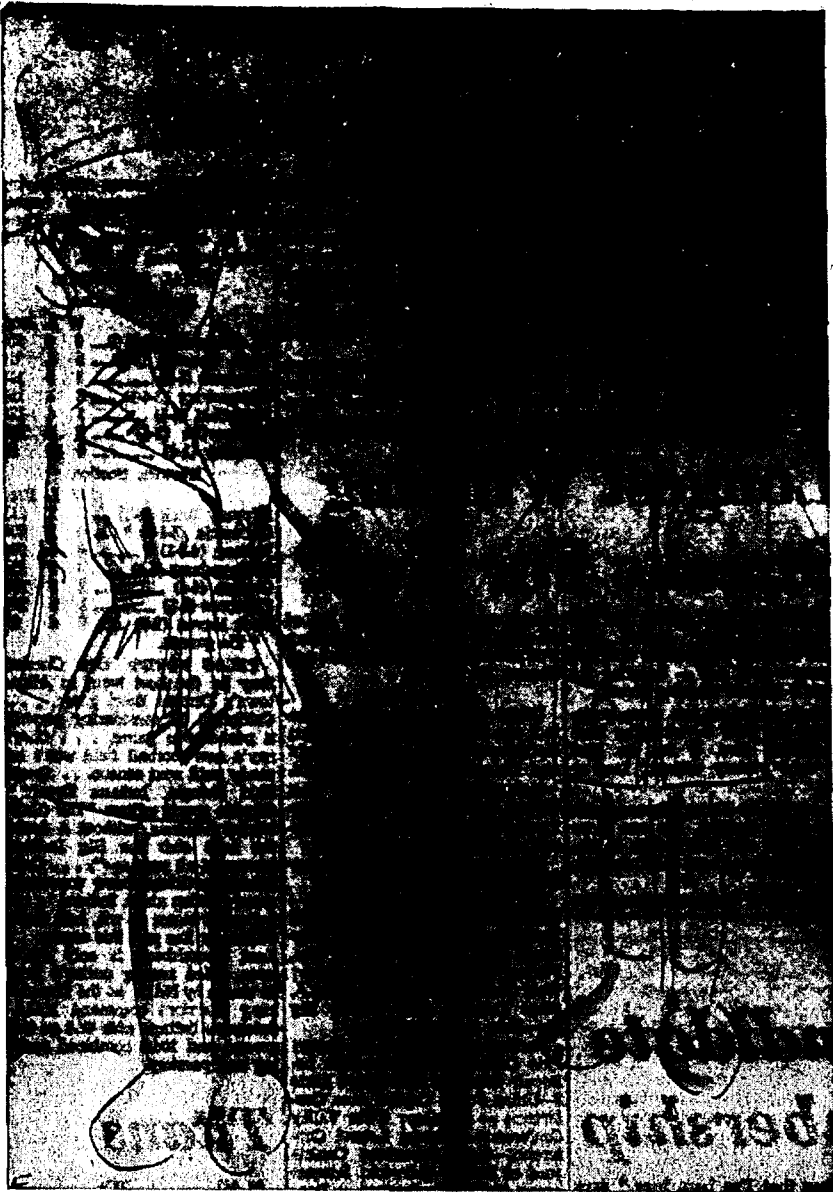

If the professional world sometimes seems a rat race, it may be due to the fact that "in the stretch" we observe even uniforms are not uniform. They may look somewhat alike, but there's a difference, particularly when one bears the White Swan label and is fashioned of the intriguing new Swanstretch.

Swanstretch is a cotton fabric that actually stretches, subtly but surely, as you can feel when you test it between both hands. As a result, it moves in happy accord with the body, and a nurse need not worry that her apparel will "ride up" or bind her as she bends to smooth a bed, lift a patient, or do the thousand-and-one other chores that call for strenuous activity.

Our new Swanstretch uniform comes in three size ranges: 7 to 15, 10 to 20, and 14½ to 24½. It is of 100% cotton poplin, shrinkage controlled, and is fashioned with convertible collar, raglan waist, slot seam front, and back kick pleat. The front is really very pretty, and since the slot seams runs vertically from well below the waist to well above, it is figure-slimming. It is decorated at top and bottom by a gleaming lustre-pearl button, and also centered by a third that closes the inset self-belt. The price is ten dollars.

Far be it from me to encourage any woman to sing her "swan song." But a WHITE Swan song is different. With so much flattery "built in," such a song could well be the overture to some mighty complimentary overtures of a different type!

"Woman on the Ledge" sounds like the title of a mystery novel... but not when the ledge is just over Wyckoff's front entrances, where our window boxes bloom forth according to the season. No, our woman on the ledge this past Monday was Amy Eilenberger of our Art Goods department who was helping a few of the men arrange a display of Christmas greens. Wonder if Amy was also modeling slacks from our Sportswear department?

Miss America Admits She Owes Much To Music

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeature Writer

"The said that music can soothe the savage beast, but it may even have a greater potential in developing beautiful women.

This year's Miss America, Jacquelyn Meyer, feels that music helped get her the beauty crown "that every girl dreams she'll wear some day."

The hazel-eyed, 115-pound brunette is 5 feet 5½ inches tall. She sings, plays the piano, organ, clarinet and bassoon. She explains:

"A musical instrument can help you develop poise, grace, patience, coordination, cooperation and team work. When you play in a band, you must make your own part good for everyone's sake. Rehearsals, concerts and diets require good posture and build stage presence. When you sit at a musical instrument, you have the urge to compose and it develops your imagination."

Toured With Waring

Jackie took piano lessons from her mother, a junior high school music teacher. She learned to play the clarinet in the Sandusky, Ohio, high school band, and taught herself the bassoon by renting it from the high school. She also took piano lessons in Austria when she was an exchange student in her senior year. After a year at Northwestern University where she studied speech, she went on tour singing with Fred Waring's band, learning a great deal about audience appeal and "enjoying the wonderful experience of working for a great musician," she says.

She did a skit as her contribution to the talent bit in the Miss America contest.

"Experience in high school talent shows is a good way to enhance a musical career. I was always in the school choir as an alto or second soprano, and I plan to major in music when I return to Northwestern to finish my education," she explains. She was awarded a $10,000 college scholarship with her title.

Took Over Classes

Jackie's musical home did a great deal for her, she says. "We were always hearing music around the house. Mother exposed us to it to create the desire. She didn't force it on us. My sister and two brothers play and my sister and I take over Mom's private piano lessons when she has been away. When I was little Mom's music business was small, but it is amazing how it has grown and how many little 5 and 6-year-old youngsters want to learn how to play the piano."

The Austrian family with whom she lived and boys she dated there weren't surprised that she won the Miss America title, she says. They kept writing her that she would win.

Love No Worries

Do boys like girls who are beautiful but dumb, instead of the more talented types?

"Guys want a girl who has some kind of talent whether it be music or something else. You just can't win on looks alone," she says.

Although Jackie has lots of beaux, she isn't worried if she falls in love with someone who isn't musically inclined. She can always fall back on some old-fashioned, boy bait.

"I just love to sew, knit, embroider, cook, and housekeep," she says.

Experience And Spark Can Tune In TV Career

By Roberta Fleming Rosch

The day I dropped in to see television producer Beth Holling-er Ferro to ask her opinion about careers in television, the brown-haired, completely feminine producer of "The Price Is Right" daytime show began and ended our interview with almost the same advice.

"So many people want to get in on or on television because they think their jobs will be so glamorous," she declared. "And you do meet glamorous people, of course."

Like Other Jobs

"But aside from that, a job in television is just like any other job in the sense that you work hard and have long hours. Plus this, the demands on you are hectic — more hectic than in most jobs — because every day is a different day with different problems and decisions.

"That, though," she admitted enthusiastically, "makes your job challenging and exciting if you're looking for those qualities, as well as glamour, in your work."

New Challenge

Because Both Ferro has always been looking for as much challenge and excitement as possible in a job, she decided, a few years ago, to leave the career she'd already established in fashion writing and fashion show-producing to look for new challenge and excitement.

She decided on television as the place to find it and, through a friend, got her first job TV by becoming a writer for Kate Smith's former program.

Produced And Wrote

Later she produced and wrote the Bess Myerson show on ABC. Still later she worked on a program for Faye Emerson. Then, in 1956, she went to work for Goodson and Todman, two days after "The Price Is Right" went on the air.

"If you have the right background and are able to bring some experience to a job, one way to get your first job in television is to get to know as many people as you can," Beth advised realistically. "Sometimes if you're around with the right experience at the right time someone may take a chance on you. Obviously, that's the story of my start."

Beth Ferro Stepped From Fashion To The Whirl Of Television.

Reformed Consistory Enlarged

Bushkill — At the congregational meeting of the Reformed Church of Bushkill the members voted to enlarge the consistory from four to six members. Elected to serve were deacons: Walter Bensley, one year; Ivan Michaels, two years; and elders, Louis Lee, two years; Richard DePue, two years. Remaining as members were Albert Smith Jr., elder, and George Angle deacon.

Rev. Robert Tulenko conducted the meeting. Reports were given for the church, Sunday School, Ladies Aid Society, Missionary Society, the Woman's Guild for Christian Service, the Youth Group and the building committee. The budget was adopted.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Louis Hofecker, Mrs. George Angle, Mrs. Albert Smith Sr. and Mrs. Robert Tulenko.

At Convention In Miami

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerr and Dr. C. G. Cross have returned from a trip to Florida by jet. Kerr, a representative of a dental supply company, attended the Dental Convention in Miami.

In Florida they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Knob, former residents of this area, and also flew over to Jamaica.

Kerr is now in Chicago attending a school of instruction on the use of new dental instruments.

Cooking Contest For Men Only Challenge To Amateur Chefs

By Linda Pipber

Daily Record Home Economist

I've always found it easier to get out of a sick bed and prepare a meal rather than try and explain to Bill where everything is, how to fix it, and what to do with it. It's much less painful than having to listen to the grunts and groans and while the kitchen is being turned upside down.

But just because my husband can't boil water doesn't mean that other men are as helpless. It's amazed me that there are so many men reading this column and I find our community is abounding with men cooks! I even have recipes promised from some of them, so one of these days I'm going to surprise you. I have good news for our Pocomo amateur chefs; they are eligible to enter a cooking contest!

Anatomink WSCS Gives To Causes

Anatomink — The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Anatomink Methodist Church made donations to CARE and World Missions. The world bank was opened and $5 will be mailed to that cause.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Cramer with nine members present. Mrs. Harold Nauman led the devotion and Mrs. Wayne Metzgar presided. A satisfactory report was given of the chicken supper held at the FOS of A Hall.

The annual Christmas party will be held at the home of May Cramer on Dec. 13 at 6 p.m. Each member will bring a dish of food of her choice and a 50 cent gift.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Ervin Nase, Mrs. Harold Nauman, Mrs. Kenneth Smiley, Mrs. Wayne Metzgar, Mrs. Sadie Metzgar, Mrs. Melvin La-Bar, Mrs. Stanley Hallett, Miss Florence Bates, Mrs. Herbert Cramer.

Circle Meeting

Circles 4 and 5 of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet in the church parlors on Thursday night at 7:30 for a business and social meeting. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mabel Martin, Mrs. Mabel Goucher, Mrs. Helen Roberts and Mrs. Hazel Marvin.

Just think — one of them could be crowned the 1963 Men's National Cooking Champion. First prize is $1,000 plus a two-week vacation for two. A group of women (naturally) food experts will select state winners from all recipes sent in. Then four regional champions will be sent with their wives (or a friend) to Chicago for a week's stay at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel on January 30th. The final cooking competition takes place during the week before the public.

The contest is sponsored by the Potato Chip Institute International, so the original recipe must contain potato chips! It's open to all men in the United States, except professional cooks and they may submit as many recipes as they wish. They must be mailed before midnight, December 15th, 1962, to the Men's National Cooking Championship, 331 Madison Ave., New York, 17, N.Y.

Now you women with clever husbands — get them busy in the kitchen. Have them whip up simple combinations that are easy to prepare for casseroles, roasts, or other quickie dishes. Last year's state winners had fancy titles, but are simple to prepare. They sound good enough to have for supper tonight!

10 Minute Potato Chip Chili Pie
2½ cups potato chips
1 large onion, chopped
1 15 oz. can chili
1 cup grated American cheese

Place 1½ cups potato chips in baking dish. Arrange chopped onion and half of the cheese over the potato chips. Pour heated chili over onion and cheese. Top with remaining potato chips and grated cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Quick-N-Easy Chip Fondue
2 cups crushed potato chips
1½ cups milk
3 eggs
1½ cups sharp grated cheese (about ½ pound)
One-third cup chopped green pepper
One-third c. chopped pimento
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon paprika

Pour milk over the potato chips. Separate the eggs and to the beaten yolks add the chip-milk mixture, cheese, pepper, pimento, and seasonings. Fold in the whites beaten until stiff. Pour into greased 1½ quart casserole and bake in 350-degree oven about 35 minutes or until set. Serves 6.

Chip-Pinky Burgers
1 tall (1 lb.) can pink salmon
1 egg
1 cup (8 oz.) crushed potato chips
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Place salmon in bowl. Combine onion and parsley with egg. Pour over salmon and stir. Mix in potato chips. Shape in patties. Fry in bacon grease 10 minutes under low medium heat. Serve with relish, catsup, or a favorite sauce. Husbands, don the apron, for

NCAA, AAU Forms A Coalition Group

NEW YORK (AP)—The AAU and NCAA settled—at least temporarily—their 2½-year war for control of track and field in the United States Tuesday by forming a coalition group.

Warring groups reached their agreement after three hours of negotiating Tuesday following a marathon 13-hour session Monday at which they were urged by Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to settle their differences for the sake of the United States Olympic team in 1964.

Preliminary Agreement
“Preliminary agreement has been reached by the parties involved to get up a track and field coalition embracing all qualified organizations,” said U.S. Olympic Committee President Tug Wilson in a formal statement following the meeting.

“The proposal is subject to ratification by the organizations involved. All these organizations will proceed with their programs which will be coordinated under the proposed coalition.”

“Details are to be worked out later.”

The meeting was held behind closed doors and the statement still left unanswered the question of dual sanctions, the main point in the fight. The AAU has maintained that as the governing body of track and field in the United States, it alone had the authority to sanction open track meets. The International Amateur Athletic Federation backed the AAU on this.

Argues Point
The NCAA-sponsored U.S. Track and Field Federation, however, claimed it too could sanction open meets.

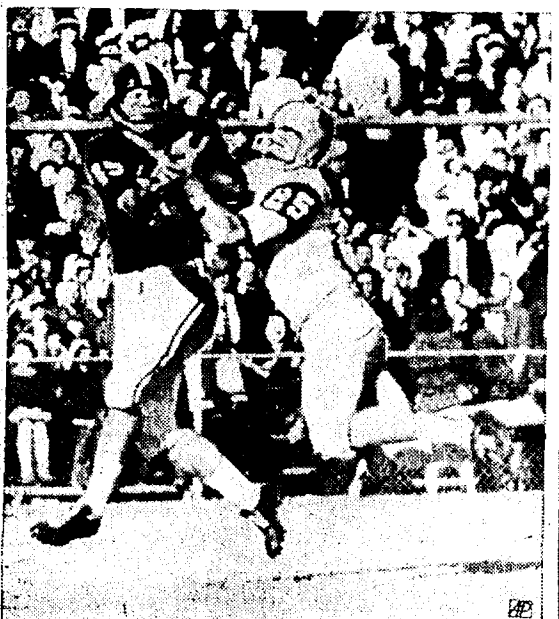

Asked if this meant either group was giving way, NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers snapped: “That’s all I can tell you.”

Presumably, however, the AAU will sanction Federation meets. And the Federation in turn will withdraw its threat to keep all collegians from participating in AAU-sponsored events.

The AAU would remain the sanctioning agent.

Nothing was said or discussed concerning basketball and gymnastics, two other sports involving the AAU-NCAA squabble. However, one high ranking official said that the track and field pattern probably would be applied to the two other sports.

Both the AAU and the NCAA still must obtain the ratification of their member organizations or institutions. The AAU probably will decide at its annual meeting Nov. 29-Dec. 2 at Detroit. The NCAA is expected to take a mail vote of its members. However, it is a foregone conclusion that there will be no difficulty.

Wisconsin Quarterback Is Named Back Of Week

Ron Vanderkelen, a late blooming senior quarterback from Wisconsin, was named the Associated Press' back of the week Tuesday for his part in the Badgers' 31-6 upset of Northwestern last Saturday.

Bill King of Dartmouth, Darville Lamonia of Notre Dame, Joe Namath of Alabama, Pete Beathard of Southern California, Bob Schwiebert of Virginia Tech, Terry Baker of Oregon State, Joe Don Looney of Oklahoma, Tommy Wade of Texas and Terry Dillon of Montana were among the others considered after sparkling performances in Saturday's games.

Vanderkelen, who played only 90 seconds of varsity ball before this season, completed 12 of 22 passes for 181 yards and three touchdowns in the surprising victory over Northwestern.

King accounted for five touchdowns, four by passes and one by running, as unbeaten Dartmouth routed Columbia 42-0 and clinched at least a tie for the Ivy League title.

Lamonia did an outstanding job for the Irish against Pitt, connecting with 17 of 26 passes for 214 yards and four touchdowns in a 43-22 victory.

Namath, Alabama's sophomore quarterback, directed four touchdowns drives in a 36-3 romp over Miami, Fla., completing 10 of 19 passes for 205 yards and one TD and also carried for 63 yards for a total of 270.

Beathard scored twice, setting up both touchdowns with his passes in a 39-14 triumph over Stanford.

Schwiebert ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more in Virginia Tech's 37-8 ramble over Wake Forest.

Swiebert, who played only 90 seconds of varsity ball before this season, completed 12 of 22 passes for 181 yards and three touchdowns in the surprising victory over Northwestern.

King accounted for five touchdowns, four by passes and one by running, as unbeaten Dartmouth routed Columbia 42-0 and clinched at least a tie for the Ivy League title.

Lamonia did an outstanding job for the Irish against Pitt, connecting with 17 of 26 passes for 214 yards and four touchdowns in a 43-22 victory.

Namath, Alabama's sophomore quarterback, directed four touchdowns drives in a 36-3 romp over Miami, Fla., completing 10 of 19 passes for 205 yards and one TD and also carried for 63 yards for a total of 270.

Beathard scored twice, setting up both touchdowns with his passes in a 39-14 triumph over Stanford.

Schwiebert ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more in Virginia Tech's 37-8 ramble over Wake Forest.

Swiebert, who played only 90 seconds of varsity ball before this season, completed 12 of 22 passes for 181 yards and three touchdowns in the surprising victory over Northwestern.

Delay On Anthracite

Harness Racing Dates Are Set

HARRISBURG (AP)—The first harness racing dates for the state's new parimutuel tracks have been set for 1963, the State Harness Racing Commission reported Tuesday.

The action was taken at a meeting Monday which the commission previously stated had been postponed.

The Philadelphia area track operated by Liberty Bell Racing Association was assigned 100 nights, while the Washington Trotting Association, Washington, Pa., was assigned 50 nights.

No Dates Set

No dates were set for the track to be operated by Anthracite Raceway, pending word on the expected completion of its Luzerne County plant.

Liberty Bell was assigned 50 nights from June 7 to Aug. 3, inclusive. Bucks County Racing Association, which will lease Liberty Bell's plant at the Philadelphia-Bucks County line, was assigned Sept. 2 to Nov. 2, with the exact 50 dates to be decided later.

Washington Trotting was assigned the 50 nights from June 28 to Aug. 21.

At the same time, the commission hired Milton D. Taylor, a veteran harness track official, to be steward and presiding judge over Pennsylvania harness racing.

Parimutuel wagering at harness tracks was authorized by the 1953 Legislature.

Postpone Meeting
The commission sent out a brief memorandum to news media last Friday advising that “the regular meeting . . . which was tentatively scheduled for Monday, Nov. 12, has been postponed until further notice.”

Hurry L. Rossi, general counsel, said the commission did not mean to include interviews scheduled with track representatives to discuss racing dates in announcing that the regular meeting had been postponed.

All four groups were represented at the session, Rossi said, and the commissioners decided to go ahead and set the dates.

“It hadn't been their intention in advance to do so, he added, “this just happened in the interim.”

Rossi said he believed either he or executive secretary Paul Scoy dictated the postponement memorandum at the advice of all three commissioners, Lawrence B. Sheppard, chairman, Edward J. Kane and Martin E. Cusick.

They will be paid by the tracks, Rossi said, at a daily rate of about $15. The 1960 law pro-

Burrows Re-Elected As District 11 Chairman

RALPH O. BURROWS, principal of East Stroudsburg High School, has been re-elected chairman of District 11, PIAA.

There was only one election change among officers named at the annual dinner meeting Monday night in Parkland High School, Kenneth Forrest, of Summit Hill, president of the Black Diamond League, was named to succeed the late Howard Jeffries on the district's executive committee.

Other officers are: Joseph Manana, of Easton, vice chairman; Herman P. Snyder, of Slatington, treasurer; Bruce Henninger, of Pine Grove, secretary, and James Reese, Allentown, Junior High School representative.

District 11 also approved three proposed amendments to the PIAA constitution. They are:

1. Allow a junior high school pupil transferring from one school to another to become eligible after he has been a member of the new school for 60 days. Previously, a 90-day term was required. This had been recommended by the District One committee.

2. Delay the start of wrestling practice until Nov. 15 instead of Nov. 1. The first scheduled meet or tournament could not be held before Dec. 6 instead of Nov. 20.

This change was recommended by the wrestling and steering committee and approved by the board of control.

3. Give officials' representatives on district committees and the board of control the power to vote. They heretofore had been serving as an advisory group. This proposal was recommended by the officials' council and was supported by District 11.

District 11 also turned down by a vote of 29-18 a PIAA survey question dealing with pre-season football training. The question was worded this way:

“Do you favor a possible change as follows: After two weeks of pre-season conditioning practice, one scrimmage with a PIAA member school team or squad or a non-member team or squad adhering to PIAA eligibility requirements may be held each week for practice purposes only.”

Broaden Programs
In an effort to silence critics of the PIAA, all schools were urged to broaden their athletic program, making it available to all boys and girls, by Mark Funk, PIAA executive director. He did add, however, that PIAA has “more friends than critics.”

Burrows reviewed a brief history of the District 11 in his welcoming remarks. He cited history of the District 11 in his welcoming remarks. He cited history of the District 11 in his welcoming remarks. He cited history of the District 11 in his welcoming remarks.

Downes Downs Moyer

LONDON (AP)—Terry Downes, British middleweight champion, defeated Phil Moyer of Portland, Ore., on a technical knockout in the ninth round Tuesday night.

Referee Jack Hart stopped the fight after 30 seconds of the ninth round of the scheduled 10-round bout when blood flowed from a cut over Moyer's right eye—an injury he suffered in the seventh round.

Downes weighed 164½, Moyer 165.

A sellout crowd of 14,000 at London's Wembley Indoor Stadium paid an estimated $70,000 to watch the fight. Downes was reported receiving $20,000 and Moyer $12,000.

Downes started the fight with two strong lefts and a right in the first round and followed up with two more lefts that hurt the American. Downes kept punching away with his left hand to pile up the points.

The American came back strongly in the eighth round and a cut appeared on Downes' forehead. Moyer threw punches in a desperate attempt to pull back the fight in his favor. But Downes came out strongly for the ninth round, tossed a couple of hard punches with both hands and then referee Hart stopped the fight to save Moyer from further punishment.

Downes, a 26-year-old Cockney, who once served with the American Marines, now has a 31-8 record. Moyer, 24, is 30-7-1.

Two Cents Nets Him $419,000

LONDON (AP)—Gordon Foster, 36-year-old locomotive driver, learned Tuesday night he had won $419,353 for two cents on a soccer pool.

It was the biggest pools win of the British soccer season.

Foster picked eight of last Saturday's British League games to end in draws, and his predictions all came right.

Foster, who lives with his wife and 10-year-old daughter in a railway employee's cottage beside Rainford Junction in Northern England, said:

“I have only one rule in filling in my coupon — always include teams from railway centers. They don't let me down.”

May Sell Indians For $4.8 Million

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The owner of the Tulsa Oilers and a former owner of that club have been identified as members of a syndicate which reportedly will buy the Cleveland Indians of the American Baseball League.

A. Ray Smith, now owner of the Tulsa Oilers team here, was not available for comment, but an associate said both Smith and Grayle Howlett, who owned the Class AA team before Smith, are in the Indian group.

BRITE STAR winner Joe Heverin (right), East Stroudsburg State College end, receives congratulations from Coach Jack Gregory. Heverin, who played entire game Saturday against Bloomsburg, intercepted one pass to stop a Husky drive deep in ESSC territory, while also throwing two key blocks to allow Warrior runners to hit pay dirt.

Every Game Is 'The Toughest'

Gregory Is No Candidate For Optimist Membership

By Ken O'Brien
Daily Record Sports Writer

JACK GREGORY, coach of the undefeated East Stroudsburg State College Warriors, would be an unlikely candidate for membership in any Optimist Club.

Saturday's contest at Slippery Rock for the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference will be the ninth grueling battle of the year for the Warriors. And for the ninth time this season, Gregory says he considers this game as “the toughest.”

Only the reasons for his pessimism changes with each upcoming battle. They range from playing the first game of the year (“They’re always tough, of course”), to playing on the road before Homecoming Day and Parents Day crowds (“That always makes it all the tougher”).

One Step Further
Gregory goes even one step further in his pre-game comments concerning the Rockets of Slippery Rock who lost but one game en route to claiming the western division title in the PSCAC.

“We think possibly this Slippery Rock team will be the toughest game we’ve played in the four years that I’ve been here,” says the soft-spoken coach of the mighty Warriors.

His regard for Slippery Rock then, is even higher than his respect for West Chester, annual arch-rival of the Warriors who this year finished second to ESSC in the eastern division with a 5-1 conference record and 210 rating points. East Stroudsburg, of course, was 6-0 in the conference with 250 rating points—higher than any other team in either division.

Slippery Rock finished with 217 rating points in the western division.

Rightfully Unhappy
Gregory is somewhat unhappy, too—and rightfully so—for reports saying East Stroudsburg must win the title game against the Rockets Saturday before getting a bid to the Cement Bowl in Allentown Dec. 8.

“This puts an unfair pressure upon our boys,” says Gregory. “and, personally, I don’t feel that it is right.”

Neither do many others in the area.

West Chester is being considered as the host team in the bowl game unless the Warriors defeat Slippery Rock. Hofstra has already accepted a bid to the bowl. Susquehanna, the only other undefeated collegiate team in the state, also has been given consideration by the Cement Bowl selection committee.

“Mentally Right”
One of Gregory's biggest tasks this week, however, will be to keep the squad “mentally right” as they approach the playoff game. Prospects of a bowl bid are certainly in the back of the minds of all concerned on college hill but it will be the coach's job to keep the boys pointing to Slippery Rock. Period.

Another factor involved in the contest is to keep the team “up” in efforts to avoid any letdown.

Any team which finishes a regular season undefeated, of course, is bound to feel the pangs of pressure during the latter stages of the campaign. As Gregory puts it:

“We’re just hoping we can get one more good game out of them.”

Bowling Owner Is Not Liable

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—How long must a visible foreign object be on the runway of a bowling alley before the operator of the establishment becomes liable for damages should there be an accident?

That is a question Pennsylvania's Supreme Court ruled Tuesday must be settled by a trial in a lower court. The issue came before the state's highest tribunal in an appeal by a woman bowler who slipped and was hurt.

Mrs. Dolores Davanti, 38, of Jeannette, filed a damage claim against the owners of Bowl-A-Rena in the Westmoreland County community where she lived. She said a sticky substance on the floor caused her to fall and sustain injuries in September, 1958.

The lower court judge threw out the case on grounds there was no proof that the bowling alley operators knew the substance was on the floor.

Broadmoor Wins
CHICAGO (AP)—The Women's Western Golf Association's 1963 Amateur tourney Tuesday was awarded to the Broadmoor Country Club, Colorado Springs, Colo., July 8-11.

Knee Operation
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ed Henke of the St. Louis Football Cardinals was operated on for pulled knee ligaments Tuesday. Doctors termed the operation a success.

Warriors Favored In Title Contest

EAST Stroudsburg, one of the two undefeated and untied collegiate football teams in the commonwealth, is a slight favorite to beat Slippery Rock for the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference next Saturday at Slippery Rock.

Slippery Rock officials decided to play the title game on their home grounds after weighing possibility of taking the contest to New Castle or Butler. The reason for the switch was “faithful homebackers” were given prime consideration.

Saturday's battle will mark the third annual playoff between the eastern and western division titlists. The winner will succeed West Chester as conference champion. The Rockets were defeated, 18-0, in last year's title game at West Chester.

The Warriors of Coach Jack Gregory, 7-6 conquerors of the defending champion Golden Rams, will be seeking a clear-cut title.

Others Inact
Other winning streaks still intact are Altoona with 14 straight; Harrisburg with 13 straight and Uniontown with 12 straight.

Uniontown also won its first WPIAL-Class AA football championship in history over the weekend, upending Johnstown, 12-0.

Other major conference champions crowned already include: Wyoming Valley Conference — Wilkes-Barre; Roseville Trail Conference — Athens; Pittsburgh City League—Section One, Peabody, Section Two, Langley; West Central Conference—Class A, State College; Erie County Big Six—Erie Cathedral Prep.

Northwestern Section II—Corry; Erie County League — Fort LeBeau; Southern Conference Little 8—Union Joint; Capital Area Conference — Hershey; Twin Valley Conference—Lykens; Laurel Valley Conference—York Suburban; Conference of Roses—Warwick; Susquehanna Valley Conference — Danville; Lower Bucks Conference—Neshanic.

WPIAL Class A and B races will be decided by playoffs. Rostraver will meet Carmichael for the A title Friday night at Uniontown. Verona and Apollo will battle for the B crown at New Kensington.

The East Penn Conference is one of several conferences still undecided.

Resigns As Coach At L. A. State

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leonard (Bud) Adams has resigned as head football coach at Los Angeles State College. But he won't quit until after the Diablos' final game of the season Thanksgiving Day.

Adams' quarterback, Dean Bond, quit earlier, and on shorter notice. He quit the team at half-time during Saturday's game against Long Beach State. Long Beach won the game, 23-22.

Adams and Bond had been feuding for some time. Bond quit when the coach benched him for calling a play his way instead of Adams' way.

The reason for Adams' resignation wasn't given when the announcement was made Monday. Adams is in his 12th year at Los Angeles State. His teams have won 41 games, lost 54 and tied 5.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Wednesday, November 14
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Aspects, not wholly friendly, suggest that you strive to avoid misadventure, keep hidden all that is in line and protect your work and interests with strong endeavor.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Not a spectacular day, but friendly for education, individual advancement, experimenting, strengthening old commitments, consolidating, home-making. Don't force issues.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — You can do more, work better, aim for greater attainments now, but you must also have knowledge of your subject, be sure of your methods.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — An active period. You may have to slow down here, there, to review notes, letters, etc., that reveal "little" things in the Big Push.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You could be out of sorts if you ignore your inclinations. Aim at thoroughness; take precautions to avoid the clutter and errors that hold back your productivity.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — A big day for big doings. Show your best and your best can do considerable to help form new plans, improve and organize effectively. Do not hesitate to take forward steps.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Favorable aspects, but unless you are on the lookout for flaws, you may miss in a few places. They call for alertness to risks, steady pushing for goals, doing your best without strain.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — This day's activities must be handled ON TIME and without misgivings. The faithful worker shall win many rewards. Sidelack all non-essentials.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — Jupiter's auspicious configuration should result in new vigor, help you to establish better relationships. Actions will speak loudly; your big plans should pay off now.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn) — Search for a more distinguished, more helpful way to support good measures. You can succeed with new vigor, but you must be sure to take on your own intellect.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius) — Mild influences. You are just about on the lookout for a new act, work out new tactics. Or is it better to stay with what is in force? Don't stand still though; improvement is always needed.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces) — Conquer lethargy now and determine to get in there with some excellent pitching (at which you are surely able) and make a definite, deliberate effort to win.

YOU BORN TODAY hail from a zodiacal sign of strength, purpose, many varied talents, mental and physical vitality. You like people, seeing new places, travel for adventure, but you love your home life, too, and often combine up memories of past pleasures and hobbies. You may handle two occupations. If you are careful not to become so involved that you leave no time for recreation and relaxing, both necessary for continued health and a happy outlook. For next several months, take on your own pressure, work out your own plan, but do not prevent anything, conduct independent, but not too independent, and understanding where there has been none for a long while. Birth: 3:41 Charles Lyall, geologist.

Early Yule Party Set By Rebekahs

NEWFOUNDLAND — What will probably be one of the earliest Christmas parties in the area was planned by the Past Noble Grand of Ladies of Peapack Rebekah Lodge, during the November meeting at the home of Mrs. Edna Robacker at which Mrs. Edna Malsom presided.

The group made plans for a party and covered dish supper on December 3 at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Miss Agnes Waltz. Members were asked to bring a five cent gift, which may not be either gum nor candy; a fifty cent gift for exchange; and a covered dish.

Mrs. Robacker was assisted in serving by Mrs. Minnie Ziegler and Mrs. Verna Simons. Four guests were Lewis Osborn, Lewis Smith, Floyd Webster and Allen Robacker.

In addition to the guests and hostesses, these members were present: Marion Carlton, Marion Gilpin, Anna Carlton, Agnes Waltz, Emma Osborn, Tillie Smith, Averille Butler, Mathilda Osborn, Margaret Webster, Lila Drake, Jennie Haag, Jennie Carlton, and Edna Malsom.

Thanksgiving Service By 4 Churches

NEWFOUNDLAND — A Union Service of Thanksgiving, a tradition in this Pococ Mountain Community, will unite the four churches, LaAnna, South Sterling, Hemlock Grove and Newfoundland, in one observance of the holiday.

The service, which is held in a different church each year, will be at Hemlock Grove Methodist Church this year. It will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day, with the Rev. Larry Lindemuth, minister of the Newfoundland Moravian Church, as speaker.

There will be special music by the youth choir, composed of members of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship.

Author Jailed In Own Home

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A South African journalist who was formerly a member of Parliament, Brian Percy Bunting, and his wife, Sonia, were placed under house arrest yesterday by Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster.

Bunting, 42, was confined by a dusk-to-dawn curfew; Mrs. Bunting was totally restricted to their home in a Cape Town suburb for the next five years. He may go out during the day, she not at all. The arrests were made under the Suppression of Communism Act as amended by the Anti-Sabotage Act which Vorster piloted through Parliament this year.

Men's Room Stolen

STOWE BY CHARLEY, England (AP) — Thieves dismantled and took away the men's room from this disused railroad station. The concrete and iron installation weighed 1,000 pounds.

The Daily Investor

You Are Correct

By William A. Doyle

Q. I began investing in shares of a big mutual fund seven years ago. So far I have invested $3,100. There is a possibility that I might have to sell. At the present quotation I do not figure to break even on this investment and get my $3,100 back. Am I right in assuming that the dividends and capital gains distributions I have received in more shares can be added to my cost for tax purposes when I sell?

A. Yes, you are correct. Just one point. Technically, you can "sell" your mutual fund shares—just as you can sell anything you own. In practice, however, you will probably do what most people do when they want cash for the mutual fund shares they own. You will, no doubt, "redeem" your shares—turn them back to the fund and receive whatever redemption price is in effect. For most mutual funds, the redemption price is the asset value behind each share. Some mutual funds do have a "redemption charge" that drops the redemption price about one percent below the asset value of each share. Your tax problem is fairly simple. When you redeem your mutual fund shares, the difference between your total investment and the price you receive will be either a profit or a loss. You report it as either a capital gain or a capital loss when you file your Federal income tax return for the year in which you redeem the shares.

Your total investment includes your money that you used to buy shares ($3,100, in your case) plus all dividends and capital gains distributions which you reinvested in additional shares.

The fact that you reported (or, at least, were supposed to report) those dividends and capital gains distributions on income tax returns for the years in which you received and reinvested them doesn't change matters.

Q. Is it true that I can make a gift of up to $3,000 a year to my son and that neither he nor I will be required to pay any Federal tax on the amount of the gift? Or is this so much hog wash?

A. It's not hog wash! You can give him more than that, without any Federal gift tax liability, if you feel really generous.

Each taxpayer has a $3,000 "exemption" and a $3,000 annual "exclusion" from Federal gift taxes. For a married couple making a joint gift, the exemption is $6,000 and the annual exclusion is $3,000.

So, you can give away (net counting gifts to recognized charities) $30,000 ($60,000 if you and your wife are making the gift) and then give away to each of as many people as you like $3,000 ($6,000 if you and your wife are making the gift).

Remember that the exemption is a one-time thing. Then a taxpayer can make gifts of $3,000 each to hundreds of people each year, free of any Federal gift tax—as long as his money holds out.

Q. In writing about the new Kennedy tax law, you said that the Federal government will now be able to catch people who have been cheating by not reporting the dividends (on stocks) and interest (on bank accounts, etc.) they receive. You also wrote that everyone who has income of $600 or more a year is supposed to file a Federal income tax return. How about people over 65 who have income of less than $1,200 a year?

A. Those people have not been required to file Federal income tax returns in the past. They still are not required to file. I apologize if that point was not made clear in the previous column.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

School - Community Merger Meets Challenge Of Change

(Another in a series dealing with National Education Week. It was written by John Eckert, an instructor in the East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School. Other articles by local teachers will appear during the week. — Editor.)

Everyone is interested in education—in effective schools and colleges—and rightly so. As President Kennedy told Congress and the people of the United States last February: "Education is both the foundation and the unifying force of our democratic way of life."

Since different individuals and groups have different ideas of what is to be expected from education, cooperation is not always simple. However, if each parent, teacher, and lay citizen in the community realizes his own role and the roles of others, all should be able to work together for the common good with no fear of loss of democratic rights or privileges.

Sound Group Policies

What can reasonably be expected of education in any community is a subject which can best be settled around conference tables in that community. With sound group policies, backed by a majority of individuals concerned, educational agencies not only can withstand the pressures of special interest groups which seek to limit education along the lines of their own prejudices but can efficiently attack the real problems involved in maintaining schools and colleges capable of preparing all citizens to meet the challenges of the times.

Among the major areas of interest to citizens committees are curriculum, budget, professional personnel, pupil personnel services, youth programs, public relations, and community resources.

To have effective communication and cooperation, the role of each group should be clearly defined and understood by all the individuals involved.

Complex
Another Stanford University study showed that the sources of difficulty in effective school-community relations are many and that their interaction is complex. The better the community understands the educational agency, the better are the possibilities for support of its educational programs. The study revealed an imperative need for effective mediating agencies between school and community.

The local newspaper is one such mediating influence in school-community relationships, as are local radio and television stations. It seems obvious that the best hope for achieving effective school-community partnership in education lies in close and continued cooperation between professional educators and lay citizens. Only in this way can the challenges be met.

Railroad Officials Backs New Law

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A railroad executive yesterday urged support for a proposed law that would allow railroads, barge lines and trucking firms to set their own minimum rates for hauling bulk commodities.

President D. W. Brosnan of the Southern Railway System told a news conference that American families would save on food, clothing and shelter if railroads set their own minimum rates.

He said rates are now held at artificially high levels by federal regulations under outmoded laws.

Reds, Cuba Counter U.S. Proposals

Red Chinese Brand Khrush Opportunist

HONG KONG (AP) — Chinese Communist officials have told Westerners in Hong Kong that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is an opportunist, a weakling and a traitor to the Communist cause.

Those are surprisingly frank charges for Chinese Communist officials to make. They indicate Soviet-Chinese relations have taken a sharp turn for the worse.

There appears little doubt they will get even more rancorous when the charges get back to the Kremlin. The Chinese Communist officials have every indication they full expected their remarks to be reported.

The Chinese Communists concerned, top officials of leading

Chinese Communist papers in Hong Kong, sought out European newsmen here during the past week to air their views. No American newsmen has been approached so far.

Criticism of Khrushchev and his allegedly "soft" policies toward the West has been growing in Red China over the past few months. High party officials have denounced Khrushchev and his policies at secret off-the-record briefings for select groups, according to reliable informants from mainland China.

But this is the first time the Chinese Communists have approached Western newsmen with their complaints.

The burden of the complaints is that Khrushchev has cut off aid to Red China because he is afraid Red China will eventually overtake the Soviet Union.

"Khrushchev is as jealous of China's growing strength as only a bourgeois woman could be," a European newsmen here quoted one Chinese Communist official as saying.

Fears Russian People

The official was also quoted as saying Khrushchev pulled back from his Cuban adventure not for fear of possible American reaction but for fear of what the Russian people would do.

"If there is war the Soviet government will be destroyed by the Russian people and not American nuclear bombs," the official added.

The Chinese Communists said the Soviet people had been betrayed by Khrushchev's "policy of abundance"—a reference to Khrushchev's "pie in the sky" promises to the people which, they said, have not and cannot be fulfilled in the near future.

They said Khrushchev's attacks against Albania, whom Red China befriends, are proof he is a "traitor to proletarian solidarity."

On the other hand, they said, his friendship toward Yugoslavia, an ideological enemy of Red China, proves Khrushchev is an opportunist.

Scranton Delays Selecting Aides

HOBE SOUND, Fla. (AP) — Gov.-elect William W. Scranton said Tuesday there will be no more cabinet appointments from his vacation home.

He plans to return to Pennsylvania next week, probably Tuesday.

Scranton also said:

He has been flooded with applications for jobs. He estimated he had received 350 applications for the 17 to 21 Cabinet positions open. At least 11 applicants want to become state police commissioner, the governor-elect added.

He had offered a job in his administration to Rep. James E. Van Zandt, unsuccessful Republican candidate for U.S. Senator.

There will be a big parade for his inaugural Jan. 15 but not the pomp and ceremony of the past. He plans to take the oath of office in a business suit.

Lt. Gen. Milton G. Baker, superintendent of the Valley Forge Military Academy, will be chairman of the committee planning the inaugural.

Seek To Block Taylor's Power

HARRISBURG (AP) — A movement to block Sen. M. Harvey Taylor's return to power in the legislature came out in the open Tuesday.

Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, 39-year-old Lebanon Republican, said he would not vote for the 86-year-old Republican leader from Harrisburg for the powerful office of Senate president pro tempore.

It is the office from which Taylor ruled the Senate for 16 years before the Democrats won organizational control of the chamber two years ago.

The Republican majority in the Senate, Ehrgood told a news-conference "cannot afford to frustrate the voters of Pennsylvania by regressive leadership, by the return to power politics in the Senate, which is what Bill Scranton fought so hard against in this state."

Want Guantanamo Base Included In Negotiations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet and U.S. representatives held another long meeting on the Cuban crisis Tuesday which U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson described as constructive. A U.S. spokesman said there was a feeling "some slight progress was made."

The conference, lasting 3 hours and 40 minutes, took place after the Soviet Union and Cuba had presented new proposals to Acting Secretary-General U Thant, reportedly injecting the Guantanamo naval base into the negotiations.

The U.S. spokesman would not confirm or deny that the new Soviet-Cuban formula was taken up in the meeting with U.S. officials. Stevenson offered the comment that the talks "served to identify and clarify the positions of both countries on the unresolved issues."

Includes Planes

These presumably included not only U.S. demands that the Soviet Union withdraw its IL28 bombers from Cuba and permit on-site inspection of dismantled Soviet missile sites, but also the reported

new proposals for U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo and the end of the U.S. arms quarantine.

Asked whether the American negotiators had pressed new U.S. demands, agreed on in Washington, for removal of the Soviet bombers, the spokesman said it could be assumed that the U.S. position was stated.

He also stated it could be taken for granted that the U.S. quarantine of Cuba would continue in the face of reports that the Red Cross International Committee had bowed out of the picture as a possible inspection agency.

Conference Today

Stevenson will see Thant Wednesday morning to report on the U.S.-Soviet talks and to get a fill-in from the secretary-general on other developments.

The formula stemmed apparently from the talks Soviet first Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has been holding with Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana.

The proposals were offered as word came from Geneva that the International Committee of the Red Cross had abandoned plans to arrange inspection of Cuba-bound shipping.

One immediate result seen here was continuance of the U.S. naval blockade of Cuba for an undetermined period.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga laid the new proposals before Acting Secretary-General U Thant in a private meeting of an hour and 15 minutes.

Later Kuznetsov called on U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at the U.S. mission to the United Nations. Kuznetsov requested the meeting in order to present the proposals to Stevenson, special adviser John J. McCloy, and U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost.

The three U.S. representatives conferred Monday in Washington with President Kennedy. The United States was reported holding firm to its demands that the Soviet Union pull its jet bombers out of Cuba and abide by promises to permit verification of the dismantling of Soviet missile bases.

Reliable sources said there was nothing especially new in the Soviet-Cuban formula and it seemed certain the United States would reject it.

Points Listed

The informants described the proposals as based on the five demands made earlier by Castro. These included withdrawal of the United States from Guantanamo, and end to the U.S. arms blockade, and adoption of measures by the United States to prevent hostile activity against Cuba by exile groups.

Mikoyan, who has been in Havana for nearly two weeks, was quoted as expressing support for the demands in a speech in the Cuban capital Monday night.

Authoritative sources said in Geneva that the International Committee of the Red Cross had decided not to take part in the inspection of Cuba-bound ships because two of its basic conditions were not met: Red Cross intervention was no longer vitally necessary for maintenance of world peace; Castro failed to give unconditional approval to the plan.

'Ike' Questioned Hiss TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday he spoke to the American Broadcasting Co. Sunday in advance of Alger Hiss' television appearance and expressed amazement over it.

The taped ABC show on which Hiss appeared was entitled, "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

In Buffalo, N.Y., Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said he, too, was aroused in advance of the program and called an Eisenhower aide. The Buffalo Evening News quoted Miller as saying the unnamed aide had told him "Eisenhower tried to intervene through Jim Hagerty, and Hagerty wouldn't do anything about it."

Hagerty, as ABC vice president in charge of news, had ultimate responsibility for Hiss' appearance on the show, Hagerty was White House press secretary under Eisenhower, whose vice president was Nixon.

No Intervention

After Eisenhower had denied any intervention, Miller in turn denied any such implication. He told The Associated Press: "When I called the general's aide, I found out that the general had received calls and that he was disturbed and that he had called Mr. Hagerty, registering his disturbance."

"Mr. Hagerty gave him his explanation of the show, and Mr. Hagerty said he was staying with the show. I do not know what the general's reaction was. My information was that the general was concerned."

Meanwhile, in New York, Eisenhower had been asked if he had intervened with Hagerty to head off the Hiss show. He replied: "No, I didn't request that of him. I called him on Sunday morning after I had received so many calls to find out what it was all about. I expressed amazement, but never in my life have I asked anybody not to report a story after they got it fully."

Hagerty, referring to The Buffalo Evening News version of Miller's remarks, said in a statement of his own: "Mr. Miller is reporting second hand and inaccurately a personal conversation between Gen. Eisenhower and myself."

No Attempt Made

"Gen. Eisenhower telephoned me at my home Sunday morning, said he had received conflicting rumors from friends about the Smith program. These rumors were that Hiss was going to be interviewed for a half hour on a program dealing with Dick Nixon's political career. He expressed astonishment, if this were so."

"I told him that this was not so and outlined the format of the program in which Hiss had only a small part. I told him of the others who were appearing on the program and that concluded the conversation."

"In view of Mr. Miller's statement I today have personally reviewed with Gen. Eisenhower our telephone conversation before releasing this statement."

The Smith referred to by Hagerty was Howard K. Smith, who served as commentator on the program.

Name Pilot For Next Space Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. Tuesday was named pilot for the next U.S. manned space flight, a one-day mission scheduled next April.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced selection of the Air Force major for the flight which will take him 18 times around the world.

Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first American to ride a rocket into space, was named Cooper's backup pilot. Shepard made a 15-minute suborbital space trip May 5, 1961.

Cooper, a native of Shawnee, Okla., was the standby pilot on the recent six-orbit flight of spaceman Walter M. Schirra Jr. Schirra's flight is the longest American manned-space mission to date.

Cooper is the only eligible member of the seven-man Mercury astronaut team who has not made a space flight.

Five of the astronauts have been rocketed into space. Donald K. Slayton was grounded earlier this year because of a heart flutter.

Cooper, 35-year-old Air Force major, said he was "very delighted" that I have been chosen. I've been working toward this goal for a long time."

The space agency recently named a team of nine new astronauts to participate, with the Mercury pilots, in the follow-on Gemini and Apollo programs.

Second Biggest In Peacetime:

Budget Heads For $7.8 Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration said Tuesday the federal budget is headed for a $7.8-billion deficit—the second largest in peacetime.

The figure is somewhat higher than officials had indicated earlier. And it was a far cry from the January forecast of a $500-million surplus.

A Budget Bureau announcement placed most of the responsibility for the sea of red ink on Congress, a sluggish economy, and the administration's own changes in tax policy.

Emphasized was an official view that the big deficit would not damage the economy.

"With the existing level of unemployment and unused plant capacity," the Budget Bureau said, "the deficit is neither inflationary nor dangerous to our balance of payments position."

Cuba had little impact on the revised estimates for the 1963 fiscal year that began July 1. The bureau said that if the situation does not worsen, the Cuban crisis will cost about $100 million. It termed this "the roughest kind of allowance."

Revenues for fiscal 1963 were put at $85.9 billion—$7.1 billion lower than the level foreseen when President Kennedy first sent the budget to Congress last January. The bureau said the sharp drop was due to "the slower-than-expected rate of economic recovery and changes in tax laws and regulations."

Record peacetime spending of $93.7 billion was predicted. This is $1.2 billion higher than the January forecast—an increase attributed to congressional changes in administration bills to boost postal rates and overhaul the farm program. Higher interest charges on a bigger-than-expected national debt also played a part, adding $400 million to the spending forecast.

Surprisingly, the revised figures showed no change in military outlays, still figured at $48.3 billion. The announcement said increases in Pentagon programs, including the costs of the Cuban blockade and related activities, were offset by shelving of the administration's Civil Defense legislation.

One Optimistic Note

On at least one count, the document struck a relatively optimistic note.

The bureau said the Gross National Product—the value of total output—is estimated now in the range of $54 billion for 1962. To achieve this, the total would have to rise by $8 billion, on an annual basis, in these last three months of the year. That would be the largest quarterly gain since the fall of 1961. A smaller increase presumably would mean a larger deficit.

Even at $54 billion, the Gross National Product would fall far short of the administration's January prediction of $570 billion. The 1962 forecast for personal income also was lowered, from $448 billion to $441 billion.

Still another measure of the economy's failure to meet administration goals was seen in the revised estimate of corporate profits for the year—$50.7 billion instead of $56.5 billion.

Will Seek Changes

The deficit now foreseen would compare with last year's deficit of $6.3 billion. It would be second only to the $12.4 billion peacetime deficit of fiscal 1959.

Tuesday's announcement revealed that the administration will ask Congress to offset most of the cuts made this year in Kennedy's requests for appropriations. Whereas the President sought appropriations of $90.4 billion, Congress voted $87.1 billion. The report said the administration will seek supplemental appropriations of $2.8 billion early next year.

The Budget Bureau estimated that the 1962 tax law, granting business and investment credit on outlays for modernization, would result in a revenue loss of about a billion dollars in fiscal 1963. It said the revenue cost of tax depreciation rules, announced by the Treasury in July, would be an additional billion.

The economy's relatively slow advance was blamed for a slash of $5.3 billion in the January estimate of $26.6 billion in corporate tax payments. The same reason was given for a downward revision of $1.8 billion in forecast receipts from individual income taxes, now put at $47.5 billion.

According to the announcement, Post Office Department spending will exceed January estimates by $541 million, chiefly because higher postal rates will go into effect Jan. 7 instead of last July 1, as Kennedy had asked.

Disaster Crews On Guam Begin Cleanup After Storm

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Guam began Tuesday the long, tragic job of clearing the debris left by Typhoon Karen, which killed 32 and injured hundreds, and damaged virtually every structure on this American defense stronghold.

Acting Gov. Manuel Guerrero described the four-hour blow as the worst disaster in the island's history. Damage far exceeded the destruction caused by assault bombardment and fighting in World War II, when the capital city of Agana was shot to pieces.

Thousands of people are homeless and are being quartered, 48 hours after the disaster, in churches, schools and other surviving buildings.

Practically Wiped Out

Seventeen postwar years of building up the island's economy and installations went down the drain in a matter of hours, beaten into wreckage by winds that reached a force estimated between 170 and 195 miles an hour. In pre-World War II days, except for the city of Agana and Navy installations at Apra harbor the island's other towns were simple native villages. Since then the United States has spent millions on buildings all over the island.

The six persons killed were island residents. There were no deaths among American military personnel. The only serious injury among Air Force or Navy people was a broken arm suffered by a woman trying to shield a child from flying glass.

Agana again was reduced to rubble, with its relatively new frame buildings splintered and strewn widely.

Waves up to 10 feet high followed the typhoon. They drove boats ashore and washed debris far inland. All power and water facilities were knocked out. Emergency crews have been working around the clock trying to restore some electric service and water pumping stations.

Guerrero estimated it would take four months to complete repairs of damage to the utilities. The massive typhoon hit Guam Sunday night with such violence that no official measure of the wind's intensity was made possible.

Reinforced concrete houses at Anderson Air Force Base, on the extreme northern tip of the island, were damaged severely.

India To Expand Forces By Training

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India announced plans Tuesday for expansion of its armed forces in the undeclared war against Red China, with military training for every able-bodied man.

Home guard units will be set up in all districts bordering Tibet, the base of the Communist Chinese Himalayan offensive, and defenses will be organized on a nationwide basis. Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told Parliament.

Shastri said Prime Minister Nehru's government decided to coordinate the project.

Communist China, he said, "has flooded the entire border of India with soldiers." The Red Chinese, like the Indians, have reinforced their lines in the lull that followed a late October push which won the Red Chinese 2,000 square miles of territory. Peiping at that time was estimated to have up to 50,000 troops in action.

The home minister said the enemy was dangerous and warned India's people against any "complacency or relaxation."

With snow limiting military activity on parts of the mountain front, a government spokesman reported Indian patrols were uneventful.

The nation prepared to celebrate Nehru's 73rd birthday Wednesday. Donations of gold poured in to give him his weight in that precious metal for the war effort.

GIRL AND PUP HAVE 'SWELL' TIME—Eight-year-old Sheila Menkins of Phoenixville, Pa., got the mumps which isn't unusual for a youngster. But then her pet Manchester pup contracted mumps also. A veterinarian said the dog had swollen neck and definite symptoms of mumps. He said it was not too common for dogs to contract mumps although it has occurred in the past. (AP Wirephoto)

Workers Blamed For Ballot Rejects

THE Monroe County Board of Elections yesterday blamed unformed party workers for the rejection of about 15 applications for absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 general election.

The board issued a formal statement "for the purpose of clarifying unfounded rumors being circulated in the county in relation to absentee ballots and the requests for ballots."

"The statement said: 'A check of requests for applications for absentee ballots that were rejected numbered 14, all of which were received later than the date fixed by law to be in the hands of the board — that date being Oct. 30, 1962.'

"Fifteen formal applications for ballot were received in the board's office after Oct. 30, and under the law of Pennsylvania, the applications were refused, the law specifically stating that such applications were void."

Commenting on the party workers, the statement said:

"A number of political workers were actively engaged in canvassing the county for the purpose of securing absentee ballots and, unfortunately, most of those engaged in such activities were unfamiliar with the law and made little or no effort to ascertain what was required in order to secure an absentee ballot."

"Where such workers came to the courthouse, an employee of the board endeavored to instruct such worker as to actually what to do in order to comply with the law; other workers laboring under the impression that they were well informed made no effort to correct their errors and above all failed to advise the voters that the request for applications should be in the board's office prior to Oct. 30."

Effort Should Be Made

"Workers for both political parties should have firmly fixed in their minds that all applications for ballots should be in the board's office at least one week prior to the election date."

The board announced that at 10 a.m. Thursday it will open the voting machine in Polk Township at Kresgeville and at 11:30 a.m. the same day, the voting machine at Tobyhanna for the purpose of having election officials correct erroneous returns.

The board said Patrick W. Unangst, Republican county chairman; David Price, Democratic county chairman; Van D. Yetter, Jr., and Gerald A. Snyder, candidates for the State House of Representatives, and District Atty. James R. Marsh, have all been notified and may be present when the machines are opened.

The board said it will start the canvass of absentee and military ballots at 10 a.m., Friday in the courthouse and added:

"The law provides that each political party may designate a representative at this count and candidates involved may do likewise. The policy of the board, however, has always been to permit those who were interested to be present; at all times a member of the press has been present."

New Franc Coming Of Age

PARIS (AP) — France's new franc is coming of age. It was introduced two years ago to replace 100 of the old francs to give more prestige to the money by reducing the number of zeros on bills and coins. Now, the government says, the "new" will soon be dropped. Value remains at about 20 U.S. cents.

Army Reserves Search For Plane

DUBOIS, Pa. (AP)—Army Reserve units were dispatched to a state park area in Clearfield County Tuesday to search for a plane missing for three days with four men aboard.

The units were sent from DuBois after pilot Roberta Sabbatto of Clearfield reported seeing what she thought were charred ruins of a plane in a burned out section of Elliott State Park between Clearfield and Penfield.

Miss Sabbatto took part in the air search for the plane missing since Saturday night. The second day of the air search was called off as darkness set in.

The planes and volunteer ground teams had been concentrating in the rugged mountains of eastern Elk County and western Cameron County. The search was intensified there after residents reported hearing a low-flying plane Saturday night and seeing silvery objects in ravines.

The four men who went to Ithaca, N.Y., in the plane last week-end are pilot William Lane, William Milliren, Eugene Hicks and Matthew Smith, all from the DuBois area. They went to Ithaca to see the Penn-Cornell freshman football game.

The plane last was seen when it took off from Ithaca bound for the DuBois-Jefferson County Airport.

Student, 14, Hurt Fatally

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — Dennis Beury, 14-year-old seventh grade student of Sunbury Junior High School, was injured fatally Tuesday in an accident during gym class.

Jack Loudenberg, supervisor, said the class was engaged in a tumbling exercise when Dennis struck his head on the floor during a forward roll.

huge personal taxes. Their payments, in the past fiscal year, came to approximately $13,836,000, according to an unofficial estimate based on Treasury Department figures.

Along with other taxpayers throughout the country, they have been looking forward to a reduction next year.

Current opinion is that some cut will be proposed by the Administration. How large it will be will depend on the state of the economy and the size of the 1964 budget.

Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges has come out for a slash in taxes right after the first of the year, without waiting for a broad tax reform bill, which might take a long time.

Many Congressmen have been surprised by the attitude of their constituents on the subject. They are finding that the homelike, much as they want and need tax relief, feel that it would be irresponsible to do this if it meant adding to the national deficit and debt.

Non-Defense

They want any adjustment to be accompanied by a cut in Federal spending for non-defense purposes.

Of the $13,936,000 in individual income taxes paid by Monroe County residents in the year, over $5,714,000 is being used for domestic spending and the rest for national defense. This is based on a study just released by the Tax Foundation.

The domestic spending covers benefits for agriculture, commerce, veterans, education, health and welfare, labor, space research, housing and the like. The current bill for these items is $26 billion, 126 per cent higher than it was 8 years ago.

Defense costs, by contrast, have gone up only 14 per cent in the 8 years, says the Tax Foundation.

National Debt Grows

Because of our deficit spending, year after year, the national debt has grown to more than $298 billion, it notes.

Monroe County's share of this debt, which averages $1,616 for every man, woman and child in the country, amounts to $65,933,000.

$234,463.08 Payment To Stroud Union

Record Harrisburg Bureau HARRISBURG — A $234,463.08 school subsidy payment has been forwarded to Stroud Union School District, the State Treasurer's Office said yesterday.

The Stroud Union state aid payment is part of $339,289.90 due to third-class school districts in Monroe County. The other district is East Stroudsburg Borough which has been forwarded $104,826.82.

The payments represent the first semi-annual state reimbursement for the past school year now due Pennsylvania's third-class school districts. Basically the state aid is for local teacher pay subsidies. Reimbursements to fourth class school districts in the county were made last month.

Area School Board Airs Bus Problems

BANGOR—A review of the problems being faced by bus operators of the Bangor Borough School buses was held recently at the regular meeting of the Bangor Board of Education. William Baskwill, president, had charge of the meeting. The session discussed all matters on transportation.

The board also agreed to supply secretary Merle W. Mabius with additional clerical help to meet the demands now being placed on his office due to the expansion of the duties.

The board granted request of one local taxpayer for exoneration from further payment of taxes.

Mrs. Charlotte Hough, treasurer, reported a balance of $67,553.64 in the funds of the district. Bills amounting to $36,173.98 were approved for payment.

Attending the meeting were Charles E. Williams, Clair Peiffer, Mrs. Hough, R. Kenneth Ace, W. John Heard, Baskwill and Mabius.

Westinghouse Gets Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP) —Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced Tuesday it has been awarded a contract for the first two ships to be built in the United States with automated engine room control.

Westinghouse said the contract was awarded by Gibbs Shipyard, Inc., of Jacksonville, Fla. Gibbs president Edwin Fletcher said his firm will build two oceanographic survey ships for use by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. Construction of the first ship will be started immediately.

The contract with Westinghouse covers an electrical equipment package for the propulsion and power systems and automated engine room control systems for the ships.

Christmas Seal Drive Started

MONROE County's fall landscape may have lost its color but six area lawns will be brightened considerably by the presence in each of a brilliant red, double-barred cross standing six feet tall. These crosses are the trademark of the National Tuberculosis Association and their placement on the lawns of the County's four major schools marks the opening of the Monroe County 1962 Christmas Seal Campaign.

The students of the Vocational Departments in the Pocono Mountains Jointure, the Pleasant Valley Schools, East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools and Stroud Union have turned their skills to making the crosses and their Art Departments have created posters to compliment each cross.

Locations of the crosses are at East Stroudsburg High School and at the triangle on the green between Brown and Washington Sts. by the bridge; at Stroudsburg High School and at Pleasant Valley School. Also in Mt. Pocono at the intersection of Routes 611 and 194 and in Mountainhome where Route 191 meets Route 390.

The "life-sized" double-barred crosses appear in response to a request from the local Board's Seal Sale Committee to the school principals and are being used instead of billboard advertising. They have been constructed in accordance with NTA specifications and all lumber was donated.

The cross, a lasting symbol of the National Tuberculosis Assn., appears on every Christmas Seal. These seals are used throughout the nation during the entire holiday season to decorate Christmas mail, gifts and parcels.

This week, Christmas Seals will be delivered by mail to every home in Monroe County. Seal sales represent the organization's only drive and sole means of support.

FBI Enters Library Theft

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) —The FBI was advised Tuesday that the $50,000 coin collection theft from Harry S. Tuman Library comes under federal jurisdiction.

Russell Millin, U.S. district attorney, said the burglary violated a federal statute against damage to government property.

Burglars broke into the library early Monday morning. The 44 coins, one of virtually every coin minted under the 35 American presidents, were loaned to the library by John W. Snyder, former secretary of the Treasury.

Wind Gap Man Placed On Probation

EASTON — Gerald V. Nesfeder, 154 Water St., Wind Gap, was placed on three years probation yesterday by President Judge William G. Barthold on charges of involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving which stemmed from an Aug. 24 traffic accident in which Nesfeder's four-year-old son, Thomas, was killed.

Nesfeder pleaded guilty Monday. The case was one of many which came before the Northampton County Court in the November criminal session which started yesterday.

The court deferred imposition of sentence and ordered Nesfeder to pay the costs. The three-year probation period was conditioned partly on Nesfeder's giving up completely the use of intoxicants.

Mrs. Nesfeder appeared in court today with her husband and agreed also to abstain from use of alcohol.

Nesfeder was driving a dump truck in Wind Gap when the accident happened. His wife and three other children were in the truck with him. Thomas was riding in the rear.

Nesfeder said in court he started drinking at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and consumed about 20 glasses of beer. The accident happened shortly after 7 p.m.

About $1,000 damage was done to the truck and a house which the truck hit.

Judge Barthold asked Nesfeder if he would submit voluntarily to a court order placing him on probation. The taking of one drink would be considered a violation of the probation, Barthold said, and he would be returned to the court for sentencing.

Dr. E. R. Brumbagh, Pen Argyl testifying for Nesfeder, said the man was needed for the support of his two other children and his wife.

Creek House Gutted

THE WALL and partition of a house owned by East Stroudsburg State College near Marshalls Creek was damaged by fire about 1:10 a.m. yesterday.

An unidentified student caretaker discovered the blaze and tried to extinguish it before driving three miles to telephone the Marshalls Creek Volunteer Fire Co. Firemen were at the scene for about an hour.

The blaze was blamed on an overheated stove pipe.

Gouldsboro Firemen To Screen Truck

GOULDSBORO Fire Chief Stanley Wreski has called a special meeting of Gouldsboro Fire Co. for tonight at 8 in the fire house to consider authorizing action on the part of the apparatus committee in connection with proposed purchase of a used fire truck.

Chief Wreski said the committee has obtained an option on purchase of a used post-World War II Seagraves pumper from a Maryland community after studying the company's needs and its potential to buy a new or used unit.

The used Seagraves pumper, with a 750-gallon per minute rating and good booster tank capacity, is reported in very fine condition. If purchased, it would replace the present No. 2 truck which is in need of extensive and expensive repairs.

Court Declines Radar Appeal

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Superior Court ruled Tuesday it has no jurisdiction to act on an appeal of a speeding conviction under the state radar act. The case was handed up to the State Supreme Court.

The court declined to hear an appeal of William L. Bartley of Irwin R. D. 4 who was convicted of speeding his tractor-trailer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in Allegheny County on Sept. 17, 1961. The truck was clocked by radar.

Counsel for Bartley, A. A. Bluestone, said police failed to give credible evidence that it was Bartley's truck that registered the excessive speed on radar.

Bluestone also said the rig was clocked for just an instant and not for at least one-quarter of a mile as required by law.

Commonwealth attorneys and Bluestone said they felt Superior Court had jurisdiction to hear the appeal, but the court ruled that the Supreme Court had assumed jurisdiction in summary conviction cases such as Bartley's.

Pike-Wayne Tavern Unit Meets Sunday

PIKE-WAYNE Tavern Association will meet Sunday at 4 p.m. at Nickies Hotel, Matamoras with Joseph Oppelt, Newfoundland hotel operator, presiding.

Resort, hotel and tavern licenses in the two-county area have been invited. Officers will be nominated. Elections will be next month.

A report will be submitted by the recent 10th anniversary banquet and program, which was attended by 400 members and guests.

A membership drive will be organized and the 1963 legislative program will be mapped.

Following the business session, the group will attend a luncheon with Edmund Nickies as host.

Turnpike Crash Kills Driver

AMBLER, Pa. (AP) — Two compact cars smashed head-on at the Fort Washington Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike yesterday, killing the driver of one and seriously injuring the driver of the other.

State Trooper Charles Chubbuck of the Plymouth Meeting barracks said the injured man was Robert B. Smith, 32, Trevoise. He was admitted to Montgomery Hospital, Norristown.

Chubbuck said the dead man was a member of the Air Force, but his base at Willow Grove Naval Air Station had requested his identity not be released pending notification of next of kin.

Clearer Weather Is Seen For Area Next Few Days

CLEARING and colder conditions prevailed last night as a high pressure system moved into the region.

Today will be generally fair and somewhat warmer.

Snow flurries yesterday morning produced slippery spots along many area highways, and motorists proceeded with caution.

In most sections the snow was melting as it fell, but much of the Stroudsburg thruway and bridge surfaces on other roads were reported remaining slippery.

Following last night's low of

from 24 to 30 degrees, the mercury is expected to reach the high 40s today.

Meteorologist Richard E. Simmermacher reported only a trace of precipitation was noted at the weather bureau yesterday.

Yesterday's high of 42 degrees combined with a low of 29 early this morning for an average of 35.5. Normal for the date is 41. Precipitation for November thus far has totaled 1.76 inches — slightly above normal.

Teenage Study Is Astonishing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A study of youthful drinking habits suggests that "teen-agers do less damage when drinking than when sober," a survey report said yesterday.

But the report promptly added: "No one, however, would prescribe such a remedy to our youths' problems. This matter needs to be examined further."

The survey was commissioned by a legislative committee that is studying whether New York State should raise from 18 to 21 the legal age at which youths may purchase alcoholic beverages.

Sen. John J. Marchi, R-Staton

Island, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Alcoholic Beverage Control, released the report.

Marchi did not indicate what the committee's ultimate recommendation would be. The committee will report by Dec. 15. The tenor of the survey report was that the 18-year minimum had very little effect on drinking habits of teen-agers.

BIGGEST REACH

99 Million Consumers Read a Daily Newspaper Each Weekday

These readers make up the largest audience available to any advertiser in any medium. A recent study* of this national newspaper audience shows that it includes 80 per cent of all men and women over 21...and 72 per cent of all teen-agers, age 15 and over. This huge and consistent readership can be depended upon by advertisers because the daily newspaper is a habit with most people...an established part of their everyday lives. For the national advertiser, this amounts to almost the total market for any product. For the local advertiser, this massive readership symbolizes the local reach of his own local newspaper—into almost 9 out of 10 homes every day. No matter what the product or service an advertiser wants to sell, more people can read about it in the pages of the daily newspaper.

Smith Brings Back Two Ribbons From Horse Show

NEWFOUNDLAND — Mike Smith and "Patches" brought back two white ribbons from the State 4-H Horse Show in Harrisburg, the only winners among nine representatives of Wayne County in the meet.

Mike placed fourth in bareback equitation and trail class in the State Show, competing with 320 other 4-Hers for the 21 trophies. He and Susan Smith, Michael

N'fld Area Chest Drive Under Way

NEWFOUNDLAND — The annual Community Chest drive for funds for the Salvation Army, Crippled Children (Easter Seals), Junior Red Cross, March of Dimes, and Christmas Seals, is under way at Southern Wayne Joint School under the sponsorship of the Student Council.

An appeal to parents to contribute to the drive was issued this week by Donna Bartleson, president of the council. She noted that in the year 1954-55, the group collected $300, whereas last year's total was $133. She urged a "concerted effort to support the drive by donating generously."

Bloodmobile To Visit In Mountains

NEWFOUNDLAND — The Red Cross Bloodmobile, which comes to Newfoundland every other year, will arrive here at the Moravian Church on November 20, and will be in operation from 3 to 7 p.m.

"Give thanks by giving blood" urges Willis Gilpin, president of the Rotary Club, which is spearheading the bloodmobile visit to this area.

Reorders 20 Lashes Sentence

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Judge Stewart Lynch Tuesday reinstated a sentence of 20 lashes at the whipping post for Franklin W. Cannon Jr., 20, of Dover, after finding him guilty of violating probation.

Cannon originally drew the 20-lash sentence, as well as three years in jail, after his grand larceny conviction last December. At that time, however, Judge Lynch suspended the sentence and placed him on five-year probation.

Cannon was arrested last April 13 by state police on a petty larceny charge.

There has not been a public whipping in Delaware since 1952. The law—on the books since Colonial days — remained in effect, however.

Lynch, before imposing sentence Tuesday, said he visited Cannon four times after the original sentence.

"This boy just doesn't seem to respond," said the judge. "I don't know if he is laughing up his sleeve at us."

Lattimore Named To Directorship

LEEDS, England (AP) — Prof. Owen B. Lattimore, a former U.S. State Department specialist on Far East Affairs, yesterday was named director of Chinese studies at Leeds University. Lattimore was the center of controversy in the early 1950s. He was indicted in 1952 on charges that he lied before a Senate committee in denying he had been a "sympathizer and promoter of communism," but the charges later were dropped.

Mt. Pocono Fire Co. Aux. will meet at the firehall at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, Nov. 13. There will be election of officers. Mrs. George Bean will preside.

The Mt. Pocono branch of the Y.M.C.A. have planned a recreation night for adult male members, Wednesday night, November 14, at 9 o'clock. It will be held in the Y rooms at the firehall where there are facilities for basketball, ping pong and pool.

Mrs. Robert Besecker and Mrs. John Sutton, recently visited Mrs. Rosa Clauson at her home, Marshalls Creek.

Campbell and Dale Stevens represented the Newfoundland Boots and Saddles Horse and Pony Club, all having won in the District meet earlier this Fall.

This was Mike's and Patches' second appearance in the State Show. Two years ago, they were entered, but Patches, unused to appearing in an indoor arena, refused to cooperate, and Mike came home without any ribbons. This year, competing against the finest in horseflesh and the tops in young riders in the State, he fared much better.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen Stevens, Maria and Donna Stevens, and Harry and Martha Campbell accompanied the local entrants to Harrisburg.

Books Come To Life At South Wayne

Readings and a film were presented by Connie Keiter, Susan Akers, Inger Madsen, Yvonne Rochfort, Donn Gross, Terry Baughan, Bob Grimm, Gloria Bartleson, Shirley Smith, Mary Ann Rose, Michael Smith, Donna Bartleson, Bliss Arneberg and Joan Bancroft.

Adding to the interest in the program was the appearance of "Lucky," a collie owned by Donn Gross. "Lucky," who apparently couldn't read, missed his cue entirely when he was supposed to be on stage to illustrate a book, and then made up for it by speaking up during two other parts of the program.

Not Too Late To Force Some Bulbs

NOVEMBER is not too late to plan on bringing spring into the house in February.

Sounds impossible? Not at all, says Monroe County Agent John Withrow. Select a few bulbs and set them out now, and you'll be able to bring them into the house in mid-winter and watch them unfold their colorful blooms in the living room.

But, Withrow warns, you must plant the bulbs now, or at least very soon, because they need a period of cold weather outdoors to make them set their roots and develop new shoots.

He suggests getting some hyacinth, daffodil and tulip bulbs. Put them in pots, and set the pots out in the garden for about 10 weeks. When the bulbs have an inch or two of new shoots, they are ready to come into the house and brighten dull winter days.

Loses Appeal To Halt Work On N-Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawrence W. Goldberg, a Philadelphia printer who said he feared the effects of atomic waste, lost his fight Tuesday to halt construction of a nuclear power reactor at Peach Bottom, Pa.

The U.S. Supreme Court refused to rule on any appeal from the dismissal of his petition by the U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia.

The nuclear power plant is already under construction at Peach Bottom, in York County, about 60 miles from Philadelphia. The Atomic Energy Commission granted a permit to the Philadelphia Electric Co.

Goldberg contended in his petition that the plant would threaten his life and health and the welfare of others living within 70 miles of the plant. He also alleged violation of antitrust laws.

His appeals contended that the AEC had not given him an adequate hearing "to present testimony on the issue of whether the reactor will be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public."

Air Force Seeking Enlistments

AIR FORCE manpower needs are continuing to climb, and, despite the unusually large number of enlistments obtained over the past few months, there is still no waiting and unlimited openings in the Electronics and Mechanical career fields reports M Sgt. Joseph A. Lekaunas of the U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office, Scranton.

In fact, noted the sergeant, recent moves by the Air Force to streamline the enlistment process have actually resulted in a speed-up.

Sgt. Lekaunas anticipates that the simplifying of enlistment procedures will result in a pronounced increase in enlistments, and that a waiting list may yet result. But, at present, there is no prolonged waiting period for those who qualify. Also, they may still be tested and qualify prior to enlistment without obligation.

Sgt. Lekaunas can be contacted at the Stroudsburg Post Office every Tuesday morning and he will schedule aptitude testing appointments upon request. Tests are administered every Friday morning at 9:30 a.m. in Scranton, and on Tuesdays when requested in Stroudsburg Post Office.

Gentlemen,

I agree with your ads. Most wives look at the Volkswagen Station Wagon and say, "Absolutely not - it's too silly looking"

But I agreed to go to the local VW showroom and take a spin. "It's a monster" was my first reaction. "I'll never be able to drive it" was my second. But I did drive it - all 105 pounds of me - with no trouble at all! I can see out in all directions and I don't have a right tender to worry about.

We bought it and I must confess it's even less trouble than our dear, reliable VW Sedan.

CLASS PLAY

ON FRIDAY and Saturday evening, November 16 and 17, the residents of the West End are in for a treat when the Senior Class of the P.V.H.S. will present a comedy entitled "We Shook the Family Tree" in the High School auditorium.

Hildegard is doing her best to attract the attention of a Senior boy so she will have a date for the School Dance. Fortunately she wins the school debate with her impassioned plea against drinking but instead of attracting the attention of senior boys through her brilliance she merely convinces everyone that her dad must be a drunkard. Turning to her mother for help who also thinks that no date for her daughter to the School Dance would forecast spinsterhood for her daughter arranges a date for Hildegard the boy she called is

FIFTH graders of Tobyhanna Township Elementary Center got a first-hand taste of election excitement this year as the class sponsored their classroom elections while studying the political network of our democracy. Ten youthful candidates were nominated and carried on an intense campaign of speeches, posters, and discussions for two weeks.

Three political parties — the Star-liners, Blue Birds, and Blue Devils — were formed and the political parties of the United States and their history studied.

The campaign was climaxed with a last minute plea by the ten year old candidates and the parade to the polls. When all the lots were cast Mr. David Guthrie served as election judge and tabulated the results.

Renee Court, petite, freckle-faced brunette, was elected to preside over the class and carried to victory with her entire slate of Star-liners, Jack Dyson as vice-president and Donna Marshall as secretary. Richard Bailey and Jerry Davis, unsuccessful candidates for president, later won positions on the class council.

Election Day included not only the homeroom voting but also a trip to the Pocono Pines polls where the use of voting machines was observed. The class made use of a model machine at the polls to familiarize themselves with the modern mode of voting.

Samuel Lee is principal of the Tobyhanna Township Center and George Tensa is the fifth-grade instructor. James Davenport, supervisor of elementary education at Pocono Mountain Joint Schools, accompanied the class on their tour of the polls.

Peace Corps Seeks Senior Citizens

THE Peace Corps has received requests for up to 1,500 Volunteers for assignments that can be filled by men and women who have recently retired, or are contemplating early retirement. Training will soon begin for projects in 40 countries throughout Asia, Africa and Latin America. Those selected should have skills or special ability in one or more of the following occupational groups:

1. Teachers — On elementary, secondary or college levels.
2. Health Workers — Doctors, dentists, nurses (registered and practical), laboratory technicians, sanitarians, plumbers, well drillers, etc.

3. Community Development Workers — Agriculturalists (all kinds), diesel and auto mechanics, electricians, building trades, 4-H club leaders, radio and TV mechanics, surveyors, road builders, irrigation specialists, etc.

4. Other Professional Workers — Engineers (all kinds), co-op and or building and loan organizers, foresters, judges, lawyers, social workers, town planners, entomologists, etc.

These assignments offer a new lease on life, an opportunity to give service where it is badly needed. The work is demanding but nothing that a person in good health cannot handle. The Peace Corps pays for two to four months training and for travel, housing, food, clothing, medical care and incidentals. In addition to each retiree's usual pension, Volunteers will receive a termination allowance for each month of successful service. This amounts to approximately $1,800 upon completion of two years service. Married couples without dependent children are eligible if both can serve in the same project.

If you have a skill or special ability to offer, write for the folder, "Senior Citizens and the Peace Corps" and for a Peace Corps Volunteer Questionnaire to Peace Corps, Senior Manpower Recruitment, Washington 25 D. C. Please mention the trade, vocation or profession in which you are skilled.

Engineers Society To Tour Plant

THE American Society of Tool & Manufacturing Engineers, Keystone Chapter 101 of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre area have scheduled a plant tour at Bendix Corporation, Montrose Division, South Montrose, Pa., Tuesday night, Nov. 20.

Prior to the tour a dinner meeting will be held in the Prince Hotel, Tunkhannock, at 6:30 p.m. Edward Barrows, chapter chairman, will preside at a short business meeting.

The group will then meet at Bendix, South Montrose Plant at 7:45 p.m. where Douglas Hall, plant manager, will give a talk on the history of Bendix, Montrose Division.

The guests will be divided into groups and conducted on a tour of the manufacturing operations. Arrangements for the tour were made with R. O. Thrasher, Director of Industrial Relations, and Mr. Ralph Weidner of the Personnel Department. Mr. H. Hanley is Factory Manager.

Churches Down Chinese Invasion

GENEVA (AP) — The World Council of Churches yesterday condemned Chinese invasion of India and called for prompt negotiations or arbitration to settle the border dispute. The World Council, comprised of nearly all the world's Protestant and Orthodox Christian churches, also assured India's Christians of its "profound sympathy" and expressed hope "a just and peaceful settlement may be reached."

Ships Are Idle

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Merchant Marine Ministry says Greek-owned ships totaling more than 1.7 million tons have been idled because of competition from newer, faster freighters charging lower rates.

The Gorsedd is a Welsh society supposedly modeled after the ancient Druids. Actually the rites and robes were devised in the late 18th Century by Iolo Morganwg, a notorious forger of manuscripts. Applicants for the Gorsedd must pass tests in Welsh language, literature and music.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

It was a good day for singing the blues — but that isn't what Dr. Marshall and Edith Metzgar have been doing these days, not with two new grandchildren within a month of each other. And Ted's new daughter was born on Dr. Marshall's own birthday.

It was also a good day for a card party and from all reports the luncheon and card party at the Episcopal parish house was a honey — and the fashion show was almost superfluous with all the fine fashions revolving around the card tables.

Which reminds me of a true story about four women who pride themselves somewhat on their bridge who played a whole afternoon with one of the decks containing only 48 cards. Impossible, everyone else agrees, smilingly pointing out that anyone should notice holding only 12 cards, or that two spades and two diamonds never were played, or that four hearts could be set by winning only three tricks. Well, they didn't notice, and at least three of the players are observant, well-organized individuals.

And speaking of stories, even the jokes are getting so complicated that you need higher mathematics to understand them. Like the latest one now sweeping intellectual circles about how to prove the Pythagorean proposition.

In a condensed and expurgated version, you have three squaws and their paposes. One squaw puts her papose on a buffalo hide, the second puts her papose on a deer hide but the third puts her twin paposes on a hippopotamus hide.

Which, obviously, proves that "The squaw on the hippopotamus equals the sons of the squaws on the other two hides."

And don't think I didn't have to do some research to dig up the original of that theorem. At the same time I was doing cross-word puzzle research on Catherine II's favorite. All this work for recreation. Maybe I'd better take up Dick and Jane Riddles and Pounce.

The Baby's Named!

THE DAILY RECORD congratulates the parents and introduces to its readers the following new babies:

Michael Robert Metzgar

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Metzgar, of 329 Wilson Ave., West Collingswood Heights, N. J., announce the birth of their first child, a son on Nov. 8, at the General Hospital of Monroe County. He weighed 9 pounds 13 ounces and has been named Michael Robert.

Mrs. Metzgar is the former Mary Curran daughter of Mrs. Helen Curran of 40 Grant Ave., West Collingswood Heights, N.J. Paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Metzgar, of 39 North Seventh St., Stroudsburg.

Kara Lauth Metzgar

Dr. and Mrs. Marshall T. Metzgar, of 1409 Werner Park, Campbell, Ky., announce the birth of a daughter, Kara Lauth, on Oct. 9 at the base hospital at Fort Campbell, where Dr. Metzgar is serving in the Medical Corps with the rank of captain.

They have an older daughter, Amy Jennings, 19 months old. Paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Metzgar, 39 North Seventh St., Stroudsburg. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Miller, of 197 West Greenwood Ave., Lansdowne.

Bridget Anne Kurts

John and Joyce Kurts, of Bangor RD 1, announce the birth of a daughter, Bridget Anne, on Nov. 9 at the General Hospital. She weighed 8 pounds, 3 1/2 ounces.

They have two older children, Cassandra Lee, 13 and Guy Jeffrey, 8. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Loring Hill, Bangor RD 2 and Milton T. Ace, Nazareth.

Andrew John Shumaker

Their fourth son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shumaker, of Cresco RD 1, on Nov. 10 at the General Hospital. He weighed 8 pounds 2 ounces and has been named Andrew John.

Older boys are Todd, 10; Paul, 6; and Robert, 2.

Mrs. Shumaker is the former Meg Charnok, daughter of Mrs. Jane Charnok of San Diego, Cal. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. Jay Shumaker of Cresco RD 1.

Miss Frailey Is Bride Of D.E. Kress

Miss Melva Marie Frailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frailey Sr. of Stroudsburg RD 3 was married on Nov. 10 at 2 o'clock in St. Mark's United Church of Christ, Appenzell, to Donald Eugene Kress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kress of Sciota.

Rev. Elmer G. Meissner performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Carol Ann Frailey of Stroudsburg RD 3. The bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace with a shoulder-length veil.

Gordon Haney of Sciota served as his brother-in-law's best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Harold and Robert Frailey. Miss Linda Paul was organist. The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of blue jersey. The bridegroom's mother wore plum crepe.

A reception for 250 guests was held at the Tannersville Fire Hall which was decorated with white wedding bells and streamers. The bride attended Pocono High School and is employed at the Cherry Valley Nursing Home. Her husband, a graduate of Stroud Union High School, is employed by Blue Coach Lines. They will make their home in Saylorsburg.

Den Mothers, New Cubs Swell Pack 104

The largest number of new Den Mothers and of new Cubs have swelled the ranks of Cub Pack 104 which will meet on Thursday night at St. John's Lutheran Church.

At the October meeting Cubmaster William Yost inducted seven Den Mothers: Mrs. Joan Staples, Mrs. Freda Smith, Mrs. Joan Reinhold, Mrs. Betty Snyder, Mrs. Lois Slack, Mrs. Arwilda Chioda and Mrs. Clare Parker.

The Cubmaster also presented a Wolf badge to Michael Reinhold; a Bear badge to David Pfeiffer; a Gold Arrow point to David Pfeiffer; and a Denner's badge to Robert Jacobs.

The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Marion Pfeiffer's Den 3. The various dens demonstrated their work on the theme "2000 A.D.," showing rockets and space suits.

How Good Is PE Program In Grades?

The views of educators, school board members and taxpayers on the place of physical education in the elementary school will be aired at the November meeting of Elementary Parent-Teachers Assn. of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools.

The meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 at the J. M. Hill School. Panelists are Robert Wright, Dr. Richard Luce and John Lambert. The questions they have been asked to discuss are:

1. Is the amount of time now spent on physical education of any value in the future development of the child?
2. Could this time be more profitably spent on the Three R's?
3. If a more effective program is needed what are the specific requirements of this program?
4. Can the school district afford the changes?
5. Should grade school physical education be used as a primer for competitive high school sports?

Anna Logan Calendars Are On Call

Any members of the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital who did not receive the birthday calendars at the meeting on Monday night may call any member of the committee: Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, Mrs. W. E. Andrew or Mrs. Walter McClelland.

In the absence of the committee, the calendars were distributed at the meeting by Mrs. Elwood Hintze and Mrs. Horace Butler. Mrs. James Turnback of New Brunswick, N. J., was a guest at the meeting. Following the work session refreshments were served by Mrs. William Simon, Mrs. A. J. Harlacher, Mrs. Milo Kresge, Mrs. Howard Flieger Jr. and Mrs. Nelson Beers.

Centerpiece was a glass cornucopia filled with fruit, carrying out Thanksgiving theme.

Clearview PTA Oppose School Act

About 200 parents attended the open house sponsored by the Clearview Parent-Teachers Assn. on Monday night at the school.

At the business meeting a lively discussion developed on the school reorganization Act 561, and the PTA voted to send a letter to the president of the Monroe County Council of PTA stating their opposition to Act 561 until it had been further studied, clarified and strengthened.

The controversial measure will be discussed at the meeting of the Monroe County PTA Council to be held at the Tannersville school on Nov. 28 at 8 p.m. when the Clearview PTA will be represented. It was also announced that a speaker from Harrisburg had been invited to speak on the subject at a meeting of the League of Women Voters.

The PTA opened with the PTA prayer led by Mrs. Mae Jean Saunders. Veterans Day was observed by a tribute to the men whose sacrifices preserved freedom.

Here Rubin introduced the principal Ralph Knauf who spoke briefly before the parents separated to meet in the individual classrooms with their children's teachers who presented an outline of the year's school program.

The Parents re-assembled in the cafeteria where refreshments were served. Mrs. Janet Pansy and Mrs. Joyce Stoddard are hostess chairmen.

Circle Three Thurs.

Circle Three of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Edward Staples at 7:30 p. m. Members are asked to bring unwrapped Christmas gifts to be sent to the Deaconess Home.

PTA Open House

Brodheadsville — Open House has been planned by the Chestnut Hill Elementary Parent-Teachers Assn. for Thursday night at 7:30 at the Pleasant Valley School.

Volunteers Staff Carts At Hospital

At a "get-acquainted" meeting of the General Hospital Aux. yesterday afternoon at the Rake Home, Middle Smithfield, as the guests of Mrs. Helen Hansen, members wore identification tags presented to them by Mrs. Carl Wagner.

Miss Ellen Huffman reported on the Hospitality Shop at the hospital and Mrs. R. Kelsey reported on the hospitality carts which are serviced by the Auxiliary members. Mrs. George Marsh was named vice chairman of that committee and the 26 volunteers who take the carts around to the patients' rooms were introduced.

Mrs. Thomas McCall reported on the sale of candy for the benefit of the hospital expansion fund. Mrs. Thomas Breitwieser gave a detailed report of the recent meeting of the Northeast Assn. of Hospital Aux. of Pennsylvania held at the Dallas Country Club.

Mrs. Nathan Myer appealed to members to support the blood program by giving blood at either of the next two visits of the Red Cross bloodmobile; on Nov. 14 from 9:45 to 3:45 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church or on Dec. 10 at a place to be announced.

Christmas plans of the auxiliary include the purchase of Christmas trees for the hospital and a Christmas program starring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irwin to be held Dec. 11, beginning promptly at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. E. H. Wyckoff, Thomas St., Stroudsburg.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Mrs. John Dunkelberger, a member of the auxiliary.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. John Hansen, Mrs. George Marsh, Mrs. Carl Adelman, Mrs. William Gorman, Mrs. Elmer Christine, Mrs. Carl Wagner, Mrs. Vernon Eilenberger, Mrs. Russell Imbt Sr., and Mrs. George Rung. Miss Charlotte Houston, of Hazleton, was a guest.

William Hay Honored On 74th Birthday

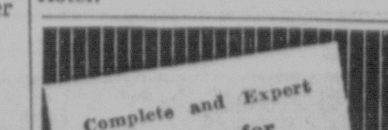

Bushkill — William Hay, who was 74 years old on Armistice Day, was the guest of honor at a party given by his wife on Saturday night.

A buffet dinner was served climaxing with two birthday cakes, one for Mr. Hay and one for Mrs. Lloyd Weaver whose birthday fell on Monday.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Green, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Weaver, Miss Dawn Weaver, Mrs. Blanche Van Why, Mrs. Arthur Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Musselman, Mrs. Albert Smith, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith Jr. and children, Kathy, Donna and Valerie. Unable to attend was Arthur Michaels.

4-H Club Girls Model Fashions They Created

Nine of Monroe County's 4-H Club girls under the direction of Miss Margaret MacLaren presented a fashion show on Saturday afternoon at A. B. Wyckoff's, in Stroudsburg, modeling dresses and suits they had made from fabrics and fashions selected at Wyckoff's.

Sarah Jane Cyphers, of Stroudsburg, a member of the Bartonville Club, was awarded first prize; Carol Munch, Tannersville, second and Paula Reisenwitz, Tannersville, third prize. Walter Wyckoff, merchandise manager, presented gift certificates to the winners.

Sarah Jane had selected a new Fall shade of blue in a triacetate and rayon fabric for a jeweled, box-pleated, short-sleeved dress.

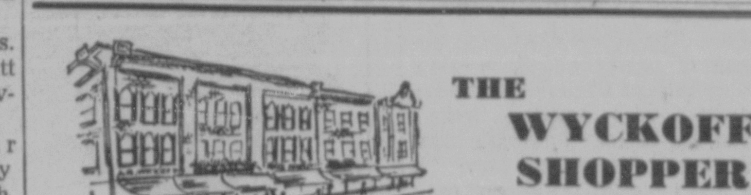

Carol attained second place with a hard-finish, hand or machine washable sport cotton with woven stripes in autumn tones against a dark background. Her two-piece costume consisted of a knife-pleated skirt, a collarless jacket with three quarter sleeves and textured brass buttons.

In the jaunty third-prize costume, Paula combined two patterns. Her red blazer had three pockets and heraldic emblem trim, her pleated skirt was of brown and red check flannel.

Other models and their entries were: Patty Brader, Tannersville, a Scottish kilt of flannel; Gail Gravatt, Tannersville, box pleated skirt and Chanel-type jacket of sport cotton; Joanne Dunbar, Bartonville, jumper dress of rayon and acetate in a tweedy mixture with a blouse; Donna Hartman, Bartonville, acetate and rayon sheath and tunic costume, fringe trimmed; Sharon Seder, Mountainhome, with a tailored sheath of blue and gray flannel coordinated with a pillbox, muff and detachable fringed scarf of matching plaid.

Richard Kishpaugh had cooperated in arranging the show. Commentator was Madalyn Maloney who later entertained the girls and their leaders at a party in the tea room where the awards were presented.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

I have never thought of myself as being a "green eyed" person, but I admit that TODAY I am. No . . . I'm not jealous of anyone, or even envious. I'm just wearing jade mascara and avocado eye shadow, and when I permit my eyelids to droop as I stare into the sunlight, it's like peering out upon the world through vertical green shutters.

Somewhat the thought of green mascara never occurred to me until I received a note from a customer asking why we didn't carry it at Wyckoff's. "You have blue," she wrote, "but I prefer green. Doesn't any store in your town carry it?"

Having been trained to consider our customers "always right," I checked another store and located it before inquiring in our own Cosmetic department. "Green mascara?" Esther Ainspach asked unbelievably. "Why, of course we have it! We have it from three different companies: Helena Rubinstein, Revlon, and Charles of the Ritz, at 1.50 and 2.00."

Perhaps we were temporarily out of it when our customer came seeking. Or perhaps there was a relief girl in the department who was not completely familiar with the stock. Whichever the case, we do have it both in quantity and of the very best quality. Until now, my preference has been for blue . . . but it's really fun to be green-eyed—providing, of course, the green is just a color that can be greased away as one desires.

If the professional world sometimes seems a rat race, it may be due to the fact that "in the stretch" we observe even uniforms are not uniform. They may look somewhat alike, but there's a difference, particularly when one bears the White Swan label and is fashioned of the intriguing new Swanstretch.

Swanstretch is a cotton fabric that actually stretches, subtly but surely, as you can feel when you test it between both hands. As a result, it moves in happy accord with the body, and a nurse need not worry that her apparel will "ride up" or bind her as she bends to smooth a bed, lift a patient, or do the thousand-and-one other chores that call for strenuous activity.

Our new Swanstretch uniform comes in three size ranges: 7 to 15, 10 to 20, and 14 1/2 to 24 1/2. It is of 100% cotton poplin, shrinkage controlled, and is fashioned with convertible collar, raglan waist, slot seam front, and back kick pleat. The front is really very pretty, and since the slot seams runs vertically from well below the waist to well above, it is figure-slimming. It is decorated at top and bottom by a gleaming lustre-pearl button, and also centered by a third that closes the inset self-belt. The price is ten dollars.

Far be it from me to encourage any woman to sing her "swan song." But a WHITE Swan song is different. With so much flattery "built in," such a song could well be the overture to some mighty complimentary overtures of a different type!

"Woman on the Ledge" sounds like the title of a mystery novel . . . but not when the ledge is just over Wyckoff's front entrances, where our window boxes bloom forth according to the season. No, our woman on the ledge this past Monday was Amy Eilenberger of our Art Goods department who was helping a few of the men arrange a display of Christmas greens. Wonder if Amy was also modeling slacks from our Sportswear department?

Experience And Spark Can Tune In TV Career

By Roberta Fleming Roesch
The day I dropped in to see television producer Beth Hollinger Ferro to ask her opinion about careers in television, the brown-haired, completely feminine producer of "The Price Is Right" daytime show began and ended our interview with almost the same advice.

"So many people want to get in on television because they think their jobs will be so glamorous," she declared. "And you do meet glamorous people, of course."

Like Other Jobs

"But aside from that, a job in television is just like any other job in the sense that you work hard and have long hours. Plus this, the demands on you are hectic — more hectic than in most jobs — because every day is a different day with different problems and decisions."

"That, though," she admitted enthusiastically, "makes your job challenging and exciting if you're looking for those qualities, as well as glamour, in your work."

New Challenge

Because Beth Ferro has always been looking for as much challenge and excitement as possible in a job, she decided, a few years ago, to leave the career she'd already established in fashion writing and fashion show-producing to look for new challenge and excitement.

She decided on television as the place to find it and, through a friend, got her first job in TV by becoming a writer for Kate Smith's former program.

Produced And Wrote

Later she produced and wrote the Bess Myerson show on ABC. Still later she worked on a program for Faye Emerson. Then, in 1956, she went to work for Goodson and Todman, two days after "The Price Is Right" went on the air.

"If you have the right background and are able to bring some experience to a job, one way to get your first job in television is to get to know as many people as you can," Beth advised realistically. "Sometimes if you're around with the right experience at the right time someone may take a chance on you. Obviously, that's the story of my start."

Beth Ferro Stepped From Fashion To The Whirl Of Television.

"But in the years I've been around television I've also seen girls who started as secretaries and boys who began as pages move up to good jobs because they showed so much spark someone wanted to give them a break when the chance came."

"You show that spark by doing your work well and not always pointing out how well you think you're doing it. You also do more than you're expected to do without boasting about it. And you stick around so you're on hand when there's a need for you."

Play Two Roles

"Then, when you're a woman either on or in television," Beth added, "my opinion is that you succeed by playing two roles simultaneously."

"Along with being the utterly feminine ingenue, you also have to be the woman of the world who's as thick-skinned as her alligator purse!"

Cooking Contest For Men Only Challenge To Amateur Chefs

By Linda Pipher
Daily Record Home Economist

I've always found it easier to get out of a sick bed and prepare a meal rather than try and explain to Bill where everything is, how to fix it, and what to do with it. It's much less painful than having to listen to the grunts and groans and while the kitchen is being turned upside down.

But just because my husband can't boil water doesn't mean that other men are as helpless. It's amazed me that there are so many men reading this column and I find our community is abounding with men cooks! I even have recipes promised from some of them, so one of these days I'm going to surprise you. I have good news for our Pocomo amateur chefs; they are eligible to enter a cooking contest!

Just think — one of them could be crowned the 1963 Men's National Cooking Champion. First prize is $1,000 plus a two-week vacation for two. A group of women (naturally) food experts will select state winners from all recipes sent in. Then four regional champions will be sent with their wives (or a friend) to Chicago for a week's stay at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel on January 30th. The final cooking competition takes place during the week before the public.

The contest is sponsored by the Potato Chip Institute International, so the original recipe must contain potato chips! It's open to all men in the United States, except professional cooks and they may submit as many recipes as they wish. They must be mailed before midnight, December 15th, 1962, to the Men's National Cooking Championship, 331 Madison Ave., New York, 17, N.Y.

Now you women with clever husbands — get them busy in the kitchen. Have them whip up simple combinations that are easy to prepare for casseroles, roasts, or other quickie dishes. Last year's state winners had fancy titles, but are simple to prepare. They sound good enough to have for supper tonight!

10 Minute Potato Chip Chili Pie
2½ cups potato chips
1 large onion, chopped
1 15 oz. can chili
1 cup grated American cheese
Place 1½ cups potato chips in baking dish. Arrange chopped onion and half of the cheese over

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Ervin Nase, Mrs. Harold Nauman, Mrs. Kenneth Smiley, Mrs. Wayne Metzgar, Mrs. Sadie Metzgar, Mrs. Melvin LaBar, Mrs. Stanley Hallet, Miss Florence Bates, Mrs. Herbert Cramer.

Circle Meeting

Circles 4 and 5 of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet in the church parlors on Thursday night at 7:30 for a business and social meeting. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mabel Martin, Mrs. Mabel Goucher, Mrs. Helen Roberts and Mrs. Hazel Marvin.

Miss America Admits She Owes Much To Music

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeature Writer

"The said that music can soothe the savage beast, but it may even have a greater potential in developing beautiful women."

This year's Miss America, Jacquelyn Mayer, feels that music helped get her the beauty crown "that every girl dreams she'll wear some day."

The hazel-eyed, 115-pound brunette is 5 feet 5½ inches tall. She sings, plays the piano, organ, clarinet and bassoon. She explains:

"A musical instrument can help you develop poise, grace, patience, coordination, cooperation and team work. When you play in a band, you must make your own part good for everyone's sake. Rehearsals, concerts and duets require good posture and build stage presence. When you sit at a musical instrument, you have the urge to compose and it develops your imagination."

Toured With Waring

Jacquie took piano lessons from her mother, a junior high school music teacher. She learned to play the clarinet in the Sandusky, Ohio, high school band, and taught herself the bassoon by renting it from the high school. She also took piano lessons in Austria when she was an exchange student in her senior year. After a year at Northwestern University where she studied speech, she went on tour singing with Fred Waring's band, learning a great deal about audience appeal and "enjoying the wonderful experience of working for a great musician," she says.

She did a skit as her contribution to the talent bit in the Miss America contest.

Took Over Classes

"Experience in high school talent shows is a good way to enhance a musical career. I was always in the school choir as an alto or second soprano, and I plan to major in music when I return to Northwestern to finish my education," she explains. She was awarded a $10,000 college scholarship with her title.

Jackie's musical home did a great deal for her, she says. "We were always hearing music around the house. Mother exposed us to it to create the desire. She didn't force it on us. My sister and two brothers play and my sister and I take over Mom's private piano lessons when she has been away. When I was little Mom's music business was small, but it is amazing how it has grown and how many little 5 and 6-year-old youngsters want to learn how to play the piano."

The Austrian family with whom she lived and boys she dated there weren't surprised that she won the Miss America title, she says. They kept writing her that she would win.

Love No Worries

Do boys like girls who are beautiful but dumb, instead of the more talented types? "Guys want a girl who has some kind of talent whether it be music or something else. You just can't win on looks alone," she says.

Although Jackie has lots of beaux, she isn't worried if she falls in love with someone who isn't musically inclined. She can always fall back on some old-fashioned, boy bait.

"I just love to sew, knit, embroider, cook, and housekeep," she says.

Circle 7 Tonight

Circle 7 of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Donald Burger, 879 Scott St., Stroudsburg.

New Fabrics Inspire Fashion Art Exhibit

Presented as an art exhibit at the Findlay Galleries in New York City were some 60 fashion designs by John Weitz, each with a frame made of material he visualized for the final garment.

Tires came into the picture through the sponsor, the Bolta Fabrics Division of General Tire and Rubber Co., who supplied the fabric. Some are already in wide use, others are just out of the testing laboratories.

For men, they ranged from storm coats of seashell to simulated leather and suede, including a fringed field shirt with rawhide lacing, a field hat with stitched brim and fake leopard band, and a hacking coat with slanted slashed pockets.

At Convention In Miami

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerr and Dr. C. G. Cross have returned from a trip to Florida by jet. Kerr, a representative of a dental supply company, attended the Dental Convention in Miami.

In Florida they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Knob, former residents of this area, and also flew over to Jamaica.

NCAA, AAU Forms A Coalition Group

NEW YORK (AP)—The AAU and NCAA settled—at least temporarily—their 2½-year war for control of track and field in the United States Tuesday by forming a coalition group.

Warring groups reached their agreement after three hours of negotiating Tuesday following a marathon 13-hour session Monday at which they were urged by Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to settle their differences for the sake of the United States Olympic team in 1964.

Preliminary Agreement

"Preliminary agreement has been reached by the parties involved to get up a track and field coalition embracing all qualified organizations," said U.S. Olympic Committee President Tug Wilson in a formal statement following the meeting.

"The proposal is subject to ratification by the organizations involved. All these organizations will proceed with their programs which will be coordinated under the proposed coalition."

"Details are to be worked out later."

The meeting was held behind closed doors and the statement still left unanswered the question of dual sanctions, the main point in the feud. The AAU has maintained that as the governing body of track and field in the United States, it alone had the authority to sanction open track meets. The International Amateur Athletic Federation backed the AAU on this.

Argues Point

The NCAA-sponsored U.S. Track and Field Federation, however, claimed it too could sanction open meets.

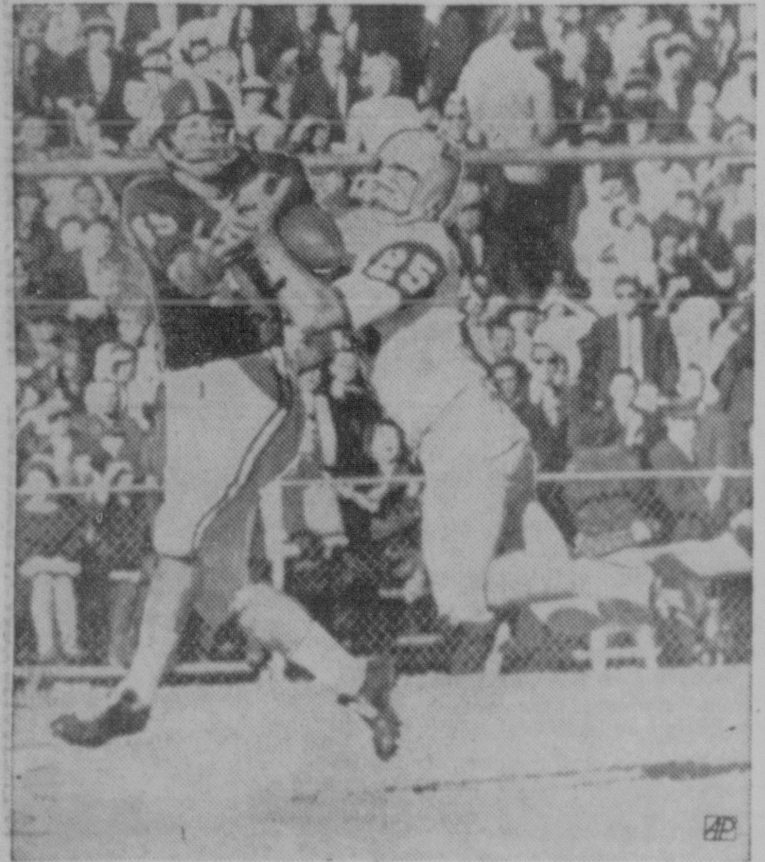

Asked if this meant either group was giving way, NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers snapped: "That's all I can tell you."

Presumably, however, the AAU will sanction Federation meets. And the Federation in turn will withdraw its threat to keep all collegians from participating in AAU-sponsored events.

The AAU would remain the sanctioning agent.

Nothing was said or discussed concerning basketball and gymnastics, two other sports involving the AAU-NCAA squabble. However, one high ranking official said that the track and field pattern probably would be applied to the two other sports.

Both the AAU and the NCAA still must obtain the ratification of their member organizations or institutions. The AAU probably will decide at its annual meeting Nov. 29-Dec. 2 at Detroit. The NCAA is expected to take a mail vote of its members. However, it is a foregone conclusion that there will be no difficulty.

Wisconsin Quarterback Is Named Back Of Week

Ron VanderKelen a late blooming senior quarterback from Wisconsin, was named the Associated Press' back of the week Tuesday for his part in the Badgers' 37-6 upset of Northwestern last Saturday.

Bill King of Dartmouth, Daryle Lamonica of Notre Dame, Joe Namath of Alabama, Pete Beathard of Southern California, Bob Schwickert of Virginia Tech, Terry Baker of Oregon State, Joe Don Looney of Oklahoma, Tommy Wade of Texas and Terry Dillon of Montana were among the others considered after sparkling performances in Saturday's games.

Harness Racing Dates Are Set

HARRISBURG (AP) — The first harness racing dates for the state's new parimutuel tracks have been set for 1963, the State Harness Racing Commission reported Tuesday.

The action was taken at a meeting Monday which the commission previously stated had been postponed.

No Dates Set

No dates were set for the track to be operated by Anthracite Raceway, pending word on the expected completion of its Luzerne County plant.

Liberty Bell was assigned 50 nights from June 7 to Aug. 3, inclusive. Bucks County Racing Association, which will lease Liberty Bell's plant at the Philadelphia-Bucks County line, was assigned Sept. 2 to Nov. 2, with the exact 50 dates to be decided later.

Washington Trotting was assigned the 50 nights from June 28 to Aug. 21.

At the same time, the commission hired Milton D. Taylor, a veteran harness track official, to be steward and presiding judge over Pennsylvania harness racing.

Parimutuel wagering at harness tracks was authorized by the 1959 Legislature.

Postpone Meeting

The commission sent out a brief memorandum to news media last Friday advising that "the regular meeting . . . which was tentatively scheduled for Monday, Nov. 12, has been postponed until further notice."

Harry L. Rossi, general counsel, said the commission did not mean to include interviews scheduled with track representatives to discuss racing dates in announcing that the regular meeting had been postponed.

All four groups were represented at the session, Rossi said, and the commissioners decided to go ahead and set the dates.

It hadn't been their intention in advance to do so, he added, "this just happened in the interim."

Rossi said he believed either he or executive secretary Paul Secoy dictated the postponement memorandum at the advice of all three commissioners, Lawrence B. Sheppard, chairman, Edward J. Kane and Martin E. Cusik.

Taylor will be paid by the tracks, Rossi said, at a daily rate of about $150. The 1959 law permits up to 200 racing dates, but there will be some overlapping. Meanwhile, the commission reported it would hold a panel discussion on Sunday, Dec. 9, on proposed racing regulations.

It scheduled its next "regular" meeting for Dec. 10, at which the rules to be adopted also will be discussed.

Burrows Re-Elected As District 11 Chairman

RALPH O. BURROWS, principal of East Stroudsburg High School, has been re-elected chairman of District 11, PIAA.

There was only one election change among officers named at the annual dinner meeting Monday night in Parkland High School. Kenneth Forrest, of Summit Hill, president of the Black Diamond League, was named to succeed the late Howard Jeffries on the district's executive committee.

Other officers are: Joseph Maman, of Easton, vice chairman; Herman P. Snyder, of Slatingsburg, treasurer; Bruce Henninger, of Pine Grove, secretary, and James

Downes Downs Moyer

LONDON (AP)—Terry Downes, British middleweight champion, defeated Phil Moyer of Portland, Ore., on a technical knockout in the ninth round Tuesday night.

Referee Jack Hart stopped the fight after 30 seconds of the ninth round of the scheduled 10-rounder when blood flowed from a cut over Moyer's right eye—an injury he suffered in the seventh round.

Downes weighed 164½, Moyer 165.

A sellout crowd of 14,000 at London's Wembley Indoor Stadium paid an estimated $70,000 to watch the fight. Downes was reported receiving $20,000 and Moyer $12,000.

Downes started the fight with two strong lefts and a right in the first round and followed up with two more lefts that hurt the American. Downes kept punching away with his left hand to pile up the points.

The American came back strongly in the eighth round and a cut appeared on Downes' forehead. Moyer threw punches in a desperate attempt to pull back the fight in his favor. But Downes came out strongly for the ninth round, tossed a couple of hard punches with both hands and then referee Hart stopped the fight to save Moyer from further punishment.

Downes, a 26-year-old Cockney, who once served with the American Marines, now has a 31-3 record. Moyer, 24, is 30-7-1.

Two Cents Nets Him $419,000

LONDON (AP)—Gordon Foster, 36-year-old locomotive driver, learned Tuesday night he had won $419,483 for two cents on a soccer pool.

It was the biggest pools win of the British soccer season.

Foster picked eight of last Saturday's British League games to end in draws, and his predictions all came right.

Foster, who lives with his wife and 10-year-old daughter in a railway employee's cottage beside Rainford Junction in Northern England, said:

"I have only one rule in filling in my coupon — always include teams from railway centers. They didn't let me down."

May Sell Indians For $4.8 Million

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The owner of the Tulsa Oilers and a former owner of that club have been identified as members of a syndicate which reportedly will buy the Cleveland Indians of the American Baseball League.

A. Ray Smith, now owner of the Tulsa Oilers, was not available for comment, but an associate said both Smith and Grayle Howlett, who owned the Class AA team before Smith, are in the Indian group.

Bork Sets All Pass Records

DEKALB, Ill. (AP)—Junior quarterback George Bork of Northern Illinois University, a gangling blond with a wrist-snapping throwing action, has wound up the regular season by rewriting the collegiate passing record book.

And he probably will get another chance to unlimber his passing arm in the Mineral Bowl Nov. 24 against Adams State (Col.) College at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Northern Illinois players voted to accept the invitation.

With at least five catching specialists as targets, a gritty, offensive line dedicated to his protection and a coach who gives him complete flinging freedom, Bork ended Northern's regular campaign with this astonishing aerial accomplishment: 222 completions, 356 attempts, 65.1 completion percentage, 2,494 yards and 22 touchdown passes.

All-time major records, whether it be for university or college divisions, fell before Bork's soft or hard, long or short tosses with the exception of throwing for touchdowns. That mark is 26.

Shattered were these season marks: 159 completions in 1951 by Don Klosterman of Los Angeles Loyola; 315 attempts by Klosterman that same year; 2,235 yards gained by Don Gottlieb, Sam Houston State in 1952; an accuracy percentage for 150 or more attempts of 64.1 by Paul Larson of California in 1954 and matched by Don Meredith of Southern Methodist in 1957.

Every Game Is 'The Toughest'

Gregory Is No Candidate For Optimist Membership

By Ken O'Brien
Daily Record Sports Writer

JACK GREGORY, coach of the undefeated East Stroudsburg State College Warriors, would be an unlikely candidate for membership in any Optimist Club.

Saturday's contest at Slippery Rock for the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference will be the ninth gridiron battle of the year for the Warriors. And for the ninth time this season, Gregory says he considers this game as "the toughest."

Only the reasons for his pessimism changes with each upcoming battle. They range from playing the first game of the year ("They're always tough, of course"), to playing on the road before Homecoming Day and Parents Day crowds ("That always makes it all the tougher").

One Step Further

Gregory goes even one step further in his pre-game comments concerning the Rockets of Slippery Rock who lost but one game en route to claiming the western division title in the PSCAC.

"We think possibly this Slippery Rock team will be the toughest game we've played in the four years that I've been here," says the soft-spoken coach of the mighty Warriors.

His regard for Slippery Rock then, is even higher than his respect for West Chester, annual arch-foe of the Warriors who this year finished second to ESSC in the eastern division with a 5-1 conference record and 210 rating points. East Stroudsburg, of course, was 6-0 in the conference with 250 rating points—higher than any other team in either division.

Slippery Rock finished with 217 rating points in the western division.

Rightfully Unhappy

Gregory is somewhat unhappy, too—and rightfully so—for reports saying East Stroudsburg must win the title game against the Rockets Saturday before getting a bid to the Cement Bowl in Allentown Dec. 8.

"This puts an unfair pressure upon our boys," says Gregory, "and, personally, I don't feel that it is right."

Neither do many others in the area.

West Chester is being considered as the host team in the bowl game unless the Warriors defeat Slippery Rock. Hofstra has already accepted a bid to the bowl. Susquehanna, the only other undefeated collegiate team in the state, also has been given consideration by the Cement Bowl selection committee.

"Mentally Right"

One of Gregory's biggest tasks this week, however, will be to keep the squad "mentally right" as they approach the playoff game. Prospects of a bowl bid are certainly in the back of the minds of all concerned on college hill but it will be the coach's job to keep the boys pointing to Slippery Rock.

Another factor involved in the contest is to keep the team "up" in efforts to avoid any letdown.

Any team which finishes a regular season undefeated, of course, is bound to feel the pangs of pressure during the latter stages of the campaign. As Gregory puts it:

"We're just hoping we can get one more good game out of them."

Coach To Receive Insurance Policy

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska football followers, in a move designed to make head coach Bob Devaney's job more attractive, have undertaken to pay for a $200,000 insurance policy for the coach, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Premiums will be paid by alumni and friends of the university.

The yearly premium on the 20-year policy approximates $9,000 per year. Devaney's regular salary is $17,000 per year.

Terms of the policy have the effect of making the policy more valuable to Devaney the longer he stays at Nebraska.

Warriors Favored In Title Contest

EAST Stroudsburg, one of the two undefeated and untied collegiate football teams in the commonwealth, is a slight favorite to beat Slippery Rock for the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference next Saturday at Slippery Rock.

Slippery Rock officials decided to play the title game on their home grounds after weighing possibility of taking the contest to New Castle or Butler. The reason for the switch was "faithful homebackers were given prime consideration."

Saturday's battle will mark the third annual playoff between the eastern and western division titlists. The winner will succeed West Chester as conference champion. The Rockets were defeated, 18-0, in last year's title game at West Chester.

The Warriors of Coach Jack Gregory, 7-6 conquerors of the defending champion Golden Rams, will be seeking a clear-cut title

Longest Winning Streaks For Two?

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 1962 scholastic football season may well wind up this month with two teams — not one — boasting the state's longest winning streak.

York Suburban has already finished the year — whipping Konrad-Nov. 3 for its 23rd "night victory without loss or tie."

But Wilkes-Barre Meyers, winner of 22 straight, has one more game left and that's with three-beaten Wilkes-Barre GAR on Nov. 22.

Ironically, neither started the season very high on the list of all-winning teams. York Suburban was seventh with 14 in a row and Meyers 8th with 13.

Others Inact

Other winning streaks still intact are Altoona with 14 straight; Harrisburg Harris with 13 straight and Uniontown with 12 straight.

Uniontown also won its first WPAL-Class AA football championship in history over the weekend, upending Johnstown, 12-0.

Other major conference champions crowned already include:

Wyoming Valley Conference — Wilkes-Barre Meyers; Roosevelt Trail Conference — Athens; Pittsburgh City League—Section One, Peabody, Section Two, Langley; West Central Conference—Class A, State College; Erie County Big Six—Erie Cathedral Prep.

Northwestern Section II—Corry; Erie County League — Fort LeBeauf; Southern Conference Little 8—Union Joint; Capital Area Conference — Hershey; Twin Valley Conference—Lykens; Laurel Conference—York Suburban; Conference of Roses—Warwick; Susquehanna Valley Conference — Danville; Lower Bucks Conference—Neshaminy.

The WPAL Class A and B races will be decided by playoffs. Rostraver will meet Camichaels for the A title Friday night at Uniontown. Verona and Apollo will battle for the B crown at New Kensington.

The East Penn Conference is one of several conferences still undecided.

Titans May Be Sued

LEGAL action against the New York Titans is being contemplated by the Commonwealth if they fail to reimburse East Stroudsburg State College $4,000 which is owed the institution for use of the football plant facilities and dormitories, it was learned yesterday.

The facilities were set up for the 70 players and coaches during July and August.

Since July, it has been reported that the college has been billing the Titans but no answer has yet been received. If the November bill is not satisfied, legal action is expected.

The Titans reportedly have not paid the college anything under an agreement approved by a vote of the institution's board of trustees, a source close to Harrisburg said.

It was noted that the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League were allowed to use the facilities of the California, Pa., State College several years ago.

THE EXTRAORDINARY television documentary "Universe," which will be presented by WPIX-channel 11 to New York television for the first time tonight—twice in prime time, at 7:30 and 10—has been cited by officials of NASA as "truly a magnificent product."

Burgess Meredith narrates "Universe," an emotionally enlightening voyage into the dark depths of outer space. The program is a profound treatment of man's position in the cosmos and of his efforts to learn more about the vast universe of which he is a part.

Guests on "The Merv Griffin Show" this afternoon from 2 to 2:55, chs. 3 and 4, will be: Margaret Whiting, Phil Leeds and Adela Rogers St. Johns.

Leo Fuchs, prominent figure of the modern Yiddish theatre guest stars as Simon Levy, a gentle merchant traveling westward with "Wagon Train" from 7:30 to 8:30, chs. 6 and 7. Eddie Bracken and Harry Morgan guest star as brothers engaged in a lifelong feud in "Going My Way" from 8:30 to 9:30. Series stars are Gene Kelly, Dick York and Leo G. Carroll.

Guest star Eddie Albert plays the patriarch of a mountaineer family which lives isolated from the world and its laws in "Im-passe," on "The Virginian" from 7:30 to 9, chs. 3 and 4. Cal Kroeger slams a herd of horses to protect his mountain domain. James Drury stars in the title role.

"Clowns and Heroes," a portrayal of the near-medieval existence of a Portuguese "Campino"—an equivalent of the American cowboy—who is lifted out of his drab existence only by occasional visits to the bullfight arenas, will be presented on chs. 2 and 10 from 7:30 to 8.

On the eve of the National Labor Relations Board elections in Philadelphia, TV Ten Reports will present a program titled "Showdown for Jimmy Hoffa" from 8 to 8:30.

Vic Damone guest stars on "The Dick Van Dyke Show" from 9:30 to 10, chs. 2 and 10.

Songs of the 1920s, dances ranging from that era to the present and a salute to Oklahoma on its 55th anniversary of statehood are among the features of "Perry Como's Music Hall" color broadcast from 9 to 10, chs. 3 and 4. Dorothy Provine is Como's guest star.

Colin Wilcox and Albert Salmi guest-star as a pair involved in murder on "The Eleventh Hour," chs. 3 and 4 from 10 to 11. Jack Gaul portrays psychologist Dr. Paul Graham. Wendell Corey is also starred as Dr. Theodore Bassett.

Ed Begley and Luther A. Dier appear on "Naked City" in a story of two harmless residents of an old-age home who threaten each other. 10 to 11, chs. 6 and 7. Paul Burke stars.

Darren McGavin, Julius LaRosa and Pippa Scott star in a comedy about a team of high-pressure salesmen who solicit the help of a secretary in putting over an important deal. This play will be presented on chs. 2 and 10 from 10 to 11.

Wednesday, November 14
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Aspects, not wholly friendly, suggest that you strive to avoid misunderstanding, keep budget and habits in line and protect your work and interests with strong endeavor.
April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Not a spectacular day, but friendly for education, and individual advancement; experimenting, straightening out complications, reconciliation, home-making. Don't force issues.
May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — You can do more, work better, but for greater attainments now, but you must also have knowledge of your subject, be sure of your methods.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — An active period; you may have to sit down here, there, to make "little" notes in the Big Push.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You could be out of sorts if you pamper your inclinations. Don't aim at thoroughness; take precautions to avoid the clutter and errors that hold back your productivity.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — A big day for big dollars. Stress your best assets and you can do considerable to help form new plans, improve and organize effectively. Do not hesitate to take forward steps.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Favorable aspects, but unless you are on the lookout for flaws, you may miss in a few places. Try calls for adherence to rules, sincere pressing for results, doing your best without strain.
October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — This day's activities must be handled O.K. TIME and without mingling. The faithful worker shall win many benefits. Sidetrack all non-essentials.
November 23 to December 31 (Sagittarius) — Jupiter's auspicious configuration should instill you with new vigor, help you to establish better relationships. Actions will speak loudly; your big ideas should pay off now.
December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Search for a more distinguished, more helpful way to support good measures, travel for adventure. But you love your home site, too, and often endure up memories of past pleasures and holidays. You may handle two occupations — if you are careful not to become so involved that you leave no time for recreation and relaxing, both necessary for continued health and a happy outlook. For next several months: take care not to press issues nor misinterpret. You could prevent squabbles, counteract indecisiveness, bring about cooperation and understanding where there has been none for a long while. Birthdate: Charles Lyell, geologist.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Mild influences. You are just about on your own to decide, get, work out new tactics. Is it better to stay with what is in force? Don't stand still though; improvement is always needed.
February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Conquer lethargy now and determine to get in there with some excellent planning (at which you are uniquely able), and make a definite, deliberate effort to win.
YOU BORN TODAY hail from a special sign of strength, purpose, many varied talents, mental and physical vitality. You like people, seek new places, travel for adventure. But you love your home site, too, and often endure up memories of past pleasures and holidays. You may handle two occupations — if you are careful not to become so involved that you leave no time for recreation and relaxing, both necessary for continued health and a happy outlook. Thanksgiving Service By 4 Churches

NEWFOUNDLAND — A Union Service of Thanksgiving, a tradition in this Pocono Mountain Community, will unite the four churches, LaArna, South Sterling, Hemlock Grove and Newfoundland, in one observance of the holiday.

The service, which is held in a different church each year, will be held at Hemlock Grove Methodist Church this year. It will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day, with the Rev. Larry Lindemuth, minister of the Newfoundland Moravian Church, as speaker.

There will be special music by the youth choir, composed of members of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship.

Author Jailed In Own Home

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A South African journalist who was formerly a member of Parliament, Brian Percy Bunting, and his wife, Sonia, were placed under house arrest yesterday by Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster.

Bunting, 42, was confined by a dusk-to-dawn curfew. Mrs. Bunting was totally restricted to their home in a Cape Town suburb for the next five days. He may go out during the day, she not at all. The arrests were made under the Suppression of Communism Act as amended by the Anti-Sabotage Act which Vorster piloted through Parliament this year.

Count the letters in your first name if the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Historical Project Approved

THE Historical Foundation of Pennsylvania approved its first project at a meeting of the Board of Directors held recently in Harrisburg.

William T. Deeter, president of the Foundation, announced that the Foundation will subsidize the Random House publication of a one-volume history of Pennsylvania which is being authored by Dr. S. K. Stevens, Executive Director, Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, Harrisburg, Pa.

The date of the publication will be in late 1963 or early 1964 and the format of the publication will follow that established by Random House for the one-volume history published for the state of Connecticut. Random House is planning to continue these publications for other states.

The Historical Foundation of Pennsylvania is represented locally by Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg, East Stroudsburg State College, and William S. Wyckoff, Stroudsburg. Both are members of the board of directors of the Foundation.

Cyanamid To Purchase Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — American Cyanamid Co. said it has agreed to purchase the business and assets of Glasky Inc. of Perryburg, Ohio. No price was disclosed.

The announcement said the sale is subject to approval of Glasky stockholders. The transfer of the business would take place in mid-December.

Glasky makes fiber glass moulding compounds.

During the reign of Constantine the Great in Rome (306-337 A. D.), when the huge Egyptian obelisk was erected in the Circus Maximus, the foreman put his men into metal battle helmets to shield them from falling masonry.

Hurt Marines Identified

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Tuesday identified three Marines injured when a land mine at the Navy's Guantanamo Base, Cuba, was detonated accidentally.

The Pentagon said a group of Marines were resurveying the location of mines in the base's defense system Nov. 3 when one of them accidentally tripped on a mine. All three of the injured have since been brought to the Naval Hospital at Philadelphia where their wounds were reported as serious but not critical.

The injured were identified as: Lance Cpl. Robert L. McHaffie, 20, Frederick, Md. He suffered loss of both legs and had eye injuries.

Sgt. Paul E. Kessler, 26, husband of Frances Jane Kessler of Jacksonville, N. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle W. Kessler, RFD 2, Indiana, Pa. Kessler lost both legs.

Pvt. John S. Turner, 20, Route 1, Sharpsburg, Md. Both legs were fractured.
